We have just put in, at great expense, a WONDERFUL MACHINE, heated by steam, for only passing through the rollers once; the result—WORK IS ELASTIC, WILL NOT BREAK, and will last much longer than when ironed by the old method, heated by gas, which has to pass through the rollers eight times.

P.S.—We have also added a newly invented machine to Iron the edges of WILD MAN OF VANCOUVER.

Strange Being Lately Seen by a British Columbian Lumberman.

The Indians tell of a wild man on Vancouver Island, and now a Caucasian, Michael King, relates that he has seen what looked like half-man, half-ape.

King told his story at a camp fire to the accompaniment of a chattering mountain brook and the whispering pines towering to a starlight sky. He was on one of his solitary cruises for timber on the island, and had not seen a human face for days.
A strange cry of mingled surprise and fear, very human in its quality, brought him to a sudden halt, rifle in hand, and eyes straining everywhere for an explanation.

This was quickly forthcoming in a manner to try even the nerve of so superb a woodsman as the veteran of the forests. Within 100 yards appeared a thing, large, completely covered with hair, with long arms hanging below the knee, penetrating eyes under a mass of unkempt hair—certainly a man, said Mr. King, but yet such a human as no nation, tribe, or country knows.

As he saw this striking object in his path Mr. King's memory went back to the stories told by Indians who had refused to enter that part of the island with him. They had said that a fearsome thing lorded it ever the country, and, in their superstitious terror, they had said it was a god of the Spaniards, the descendant of a great chief who had left his ship at Nootka and mated, by force, with a princess of the tribe.

But while he thought these things, King's hand was on the trigger of his rifle. He was prepared for the wild man, or the ape, or whatever it might be. But the wild man was in no mood to meet the man with the stick that talked in thunder.
After a moment's scrutiny of the pathfinder it decided on flight, and plunged into the forest wilderness, where it was quickly lost to sight.
No further meeting with the wild man fell to King's lot.

His story, of course, has been received with scepticism, comment on the coast, but it is curious to note that Otto Scheen has just come in from the northern end of Vancouver Island bringing a tale of having seen footprints such as are made by no wild animal that ranges the forests of this continent. While apparently made by a human being they are those of neither Shawash nor white man.

Perhaps the hairy monster seen by King has retreated further north with the object of flying from contact with real humanity.

The Late Alexander Lumsden.

The late millionaire lumberman, Mr. Alexander Lumsden, whose sudden death from heart disease occurred on the 8th August, was born in Ottawa on October 4, 1843. He was one of Ottawa's self-made men.
Starting life as an humble mill hand at McLaren's mills, he steadily climbed the ladder of success and became one of the leading lumbermen on the continent. He was one of the pioneer operators in the Temiskam-ing district, and established a name for himself there. He owned a line of steamers and controlled transportation on the lake. He also controlled a big summer hotel. His wealth is reputed to be in the neighborhood of one million dollars. Besides his lumber interests, he had a financial interest in the C. Ross Co., Otta-wa's big department store, was a director of the Ottawa Electric Co., the Ottawa Fire Insurance Co., and the Ottawa Land Improvement Co., and other corporations. The late Mr.
Lumsden was elected in 1898 to contest Ottawa for the Ontario Legislature in the Liberal interests. The contest was a hot one, but Mr.
Lumsden won the poll by over 200 votes. In May, 1902, Mr. Lumsden again ran, but on this occasion he was defeated. Mr. Lumsden was a forceful speaker and a logical deba-tor, and while in the Ontario Legislature his speeches were few, but were marked by a rare beauty of expression and keen logical force, which placed them on a high plane in that Assembly. In describing the resources of new Ontario, with which he was so familiar, his speeches rose to real eloquence. He was a man of forceful personality, and his views would be regarded as unusual by most people. For example, he maintained a lifelong aversion to having his photograph taken.

Mr. Chester Loomis, an old and respected farmer living in this section, is spreading broadcast the good news that Dodd's Kidney Pills are a sure Disease so common among old people.

Mr. Loomis says:

"I am 76 years of age and smart and active as a boy and I give Dodd's Kidney Pills all the credit for it."

"Before I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills I was so used up I could hardly ride in a buggy and I could not do any work of any kind. Everybody thought I would not live long.
Dodd's Kidney Pills are a wonderful remedy."

THE PROPER TREATMENT FOR A SPRAINED ANKLE.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. For sale by all druggists.

FOUR HIGHWAY ROBBERIES.

One Toronto Victim Has His Arm Broken in Struggle.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Highwaymen were active early this morning, and three cases were reported, one in the west end and two in the east. Two men were arrested for one of the offences, the victim of which is not known.

In one case the highwayman used violence, and James Martin of 24 Golden avenue is in the hospital. He was walking along the railway tracks near the Roncesvalles avenue crossing in Parkdale, when he was accosted by two men. They grabbed him and started to go through his pockets.
He struggled viciously and raised an outray, which finally frightened his assailants off. They secured no booty.
In the fighting Martin's arm was fractured, and he was otherwise ill-used. Dr. McConnell was sent for, and later the police ambulance removed him.

About 1 o'clock Patrolmen Guthrie (177) and Allen (184), while on their beats near Queen and Sher-bourne streets, saw two men running and gave chase. They overhauled their prey, and found them to be William Yates, no home, a well-known thief, and Fred Cavanagh.
When searched, a gold watch and other trinkets were found. They are said to have held up a man near the corner.

M. O'Reilly of Montreal, told P. C.
Martin that he had been relieved of a gold watch and $52 in cash at Church and Front streets last night.
He was intoxicated. He had $13 on him when searched by the police.

Yesterday afternoon a young man named Thomas Harrison was arrested by P. C. Young at King and Porter streets for robbing a drunken man in full view of several pedestrians.
