

In announcing Andover's agreement, Miss Carney indicated that potential sales resulting from Canada's participation in the Fair could top the $1 billion mark over the next five years.