THE GOVERNOR GENERAL

peaks of the Consequences of the Mckinley BIII.

The Central Fair was opined at Ottawas on Tuesday of last week, by the Governor-General, who, in reply to the teast in his honor, among other things said, after congratilating the president and officers of the association for the success which attends ed the exhibition, although as yet short-lived, and speaking of the impertance of such gatherings, that the Queen and her family have shown the importance which they attach to that which must be the standard industry of all countries, and especially here where we feel that the agricultural portion of the coun-try is one upon which so deeply depends all our prosperity. It becomes of importance for a person representing, although at a distance, the head of state to evince a deep and lasting interest in that which concerns the agricultural presperity of the country. It is more necessary perhaps at this moment than at any other time. "I am net going to wander into political allusions or comment more than very briefly upon the uncertainty of passing events, and although we knew there is some of that givairy-the word jealousy had almost alipped out-which exists sometimes between those most nearly related, and which some-times part of the most fond of one another, in the alightest degree with the action of our great neighbors to the south of the line, nor indeed could I find it in my heart to do so as long as they send so able and charming a representative as the American consul here. (Loud applause.) Recognizing, therefore, their entire right to the action which they have thought it necessary to adopt, viewing with carefulness, though not with alarm, the effect of that action upon our resources, I venturo, gentleman, a few words to take stock of the position and to show you that it becomes us in this country to put ourselves more upon our metile and to induce us to devele e cur resources as our friends south of the line have do se in times past. Applause.)

NOT GOING TO QUARREL

"I don't want in any way to minimize the mportance of the great measure which has ust passed. Its effect upon our trade to some extent is undoubted, but it is not the immediate effect we are to look to, but, rather, what is the ultimate effect which euch measures produce when we are thrown back, as it were, upon our own resources; when certain markets previously open to us in a great measure are closed to us and whon trade must, as some outlets are closed to us, seek for fresh and new channels. Fer my own part, from what I have seen both of the Dominion collectively and the citizens personally, I believe there is ample enterprise and ability in this country to seek out

NEW MODES OF TRADE.

At present there must always be, till trade has settled down in new reads, a certain amount of disturbance, but I have not seen as yet any sense of general alarm. I have not seen any records of fullures, actual or antici-

"I have not seen that securities have fallen and I have not seen, except in specific articles, perhaps, that trade has fallen off, and the general conclusion, therefore, which I as an outsider share is this, that the inhabitants of the Dominion mean to work out their own prosperity themselves (Applause.) They do not for the moment put aside the wish to be en equal and cerdial terms with our great neighbors but they are determined te work out their own trade on lines in which they through their statesmen have determined to be the best for the advantage of the country. (Applause.) I was glad when an honorable friend of mine—the Minister of Finance—a short time age speke in what seemed to be a manly and hepeful spirit. I trust-I heartily trust-that his anticipations will be fully realized, and that we shall find that, thrown back as it were en eurselves, we have the confidence and ability to grapple with the task, and that at this and other similer associations year after year may be given with an increasing feeling of confidence and happiness the teast of presperity to this and kindred associations." (Applause.)

An Appeal for Purity.

Berlin, September 27.—The recent scan-dals involving members of the aristocracy are gravely discussed by the press and are the theme of guarded pulpit allusions. The Kreuz Zeitung mourne the decadence of the nobility and warns its members that they must lead a bitt r life if they do not wish to preveke the masses to revolution. The Germania protests sgainst charging the aristocracy with general corruption, helling that only these are corrupt whese materialistic conceptions have destroyed their meral consciousness. The Reichsbote attributes the meral decay of the necellty to much meney, no serious work, no meral discipline, gross living and depraved company. It invokes the aristocratic leaders to combine to purify society and to exercise stricter controi of their families.

The McKinley Bill Passes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—In the House of Representatives the McKinley bill passed: Yeas 151; nays 79. The conference report was then agreed to: Yeas 152 (the Speaker voting in the affirmative); nays 81. The only deviction from action for the content of the content ation from a strict party vote was on the part of Mesers. Coleman, Fetherstone and Kelly, who voted with the Democrats in the negative. Mr. McKinley then reported from the Ways and Means committee a resolution providing for final adjournment on Tuesday next and it was adopted withent division, and the House at 6 50 adjourned.

SOME CRITICISM.

LONDON, September 97.—The Standard says: than it looks. It may diminish our trade with America, but it will help us immensely to spread it in other quarters. A number of English merchants and manufacturers have looked forward with dead to the time when America would enter the markets of the world to com-pete with us on the trade basis. Their slarm will now disappear. To traders with Africa and to all contries desirous of developing their foreign trade the continuance of the high tariff in America will be an excellent bit of good

The News, commenting on the McKinley bill, says:—"We are happily old hands in contests of this k nd and will not be driven by any provocation to the suicidal policy of resorting to either reciprocity or retaliation. The enter-prise of our traders will find in one corner of prise of our traders will ind in one corner of the globe—in Asia, Atrica or on the continent of America more than sufficient to compensate for this incredibly feelish measure. The great loss will be to the United States. The earlier tar ff has already paralyzed the export trade in manufactures and the McKieley bill may kill it. The true danger to England's industrial supremacy will begin only when free trade : pins to there intelligent and powerful rivals the markets of the world."

LONDON, September 29 .- The Times predicts that the McKinley bill will cut both ways, and in a manner surprising to its authors. It will do grave harm to America and dislocate the general industries of the world. America will be the chief sufferer in the end. Things elsewhere will adjust themselves in course of time to the new course of things, while America will be left permanently paying higher prices for in-ferior goods, and wasting her labor and industrial energy in vain and misdirected efforts it regard to natural economy.

Public Robbers.

OTTAWA, September 27.—The Journal says that an organized and well-arranged gang of unknown men is terrorizing the peaceful settlers an Lochaber town hip by their daring robberies. Besides looting dwellings they have raided several cheese factories and carried off considerable plunder. So far no violence has displayed. A report from Lockaber states that the farmers have organized a vigilance party, and will go a gunning on Sunday.

The C. P. R.

OTTAWA, September 27 .- The management of the Canadian Pacific Railway has undertaken system of permanent improvements to the road between Ostawa and Port Arthur. The cribbing along this route will be replaced at once by iron work, and stone culverts will re-place the present wooden ones. The line be-tween Ostawa and Pembroke, it is stated, will also be shortened. The improvements are estimated by one of the successful contractors at half a million dollars.

Express Companies and the Lottery

Washington, September 26.-The Post Office department has information from its in-spectors in New Orieans that the Louisiana Lottery company has scopped the use of the mails and transferred its business to the express companies. It will try to arrange to have its circulars and its lists of drawings kept in the express offices over the country and to send ticket collect money through the companies. The department is preparing to proceed against such express companies as undertake business for the losteries as agents of the lottery in the eye of Caught.

Halifax, N.S., September 28 .- A Georgeown despatch to the Herald gives details of the capture of the American schooner Davy Creckett. The mackerel have been very plentiful in hore this year, while the Yankee fisher-men have all been compelled to keep outside the limit. It was very exasperating to the Yankees to wa'ch their Canadian competitors make big hauls of fish inshere, while they, separated by an invisible line, could get nothing. Hence they frequently tempted fate by making incursions inside the limit. The Glouceter schooner Davy Crockett insugurated a novel method of evading the law. She was fitted out with both seines and dories and whi's the vessel herself was kept jugging along outside the three mile limit the crews were inshore making big catches of mackerel with hook and line. This smart trick was kept up all aummer. On Friday she put into Towers and fell into the hands of the cruiser Critic. The evidence against her is overwhelming, and she will undoubtedly be confiscated.

FROM WINNIPEG.

WINNIPEG, September 27 .- A lively movement in Winnipeg real estate is taking place, sales one day last week ranging between three and four hundred thousand dollars. One deal on Portage avenue amounted to $170,000, all the purchaseable loss being secured as far west as Colony creek. The purchasers were a syndicate of railway magnatos and eastern capitalists. Numerous sales have also been made on Princess street and other parts of the city.

Amongst the shipments of the Canadian Pacific railway yeaterday were two carloads of Manitoba celery and cabbage to Kansas Ciby. Large quantities of potatoes and other vegetables are being bought up by American spacu-lators and shipped south almost daily. The Canadian Pacific railway is gathering in two hundred cars to ship cattle from Calgary and Strathmore stations for the English market

VIENNA, September 27 .- Polish journals assert that during the recent managures of the Russian army at Kovno, the Jrasnostraw bridge collapsed and that 600 soldiers belonging to the Pultaun regiment, which was crossing the bridge, were thrown into the water and drowned. The papers state that among those who lost their lives was Gen. Bardowsky. There has been no othicial confirmation of the report.

Lord Aberdeen Speaks.

OTTAWA, September 26 .- Lord Aberdeen visited the exhibition to day and in a thort speech gave his views on current trade restions. In referring to trade matters be questions. In refering to trade matters he said: "I have read with interest and pleasure the speech of your eminent and illustrious Premier, in which he apoke in very sanguine terms of the trade prospects of Canada notwithstanding what is threatened on the part of your southern neighbors. That speech was well calculated to remove some uneasiness which has naturally been expressed. Speaking as one more directly connected with the old country I may say that we look with anything but approval on that we look with anything but approval on the McKirley act. Not because of any selfish alarm, but because we realize that we have an alarm, but hecause we really that we have an identity of interest and sympathy with Canada and the other colonies in that matter. I have heard it stated that the prosperity of Canada depends largely upon the Canadian hen and that the egg market is destroyed, but I believe from what I have seen here that the Canadian hen interest while to feather here are never next." hen is quite able to feather her own nest.'

RAW FURS.

The chief interest now centres in Lampson & The chief laberest now central in Lampson & Co's great sale of seal skins to be opened in London, on October, 27th when there will be offered 21,000 Alarka seal skins, 15,000 North West Coast skins and 42,000 C pper Island skins. Making in all 75,000 skins. The fact that only 21,000 Alaska skins will be effered when 60,000 skins were allowed by the United Shotes Covernment is a great supprise to the States Government, is a great surprise to the trade, and some dealers look upon it as a trick for a purpose. A letter dated 22th October, and the general fur sales will commence on October the general fur sales will commence on Uctober 28. We shall effer raccoon, muskrat, lyux, common cat. Russian sable, mink, otter, beaver, house cat, wolf, badger, Japan fox, chinchilla, dry hair seal, and Australian furs, also red fox and Hudson Bay marten." We look for high prices in seal skins, and otter and beaver are also expected to rule high owing to the dearness of seals. The price of bear will probably rule firm, but the general run of our export furs will be governed mainly by the Russian will be governed mainly by the Russian demand, but no great disturbance in values is anticipated.
