OPPOSED TO GOTHENBURG

Synod Says if Salcons Go, Amusement Resorts Must Be Provided. At the meeting of the general synod now in progress at Quebec, Canon Richardson, of St. Johns, presented the eport of the temperance committee, whose business, as enjoined by the last general synod, was to inquire into the various systems employed for restricting the liquor traffic. The report went into full details on the Gothenburg public-house trust and dispensary systems, and finally into the question of prohibition. The committee's report was unfavorable to the Gothenburg system, as not making for sobriety figures being quoted to prove that the sale of intoxicants had increased in either a fracture of the skull or an in- On the public-house trust system the conclusion was that the prestige at-Tenders for Asphalt erates for witnesses to the accident and tached to a place where alcoholic liquors were sold being under the direction of the clergy and men of standing in the community, often led men to drink who would not have otherwise acquired the habit. The dispensary system now in force in some of the Southern States, whereby intoxiants were sold in sealed bottles, had proved the most successful of the three. There had been an all-around decrease n consumption of intoxicants of from 33 to 50 per cent where it was employed. Vienna, Sept. 7. - Mrs. Shenk, the Prohibition, the report found, had not tricts.
