Dear Mother :—
I am keeping well, have good food and well protected from the weather, but have some difficulty keeping uninvited guests from visiting me.

Have you any patriotic druggists that would give something for a gift overseas—if so do you know something that is good for everything? I do—Old MINARD'S Liniment.

Field Crops of North'd County

Provincial Expert Says They are Looking Well and Will Yield Big Returns

(Gleaner)

The crops in Northumberland County are progressing most satisfactorily, according to the statement of K M Fiske, of Florenceville, who is in the city today Mr Fiske, who is one of the judges designated by the Department of Agricuture to act in the better seed competition, has just returned from that county, where he has spent a few weeks judging grain

In that county there has not been as many entries for the grain competition as in previous years Those who are in the contest, and are striving for supremacy in the developing of pure grain seeds, better potatoes and turnips, are manifesting a keen interest in the work

Mr Fiske finds in that county a 20 per cent increase in the acreage to wheat, as well as to oats As to wheat, he says the farmers there never enter very heartily into growing the cereal before The success that is apparently following them with this grain this year is filling them with enthusiasm for wheat growing, and they may be looked upon as extensive growers of wheat in the future

Oats have fi[illegible] well, and are just beginning to ripen at Chatham Near Boiestown he finds the grain is ripening more rapidly Oats for feeding purposes are now worth $1.40 a bushel, at Chatham, and the farmers are anxious to get at this grain as soon as possible In another week there will be a general harvest begun of the oat crop, with threshing in the field

He finished his judging of the wheat and oat fields, as they stand on the measured lots, and will later look over the yield before giving a decision

Potatoes and turnips have been retarded in development in Northumberland, according to Mr Fiske It will be two or three weeks before they can pass under the scrutinizing eye of the judge Even the early varieties are late in maturing, and the spuds call for $6 a barrel in Chatham

RECIPE FOR SUCCESS

To each pound of your invested capital, add several ounces of good bookkeeping, a enerous quantity of service, a goodly portion of advertising, and a great big dash of enthusiasm. Then stir

Don't leave any of these ingredients out and be sure not to forget the enthusiasm. Enthusiasm is the high flavor that makes business tasty It is the music and laughter at the banquet Without it nothing in the world would seem worth while
