GERMANY TO BLUFF NEUTRAL COUNTRIES

Decree of Berlin Government Orders Destruction of Shipping and Lines.

NO RULES RECOGNIZED

Alleging Britain Has Done So, Kaiser Will Disregard Previous Conventions.

The neutral shipping that is found in this area of war, without its being possible to avert the peril that thus threatens persons and cargoes.

Intimidation of Neutrals. "Neutrals are therefore warned against further entrusting crews, passengers and vessels to such ships. Their attention is also called to the fact that it is inadvisable for their ships to avoid entering this area, for even the German naval forces have instructions to avoid violence to neutral ships, in so far as they are recognizable in view of the misuse of neutral flags ordered by the British Government and the consequences of naval warfare, and becoming victims of torpedoes directed against enemy ships cannot always be averted.

"At the same time it is specifically noted that shipping north of the Shetland Islands, in the eastern area of the North Sea and in a strip of at least thirty sea miles in width, along the Netherlands coast is not imperilled.

"The German Government gives such notice of such intentions that hostile as well as neutral ships may have time, accordingly, to adopt their plans for landing at ports in this area of war. It is to be expected that the neutral powers will show no less consideration for the vital interests of Germany than for those of England and will aid in keeping their citizens and the property of the latter from this area. This is more to be expected as it must be to the interests of the neutral powers to see this destructive war end as soon as possible. The declaration of London, to which the memorandum of the German Government refers, was never sanctioned by the British Parliament. At the beginning of the war, Great Britain declared to put it in force with modifications. This she was entitled to do under the clause governing contraband, which the declaration itself recognized as constantly changing. The United States Government, under the pretext that it could not accept the changes proposed by the German Government, has refused to accept the arrangements made to govern maritime warfare during the Crimean war. This declaration prohibited, among other things, privateering, and this convention Germany was the first to violate, for she equipped merchantmen with arms on the high seas without sending them to a German port to be officially taken over by the German authorities, and without publishing their names in the German naval list. It was contended by international lawyers at the time that Britain had a right to declare these methods piracy, and to declare all neutral vessels found with goods of the enemy on board prizes. Under the precedent set by the Napoleonic wars she could also prohibit trading by neutrals with the enemy.

NATIONAL BASEBALL COMMISSION OFFICERS. CINCINNATI, Feb. 7.—August Herrmann and John E. Bruce, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the National Baseball Commission, were re-elected at the annual meeting of that body here last night after voting earlier in the day not to reorganize until after a decision on the Federal League's injunction suit at Chicago had been rendered. At the afternoon session of the commission it was decided that it would be best not to hold an election of officers at this time because of the complicated legal situation that organized baseball now finds itself in, but at the meeting tonight this decision was reconsidered and the election held.

Germany to Turn Pirate. "Germany must now appeal to these same vital interests, to its regret. It therefore sees itself forced to take military measures against England in retaliation against English procedure. Just as England has designated the area between Scotland and Norway as an area of war, so Germany now declares all the waters surrounding Great Britain and Ireland, including the English Channel, as an area of war and thus will proceed against the shipping of the enemy. For this purpose, beginning Feb. 15, 1915, it will endeavor to destroy every enemy mer-
