—Elsewhere in this issue will be found a letter written for the press by Miss Elliott, Superintendent of the Sanitorium at Kentville. The anti-tuberculosis movement is receiving a great impetus and local organizations are being formed in nearly all cities. A recent editorial in the Montreal Witness says:

"The doctors have one unanimous advice to the press: 'Keep on telling the people what to do and what not to do about consumption until you produce the effect desired by all. The two fundamental facts in the prevention of tuberculosis are these: destruction of the germ and strengthening of the weakened body. Most consumptives have acquired the disease from other consumptives, and this because the latter failed to destroy their sputum; for, as our readers have many times been warned, it is through the sputum of consumptives that tuberculosis is almost exclusively spread. The problem of exterminating the disease almost narrows itself down therefore into destroying all sputum. Regarding infection through milk it is hoped the time will come when all dairy herds will be free from tuberculosis cattle."

"The development of the resistance of the body, or the elimination of the accessory or predisposing cause, is accomplished by building up the bodily health. The proposition is to get all tubercular patients to breathe pure air only and constantly, every hour in the twenty-four, to eat slowly nutritious foodstuffs, and to obtain all the rest and sleep needed with just enough bodily exercise to keep the body in good tune. These are quite simple rules, but because they are in opposition to the present mode of living of many people they are often extremely difficult of adoption. Ninety-nine people in a hundred do not know what fresh and stale air are and think them equal to cool and warm air. School teachers by word and practice in the schoolroom can inculcate important truths with lasting effects on their pupils. Teachers indeed will have a tremendous influence in the fight against tuberculosis, because the successful eradication of the disease will depend in good part upon the extent to which citizens of the rising generation are taught concerning its prevention and cure."

All Saints' Day Sermon

Saints, as men and women who did great things, and who showed their love and their faith in some action or some suffering which made the world wonder and talk. Be that so. But there is this ever to remember—viz., it was not their single great deeds or sufferings that made them saints. If they were saints it was because they had faith and holiness at all times and in all places—even in the unnoticed department of life—in the common course of their daily life at their work and in their conversation; in their homes as well as in the assemblies of men, in the church or in the temple. If it were otherwise, they certainly would not have overcome in the hour of temptation and trial.

Let us remember, then, that holiness is to be sought and found in our quiet hours of life; in the hours when our temptations are not outwardly great ones, but only the inward, secret ones of our thoughts, our tempers, our wishes and desires, our behaviour—kind and loving or selfish and uncharitable, whichever it be to our neighbors, whether few or many, rich or poor, among whom God has placed us. Here in such a life did the Saints of God, now at rest in His "Paradise" of love, learn to become saints.

And at this "All Saints' tide" we would thank God that, for our help and encouragement and also for our learning, He inspired the writer of this Epistle to the Hebrews thus to write—to record such examples to guide and draw us on. But, above all we would bless Him, that that grace which made those who have gone before so heavenly minded and so faithful, is also ready for us, to make us, too, meet for the inheritance of the saints in light and, eventually, to be numbered with them in glory everlasting.

We believe MINARD'S LINIMENT is the best:

WOMAN WINS ON APPEAL

The Divisional Court has allowed the appeal of Mrs. Jane Whiteborne of Hamilton, reversing the judgement by Judge Snider of Wentworth Co. The plaintiff recovers from the Canadian Life Insurance Company the full amount of the policy of $250 of late husband, Henry Whiteborne, who died in November of last year, being injured by the falling of a tree. The defendants had refused to pay the policy, claiming that it was void in default of the payment of the premium, and they had been upheld in their contention by Judge Snider.

The quarterly premium on the $250 policy was $2.55, and the defendants claimed that this had been paid on September 1 of 1908. According to the plaintiff's statement, however, the deceased had paid the premium in installments before, and the agent had accepted the same making no complaint of the delay. Chancellor Boyd says: "I think that the fair reading of the evidence shows that the woman made all reasonable exertions to pay the ten cents, or in satisfaction of the company. The agent, Swan, was to return for the ten cents. He came when the family was out, though the money was under the butter dish waiting for him. The plaintiff sought out the place where he was supposed to be next Saturday before the death, but did not find the agent, nor could find out where he had gone to."

You must always keep in view In case of colds what's best to do And don't forget it. Rub the throat, sniff up the nose The remedy I now propose. And do it thoroughly with Empire Liniment.

THE I. C. R. WASHOUTS.

The washouts on the eastern section of the Intercolonial by the heavy rains of Sunday and Monday, were the worst this part of the line has ever sustained.

Through Antigonish town for two or three miles east, there were a dozen most serious washouts, arising from the Clydesdale river overflowing its banks.

Thence to Mulcrave the roadbed was destroyed in four or five places, some of the gaps of destruction being over 200 feet in length.

All trains of this eastern section were delayed until repairs were effected.—Truro News.

Town Council

A meeting of the town council of the town of Bridgetown, November 1st, 1909, at 7.30 p. m., with Mayor Ruggles in the chair and councillors present as follows: Councillors Calder, Dixon, DeWitt and Longmire.

It was ordered that the following bills be paid, viz: Charles Berry $3.75, William Hudson $1.87, William Ruffee $0.32, and Laurie Mansfield $0.62.

A resolution was passed regarding street lights, as follows:—Resolved that the electric light committee consider the advisability of applying to the Public Utility Board to deal with the question of rates for street lighting in Bridgetown and if thought advisable to apply to the Board accordingly.

Minutes read and approved. Council adjourned.

MARATHON CRAZY

Winslow Journal

The town has gone Marathon crazy. Poole, who finished 26th position in the Halifax race yesterday, and Jas. Redden, of this town, seem to be in doubt as to who is the best man at 5 miles. "I tell you what we do," said one of the sprinters, "go to the rink and run 75 laps, and then there will be no more disputing. Are you game?" "Game, well I guess I am." About 2.15 a line of sports were seen winding their way to the building which has covered many Waterloo scenes. The race was won by Poole in 28.45. Redden was about 44 laps behind, his time being 30.45. Time of the miles—1st, mile 5.30; 2nd 5.45; 3rd Poole 5.45, Redden 6.15; 4th Poole 5.45; Redden 6.45; 5th Poole 5 minutes, Redden 7 minutes. Only a few persons witnessed the race.

CAT WENT TO THE RESCUE OF CH'LD

(Truro News)

One day recently while Mrs. Arch Suttis sat sewing in the sitting room of her home on Water St. she heard her infant, which was asleep upstairs, scream. She at once ran to the bedside of the little one, and was alarmed to find its face bleeding, but was unable to account for the cause. Taking the child up she started down stairs, when she noticed the cat just in front of her with something in its mouth, which upon investigation proved to be a large rat. The position is that the rat attacked the child, and that the cat sprang to the rescue, killing the rodent.

A large number of houses in Truro are infested with rats. Many houses that have been clear of them all summer, now that the cold weather is approaching, are becoming swarmed with them again. What is needed is a war of extermination on the pesky animals.

CAMERON WINS IN RECORD TIME

In a pouring rainstorm and over roads that were little better than mud puddles, Fred Cameron, the speedy long distance runner of Amherst won the Evening Mail's ten mile road race yesterday morning, and in doing so broke the record for the course. Hans Holmer, looked on as one of the best men who ever put on a running shoe, established a mark of 57 min. 57 sec. for this course under almost ideal conditions last year but Cameron clipped nearly two minutes from this mark yesterday doing the distance in 56 min. 14 sec. Louis Paul, a forty-four year old Indian of the Swastika Athletic Club Windsor, came in second and was only eighteen seconds behind Holmer's mark B. Hollitt, of the Chebucto mark third in 58 min. 34 sec. and three other men finished in better than an hour.

MORE THAN ENOUGH IS TOO MUCH.

To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. A physician at a recent meeting of the College of Physicians, in Philadelphia, told a story illustrating the witty comprehension of a patient of Irish nativity. The physician declared that one of his patients, an Irishman could not understand why, if one of his arms refused to perform its usual functions, the other should remain normal. "It is the balancing power of nature," explained the physician. "If a man is blind in one eye, nature generally provides additional strength for the remaining eye. When deafness is discovered in one ear, the hearing of the other ear becomes 'musical' acute." "Now that you mention it, O! believe 'tis so," said the patient. "When a man has a short leg, the other leg is generally longer."

Obituary.

JACOB SLOCUMB

Mr. Jacob Slocumb has been one of the landmarks of Middleton for many years. During the years of his active life he was a leading farmer and prominent in public affairs in Eastern Annapolis County. He was man of unbending integrity whose word was as his bond.

He was past 90 years of age yet was active in mind and body. On Friday last he assisted in packing fruit but took a cold which developed into pneumonia ending fatally on Thursday morning.

The funeral took place yesterday, Rev. Wm. Philips, Rev. Jos. Gaetz and Rev. J. L. Batty conducted the service. The burial was at Pine Grove.

Mr. Slocumb lost his wife 12 years ago and is survived by one daughter Mrs. J. L. Batty, of Sydney, and two sons, John P. of Baltimore and Chas. C., of Middleton and a wide circle of relatives.—Outlook.

AVOID CRUELTY IN DEHORNING

A few years ago I came near losing a fine steer by dehorning. The dehorner first tied the cow very tight around and as close to the head as possible, then sawed the horns off, staunching the flow of blood with flour. The flour was poisonous and caused irritation. But in all cases where it can be done use caustic and dehorn the calf while small. This is by far the best time, as this will effect the nicest, smoothest job, and is the most humane, is the easiest done and the cheapest, as a few cents is all that is required. Just when the button-like horn is first discovered and is quite loose, when the calf is two or three weeks old, remove the hair around the horn with a sharp pair of shears, then wet the stick of caustic by dipping the end of stick in water, being careful to have paper around stick to protect hand, as it will burn when wet. Rub the horn close around it until quite warm. Quite often one application is all that is required. If not, repeat in a few days. This will be all that is required. The calf suffers very little. We cannot afford to neglect dehorning the calf while it is small. Then it will have a nice smooth head, will be far more docile and there will be no danger either to the other cattle or the attendant.—Ex.

I. C. R. HOTELS

The Montreal Star quotes M. J. Butler, deputy minister of railways and chairman of the board of management, as suggesting the branching of the government railways into the hotel business. He expressed the view says the Star, that there was a good opening for a number of first class hotels in the maritime provinces and on the Lower St. Lawrence.
