

A PASTOR'S EXPERIENCE.

The Troubles of a Canadian Clergyman.

Attached with a disease unknown to Physicians—He had almost given up hope when the head of relief was stretched out to him.

Rev. S. J. Cummings, the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Delevan, New York, has had an experience that makes him one of the most talked of men in Cattaraugus county. To a reporter of the Buffalo News who called upon him, Mr Cummings made the following statement, which he put in the form of an affidavit:

"I am now feeling so well that I am entering on a series of special meetings and am returning to work with all my old time vigor. I was prostrated in June last and was treated by three physicians one near this place, and two in the city of Buffalo, but received no benefit or encouragement from them. They all were of the opinion that I would have to resign my pastorate and quit preaching. Nevertheless I now feel entirely recovered.

"I cannot give you the name of my disorder. It baffled the physicians, and they could not agree as to the nature of the trouble. After the slightest exposure, as in the damp of the morning, or after the dew fell in the evening, my limbs would swell and become discolored and my body would be racked with pain. These attacks would last three or four hours, but they would usually leave me helpless for at least a day after the acute pain had passed. At night I was unable to sleep. The strain upon my nervous system was tremendous. I became so prostrated as to be unable to take exercise. I could do scarcely any work in my study, and frequently could not preach to my people. Sometimes for a week the muscles of my arms would become so affected that I could not write a letter or pen a discourse.

On the recommendation of the physician who examined me, my church granted me a vacation for a month, and I went to my old home at Oakwood, Ontario, and to a rest. On reaching home my father urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I protested on the plea of having taken so many medicines that I had lost all faith in them. But he had heard of their efficacy and insisted on my giving them a trial. He brought me two boxes and I commenced to take them. I soon found my health improving so rapidly that I returned to my home and family at this place. Some of my friends insisted that the benefit was only temporary, that I would soon have a relapse and be worse than before, but I have continued to take them and now feel like a new man. The sudden attacks of pain which formerly prostrated me on my bed do not recur, and I have exposed myself many times in a way that would have formerly brought them on.

In my family I have found them very beneficial. My wife finds them more helpful to her than anything she has ever taken. I have spent hundreds of dollars in doctors' remedies and patent medicines, but all to no avail until I tried Pink Pills.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 19th day of September, 1893.

JOHN HEW, Notary Public.

Druggists everywhere bear witness to the firm hold this wonderful Canadian medicine has taken upon the public, and to the vast good it has accomplished in relieving suffering, and thousands of grateful people like Rev. Mr Cummings, cheerfully testify to the benefits derived from its use, often after skilled physicians had absolutely failed to help them. If you are ailing, cast prejudice aside and give this marvel of modern medical science a fair trial. An analysis of Dr Williams' Pink Pills shows that they contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of alcohol, palpitation of the heart, that tired feeling that comes from nervous prostration; all diseases depending upon impure blood in the blood such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppurations, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood, and restore the glow of health to pale and yellow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature. There are no ill effects following the use of this wonderful medicine, and it can be given to children with perfect safety.

Pink Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and are never sold in bulk. There are numerous imitations and other so-called blood builders against which the public are cautioned. If your dealer does not keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills they will be sent post-paid on receipt of above price.

Explaining the Miracles.

An Irish farmer asked well-known Father Tom Maguire what a miracle was. He gave him a very full explanation, which, however, did not seem quite to satisfy the farmer who said:

"Now, do you think, your reverence, you could give me an example of a miracle?"

"Well, said Father Tom, 'walk in before me and I'll see what I can do.'

"As he did so he gave him tremendous kick behind.

"Did you feel that?" he said.

"Why wouldn't I feel it?" said the farmer, rubbing the dam-god place. "Bogger, I did feel it, sure enough."

"Well," said Father Tom. "It would be a miracle if you didn't."

Next meeting in Temperance Hall Thursday, Jan. 18th, at 3.30 p. m. The meetings are always open to any who wish to become members.

Gospel Temperance meetings, conducted by members of the W. C. T. U., are held every Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, in the vestry of the Methodist church. All are welcome.

Crusade Day.

An unusually interesting meeting of the W. C. T. U. was that held on Thursday, Jan. 4th, in celebration of the Woman's Temperance Crusade, which was the origin of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The meeting was partly devotional, partly given to reminiscences and items of interest concerning this wonderful movement, which began in the self-sacrifice and heroism of the noble women who whose hearts God first sent this thought of prayer and personal effort for the removal of the curse of strong drink.

At 8 o'clock, the chair was taken by the President, Mrs Tufts, and the meeting opened by singing, prayer and reading of scripture.

A paper by Mrs Kempton was then read, entitled, "The Crusade: its meaning and spirit." This gave in a concise and very interesting form, the history of the Crusade, and wonderful achievements in connection therewith.

Following this was the reading of a poem by Mrs Knowles, "A Story of the Crusade." After prayer by two sisters for a fresh anointing of God's Spirit upon our organization, Miss Faye Caldwell read an article from the pen of J. G. Holland, written twenty years ago entitled "The Great Temperance Movement." This was especially interesting, as showing the attitude of prominent men at that day toward the Crusade. The article was strongly in favor of the movement.

This was followed by the reading by Miss Chase, of an article condensed from a paper by Mrs E. F. Williams, "Twenty years of Temperance Agitation in Canada," being a review in brief of the steps taken by the Dominion Parliament in regard to the prohibition of the liquor traffic. After the singing of the Crusade hymn, "Give to the Winds thy Pears," the President called for items of interest or voluntary remarks from the members. Several sisters responded by the reading of short articles or poems and some verbal reminiscences.

The members of the Union were glad to have with them Miss Clara Porter, of Halifax, who read a short item, and Miss Johnson, late of Washington Territory, who spoke of her pleasure in being present at the meeting.

A brief concert of prayer, a collection for the World's Temperance Missionary Movement, and the singing of the Doxology brought to a close a very successful and interesting meeting.

"He Saved Me."

A leading business man in one of our large cities, from tipping and moderate drinking became at last a common drunkard. From financial prosperity and success he fell into trouble and was forsaken by friends who in brighter days enjoyed the good cheer of his charming home. At last, in desperation, with rain falling him, he came to an old friend, a prominent banker in the city, and begged of him aid. "Trust me," cried he, "I'll trust me but once more, and I will break the chain. I will begin a new life."

In the rear of the banking room was the directors' parlor. Into this the twent, and falling on his knees, the banker pleaded for his old friend, that he might be saved and some off victor in the bitter struggle to overcome the terrible habit which had brought ruin to himself and the dear ones of his home.

Again and again, contrary to the wishes of his friends, the banker sided the merchant over hard places, ever accompanying each loan with prayer to God for help for the poor slave.

The prayer was answered, strength was given and victory achieved. He became a Christian and again a successful and prominent business man. After a few years of many living, useful in the church, home and society, the life work ended, and he was called to the reward of "him who overcometh."

Again and again he repeated, "I owe so much to my beloved friend who stood by me in the storm, who brought me up on the wings of prayer, whose patience never failed, who trusted me when all others turned coldly away; he saved me."

What a lesson comes to the workers of to-day to patiently toil on and to have faith in the divine spark which is not yet extinguished even when to the human eye it is faded away. "He saved me!" What a noble testimony to the banker and the fulfillment of the promise, "In due season ye shall reap if ye faint not."

Minard's Liniment cures Dandruff. If you'll notice, it is generally the breezy sort of fellow who puts on the lowest airs. Garfield Tea cures sick-headache. Whatever happens to silver as money so long as weddings last it will always have its present value. A child's education is never complete so long as he feels that he knows more than his parents. Minard's Liniment relieves Neuralgia. She—Is there a rule of love. He—(glancing at the chaperon); Yes; but it isn't the rule of three. There are very few successful school teachers whom some boy has not decided to whip when he gets grown. Minard's Liniment for sale everywhere. Jewley was at the club last night. Was he? Did he talk? Yes. What about. About half the night. Victim—I'll give you fifty cents not to talk while you shave me. Barber—So pardon, sir, I can earn my money easier than that. If you do not know how good a remedy Garfield Tea really is for constipation and sick headache, send a postal card to D. Denmore & Co., 271 Queen Street East, Toronto, for a free, trial pack age. She—Do you believe it is true that every woman is beautiful in some eyes. He—Yes, if you include your own. Patient—Ah, doctor, I feel that I am at death's door! Doctor (enthusiastically)—Oh! don't fear. We'll put you through.

The Greater Dyspepsia Cure Co. GENTLEMEN—I am 71 years of age. Have been afflicted with sick headache most all my life, which developed into Dyspepsia of a mild type about twenty years ago, and has continued to grow worse until during the past seven or eight years I have not been able to take a drink of cold water or milk. I would produce severe pains and sometimes vomiting. I have been subject to severe pains in the chest, with dizziness, which have been more frequent during the past three or four years. My mouth was furrowed up in the morning, accompanied with bad breath. My case was yearly growing worse.

During this long period I have tried many popular medicines, as well as prescriptions from the regular medical practitioners, but without producing any improvement.

In the fall of '92 I concluded to try a bottle or two of your medicine and such were its effects that I continued it until now I can drink cold water or milk without any inconvenience. My stomach is in good order, my breath is as sweet as a baby's. I am a confirmed dyspeptic and I am sure that all Dyspeptics can be cured by its use.
