WELLINGTON AND FRONT-STREETS EAST,

A good crowd assembled at Rosedale Saturday afternoon to watch the 48th Highlanders' sports. For part of the afternoon the weather was delightful, but a heavy rain sent the contestants to shelter before 5 o'clock.

The Grenadiers' team won the tug-of-war rather easily in two straight pulls. L. D. Robertson, paced by Hensel and McCarthy on a tandem, tried to beat his own record of 2.05 1.5, but could not do better than 2.11. The results:

Vestibules on Motors.

In his report to the Board of Works, which will be considered Monday, Engineer Keating says with regard to selters for motormen on street cars: "It appears evident that the construction of vestibules on the cars would afford a great protection to the men during the winter and early spring months. From investigation made in Buffalo I find there is very little trouble from snow or ice collecting on the glass. Occasionally the windows have had to be let down and cleaned, but further than this I cannot learn that they have been a source of much trouble. I think it would be impracticable for the Street Railway, Company to get vestibules placed on all their cars before the winter sets in, but the cars running on the Belt Line and Yonge-street and other routes could be altered without much delay. I cannot find that any more accidents occurred in Buffalo with vestibuled than with unvestibuled cars. I would point out to the committee that by he act of the Ontario Legislature it is preceded to the City Committee that by he act of the Ontario Legislature it is preceded to the committee that by he act of the Ontario Legislature it is preceded to the committee that by he act of the Ontario Legislature in the committee that the cars of the committee that by he act of the Ontario Legislature it is preceded to the committee that by he act of the Ontario Legislature it is preceded to the committee that the cars and the cars and the cars and the cars are cars and the cars are cars and the committee that the cars are cars and the cars are cars are cars and the cars are cars and the cars are cars a Act of the Ontario Legislature it is necessary for the City Council to pass a bylaw, before the company can be compelled to place vestibules on the cars."

A MANIAC MUSICIAN. Takes Possession of a Hotel and Chase the Inmates With a Knife. The inmates of Andrew Bell's Hotel, the York, were a scared lot of people on Friday night.

A man named Frank Fisher, a musician with a medicine company which lately camped in that vicinity, had become crazed from the effects of a protracted crazed from the effects of a protracted spree and commenced to clean out the house. He was finally driven into a room and the door locked, but he did not propose to stay there, and by the vigorous use of a large knife which he had he cut the panels out of the door and again chased the people out of the house.

Constable Tidsbury was called in who, with a well-directed blow from his cane, laid the wild man low, afterwards lockhaid the wild man low, afterwards locking him up for the night. On Saturday morning he was brought before Magistrate Richardson, who inflicted a fine of $10 or 20 days. As he did not have the money he went down.

THOSE ELECTRIC LIGHT TENDERS. Why They Were Not Opened Saturday Why They Were Not Opened Saturday—
About 15 Received.

The electric light tenders were not opened Saturday, much to the disgust of bidders from a distance, who assembled at the hall confidently expecting that they would be awarded.

Owing to the advertisement announcing the postponement of the reception of electric light tenders not having stated an hour for the opening of the offers, Mr. Meredith advised the Fire and Light Committee that tenders received up till midnight would have to be considered. Because of this the committee decided to postpone the opening of the tenders until Monday morning.

At the Sessions.

Owen G. Martin was acquitted at the Sessions Saturday of the charge of stealing $15 from John A. Cook. The money had been deposited as security, when Cook was employed by Martin to solicit orders for jewelry plating. The orders never came and Martin refused to refund the cash.

the cash.

The judge thought the whole transacton was far from satisfactory, but there was not sufficient evidence to secure a conviction for theft.

Edward McQuade was convicted of common assault upon Robert McGinley, and was fined $5 and costs or 30 days. He paid the fine.

High Level Bridge Over the Don. Engineer Williams submitted plans for the proposed high-level bridge over the Don at yesterday's meeting of the sub-Don at yesterday's meeting of the sub-committee. These plans have been ap-proved by the Railway Company.

It was decided not to take any further action pending an effort to get the own-ers interested to sign a bond stating their claim.

Mr. Maughan sent in a letter to the effect that his former estimate of $40,000 as the land damages was only an opposition to the McCaul-street route and has agreed to convert the entire branch between Queen and College-streets to the electric system, the suggested cross route by St. Patrick and Arthur-streets having been abandoned.

Street Car Route in the West End. Engineer Keating has recommended the acceptance of the offer of the Toronto Railway Company to extend the Dovercourt-road line from College-street to Dundas-street and connect with the present line on the latter street. The company declined to construct a line either down Dufferin-street or Dovercourt-road.

AS TO ELECTION PETITIONS.

Is it Necessary to Put Up a Deposit in a Cross Pet iton?

Mr. Justice Osler on Saturday reserved decision as to whether or not it is necessary to deposit $1000 in a cross-petition A motion was made to have the cross-petition against Hon. William Harty dismissed on the ground that no deposit had been put up. Counsel for the petition claims that this is not necessary, as a cross-petition is part of the main appeal and not an independent petition.

Application was also made for an order calling upon the petitioners against the return of William German, member elect for Welland, to furnish particulars of their charges of bribery and corruption. The motion was adjourned, as the judges will meet in a few days and so amend the rules as to provide for such particulars. This decision will affect a large number of petitions.

of the bowels, and when the train reached Guelph he had to be removed, being unable to continue. Despite the efforts of the medical men, the popular conductor died on Friday afternoon, less than 24 hours after being stricken.

The deceased was one of the most genial and respected of railway men, and leaves a widow and four small children.

The funeral took place at Berling where the dead man's parents reside, on Sunday under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.
