WONDERFUL CURE OF SORE HANDS

After Most Awful Suffering Ever Experienced - Eight Doctors and Many Remedies Failed to Do a Cent's Worth of Good.

THANKS TO CUTICURA IT IS ALL OVER NOW

"I was troubled with sore hands, so sore that when I would put them in water the pain would nearly set me crazy, the skin would peel off and the flesh get hard and break, with blood flowing from at least fifty places on each hand. Words could never tell the suffering I endured for three years. I tried eight different doctors, but none did me any good, as my hands were as bad as when I began. I also tried many remedies, but none of them ever did me one cent's worth of good. I was discouraged and heartsore. I would feel so bad mornings, to think I had to go to work and stand the pain for ten hours, I often felt like giving up my position. I would have to wrap every finger up separately, so as to try and keep them soft, and then wear gloves over the rags to keep the grease from getting on my work. I had to wear gloves at night; in fact, all the time. But thanks to Cuticura, that is all over now. After doctoring for three years, and spending much money, a single box of Cuticura Ointment ended all my sufferings. It's been two years since I have known what sore hands are, and have never lost a day's work while using Cuticura.—Thomas A. Clancy, 310 N. Montgomery St., Trenton, N. J." His agents induced farmers to advertise their farms for sale and give Daly notes for commissions on prospective sales and promises to pay certain amounts in three years if the farms were not sold. These he recorded. He made money fast and lived in luxury.

In order to get purchasers for the farms he went abroad and spent a fortune true thing to induce or mirror to get.

Daly disappeared seven years ago and returned to Guelph nine months later dressed in rags. When he finally left home five years ago Mrs. Daly supported herself and their son by teaching music and spent much time hunting for her hunband. His business in Guelph is still ungettled because of inability to get his signa-ture.

Newspaper clippings which told of men having wealth were found among his effects, including a list of subscribers to Town Topics "Fads and Fancies" and "America's Smart Set."

Before she saw him, Mrs. Daly said her bushand was a mono-maniac on money getting, and she and their son, Gerald, aged 15, will try to have Daly released on a plea of insanity. If successful they will bring him to Toronto.

THE ROOT OF THE MATIER

He Cured Himself of Serious Stom ach Troubles, by Getting Down to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability, making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business and finally deranged the kidneys and heart.

In his own words he says: "I con suited one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the return of

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets was going to cure completely and they did not disappoint me. I can eat and sleep and enjoy my coffee and cigar and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy asking for information as to what the tablets contained and they replied that the principal ingredients were aseptic pepsin (government test), malt diastase and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach."

The root of the matter is this, the directions of the matter is this, the direction of the stomach.

James J. Daly of Toronto was yesterday permitted to see her husband, who is in jail here for obtaining money under false pretences. It was their first meeting in six years, and the scene was most affectionate.

Mrs. Daly is the daughter of William Halley, of Chicago, and fifteen years ago was married to Daly, publisher of a large farm advertising journal in Guelph, Ontario. He was wealthy, making as much as a quarter of a million dollars in one year by a farm advertising scheme. His agents induced farmers to advertise their and if you can insure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of so good and wholesome a remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, you will have no need of nerve tonics and sanitariums.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been in the market only a few years, probably every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach trouble.

THE LIL' BRACK SHEEP.

During one of the regular London song services which are held at the conclusion of each afternoon meeting, says The Christian Guardian, Mr. Alexander said that he had heard a darkie version of the famous song, "The Ninety and Nine," which had brought a blessing to many, and which he and his wife had prated on a little card, and sent to many of their friends. He then requested his wife to come upon the high red dais and recite the poem to the audience. This she bravely did, and in her clear, soft voice recited, as follows, the beautiful poem: follows, the beautiful poem

THE DE .. DIVER.

Men Who Withstand Great Pressure-200 Feet Below the Surface. At what depth, asks The Pall Mall

Gazette, can a diver carry out his functions? How long can he remain under the surface? What is the effect of high air pressures on the human system? One well-known firm of submarine engineers limits the depth of descent to 25 fathoms, or, say, 150 feet. But operations have been carried out at greater depths than this, and perat greater depths than this, and perhaps the greatest distance below the surface at which a diver has succeeded in working is 34 fathoms, or 204 feet. This was accomplished by Jas. Hooper, who descended to the ship Cape Horn, sunk off Pichidanque, South America, and sustained a pressure of 881-2 pounds on every square inch of his body.

Another remarkable feat was that of Alexander Lambert, who recovered £70,000 in gold coin from the steamship £70,000 in gold coin from the steamship Alphonso XIL. sunk off Point Gando Grand Canary, in nearly 30 fathoms of water, the actual depth of the treasureroom being 26 2-3 fathoms, or 160 feet. This man also performed the daring feat of stopping the flooding of the Severn Tunnel when a door in the drainage tunnel had been left open. The door was situated a quarter of a mile distant from the shaft, but equipped in his diving dress he crept that distance through a narrow passage full in his diving cress he crept that dis-tance through a narrow passage full of water and closed the door. This plucky act enabled the pumps to over-come the volume of water which was flooding the working and allowed the completion of the tunnel to be carried out.

A further interesting case of deep diving is that of Angel Erostarbe, who succeeded in recovering silver bars valued at £9,000 from the steamer Skyro, sunk off Cape Finisterre in over thirty fathoms. In this case the diver had to blow away portions of the vessel with dynamite before he could reach the treasure chamber. Three dives per diem were frequent, and as many as five descents were made in one day. Marvels of Modern Butchering.

Describing a large slaughtering establishment in the United States, where beasts are killed at the rate of 225 an hour, Seymour Bell, the British com-mercial agent at Washington, says: "The animals are felled, skinned, cut "The animals are felled, skinned, cut up and hung in the cooling room. In thirty-nine minutes, and are handled by twenty men during that time. Hogs are killed at the rate of 550 an hour. They are handled by 125 men in thirty-two minutes. Sheep are killed at 620 an hour, the slaughtering and dressing occupying about thirty-four minutes. After the animals are killed the actual work that each man does on any one animal is astonishingly small. Each man has one particular thing to do to man has one particular thing to do to man has one particular timing to do to each animal, generally very little, and as soon as it is done he passes on to another animal. The periopathalmus, one of the most remarkable of the several species of dry land fish catalogued by the naturalists, is a native of Mauritius.
