A SURPRISE IN BED.

on Their Wrists.

Five months ago, as will be well remembered, Private Detective Charles Reid was saulted by a number of roughs at the ackley was sent to the central prison for six months for his share in the robbery. Another principal named Maurice Dalton jumped out of town and has been missing ever since. On April 7 last Mrs. Catherine Baker of Orillia had her satchel snatched at the corner of Queen and Esther streets. "Gas" Burns got three months in the central prison for doing it, but he was aided by a partner named Charlie Davis, who, like Dalton, jumped out. A week ago both returned to town together. Policeman W. Davis learned that they were living under cover at the house of a Mrs. Lynch in Richmond street, near Bay. At 8 o'clock Saturday morning he and Policeman C. Slemin went to Mrs. Lynch's house and passed to the room where Daly and Davis were in bed together. Both were asleep. Two pairs of nippers were produced and quickly fastened on the sleeping crooks. The awoke with surprise, and were astonished to see the officers. Both men were in the police court Saturday morning and remanded. County Constable Waites has been working up the case against Dalton ever since the robbery of Mr. Reid.

Rev. Mr. McNeil of St. Johns, New foundland, preached at St. James Square presbyterian church yesterday evening from the words of Cain in the 4th chapter of Genesis: "Am I my brother's keeper?" The rev. gentleman's sermon was a most outspoken and vigorous one, and he depicted the "Cain" spirit which is so prevalent now-a-days, and which leads to the isolation of nation from nation, of class from class, and individual from individual, in a most graphic and trenchant manner. It was this spirit which induced the building up of fortunes by means of monopolies which were the ruin of poor men and which led nations to build between one another the walls of a hostile tariff. The preacher then contrasted this "Cain" spirit with the unselfish, sympathizing, all-embracing spirit of Christ, whose outcome was love and charity by all and to all. Rev. Professor McLaren, moderator of the general assembly, and Principal Cavan also occupied seats on the platform. The rev. gentleman's sermon was a mos

He expostulated with her in vain, and when he took her by the shoulder to emphasize his request she struck him a blow on the temple with a clock which the held in her hand. When she got to Guelph she complained to the police, who advised her to lay her grievances before the railway officials in Toronto. Fannie is a blue stocking and strong minded, and won't stand any fooling.

WILD RIDICULES THE MODERN THEORY OF EVOLUTION,

Dr. Wild last evening dealt with th phiect of evolution, in view of the recen text from the fifth verse of the twent fifth chapter of Job : "Behold even to the fact that such an ancient work a the book of Job-probably the oldest book in the world-contained the stronomical fact that the moon borrows ts light from the sun, while it was not known by scientists until centuries after. The Rev. Mr. Gibson of the Jarvis street universalist church had recently said that "man must have been far down in his "man must have been far down in his grossest self" so long ago. It is therefore strange that they should know such an important truth as to the moon. He would ask Beecher to tackle the point that at such an interior age of the world, according to his reasoning, man should have evoluted such sublime truths which were not discovered by astronomers and, others for centuries after. The book of Job in fact contained no less than twenty-seven important scientific facts.

The facts of history are against evolution and in favor of "retroluagainst evolution and in favor of "retrolu-tion." Go to the Greeks and see the decad-ence there. They have evoluted backward. The Aztecs of to-day, are the poor, weak and ignorant descend-ants of the once heroic and noble Per-uvians. They have retroluted. Our own Indians are another evidence of this retro-gression. The Roman empire and Spain were also referred to in support of the argument that there is a degeneration in every case; the doctor affirmed Heathenism never evolutes out of itself; in fact there is no evolution outside of the bible. All true progress lies in it.
