On the question: "Shall this Bill be passed,"

Mr. BLAKE asked the hon. Minister of Railways to make the statement he promised he would yesterday, with reference to his intention as to the clause about accounts and informations to be brought down.

Sir CHARLES TUPPER replied that a clause to be introduced in connection with the Consolidated Railway Act, would cover that point.

Bill read the third time and passed.

Sir JOHN A. MACDONALD moved the adjournment of the House.

Motion agreed to; and (at 11:35 o'clock, p.m.) the House adjourned.

ERRATA.

On page 213, 25th line from bottom of 2nd column, for "Inland Revenue" read "Inland Marine."

On page 214, in Mr. Patterson's speech on wrecking and towing in inland waters, the wrecking tugs mentioned were: The McArthur, the Erie Belle, the Bob Hackett, the Mystic, the Parker, the Jessie, the Routh, the Hall, and the Prince Alfred.

On page 484, in Mr. Costigan's reply to Mr. Anglin, 18th line from top of 1st column, for "in spite of," &c., read "the charges I made against the hon. member in this House I repeated and sustained on the bustings in his county, notwithstanding the fact that he had neither the courage nor courtesy to give me a hearing on that occasion."

On same page, 25th line from top of 1st column, for "I am entitled" read "he is not entitled."

On same page, after 5th line from top of 2nd column, insert:—

"An hon. MEMBER. What about the Printing contract?"

On same page, at end of 30th line from top of 2nd column, after "excite sympathy if he" insert "remained silent, if he," so as to read "excite sympathy if he remained silent, than if he made a vain attempt to defend himself."
