

the rank of captain and lieut.-colonel in 1770 ; he served two campaigns in North America, and was promoted to the rank of colonel in the army in 1782. In 1793 he was appointed to the command of a battalion formed of the grenadier companies of the three regiments of foot guards, with which he proceeded to the Netherlands. He was with the storming party which carried the outworks of Valenciennes on the 25th of July, 1793, and was thanked in general orders for his conduct on this occasion. He was also engaged in several other services during that campaign ; and in the autumn he was promoted from the third guards to the colonelcy of the eighty-second regiment, then newly raised. He was promoted to the rank of major-general on the 12th October, 1793 ; and was removed to the twentieth foot on the 2nd of March, 1797. He obtained the rank of lieut.-general in 1798, and that of general in 1803 ; and was removed to the colonelcy of the THIRD foot in 1809. He was groom of the bed-chamber to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, regent of the kingdom ; also lieut.-governor of the Isle of Wight : and he died on the 7th of August, 1815.

SIR HENRY CLINTON, G. C. B. and G. C. H.

Appointed 9th August, 1815.

HENRY CLINTON entered the army in 1787 as ensign in the eleventh foot ; and was removed in 1789 to the first foot guards. He served nearly twelve months with a Brunswick corps, in Holland ; and in April, 1791, was appointed captain in the fifteenth foot, from which he exchanged to the foot guards in 1792. In January, 1793, he was appointed aide-de-camp to His Royal Highness the Duke of York, in which capacity he served the campaigns of 1793 and 1794, and was present at nearly every battle and siege in which the British troops were engaged ; and was wounded on the 10th of May, 1794. In 1795 he was appointed lieut.-colonel in the sixty-sixth foot, and soon afterwards joined his regiment in the West Indies. He again exchanged to the first foot guards in 1796, and was made prisoner on his passage to England. In 1798 he served in Ireland, and was appointed aide-de-camp to Lord Cornwallis, the commander-in-chief in that country ; and in the succeeding year he proceeded with Lord
