Beausoicii Will Takes a Turn.

There is going to be a very interesting political meeting down in Berthier, which county is represented in the House of Commons by Ald. Beausoleil, one of the leaders of the anti-Tarte movement. A few weeks ago the local member, Mr. Chenevert, who does root pull with the bolters, called a meeting, and Hon. Mr. Tarte was the hero of the day. He made a speech claiming that to Mr. Chenevert was due the credit of securing a large expenditure on public works in the county, ignoring the Fedral member altogether. This was as fuel to the flame, and now Mr. Beausoleil is to have his innings, and he will feelare in his speech that the money he obtained from the country was due to his own efforts and in spite of Mr. Tarte. Thus the fratricidal row continues.

It looks as if the case of Hon. Mr. Tarte against Mr. W. A. Grenier was to be again postponed. The presiding judge at the last term of the Criminal Court informed the defendant that the case would be brought to trial in the September term. Mr. Tarte had made with the effect that his Parlia mentary duties prevented him from being present. This is a very grave case, and it is dilucult to see now this number can be fed during the winter. A few evenings ago two city cyclists left on their wheels to visit friends in Caledon. About midnight, when near their destination, they heard the clanking of a chain, which investigation proved to be around the neck of a savage bull which had broken loose from its moorings. The bull sighted the cyclists before tney caught sight of him, and charged upon them. Recourse was made to a nearby fence, over which they scrambled and dragged their wheels. The bull tossed the rails high in the air and followed closely after them. Refuge was taken in two nearby trees, and none too soon, for the younger of the two had only just reached the lower branches when his foot was caught by the horns of the infuriated brute. The reast acsed sentinel for over three hours, and kept the young men in the tree until the early hours of sunday morning, when his chain got entangled, and brought him to a standstill. The cyclists then remounted and reached their destination in time for an early breakfast, which their midnight adventure added a sharp-relish to.

(ASSESSMENT SYSTEM). DYEA AND SKAGUAY.

AND BUILD AND THE LEARNING AND THE LEARN

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 3.—Cyrus Mathews, formerly a Tacoma merchant, who returned yesterday from Skaguay, says that Schmidt, a middle-aged German miner, has $26,000 in Klondike dust and nuggets in his tent at Skaguay, Schmidt came out in the latter part of July accompanied by one man, who helped pack his gold out, each carry agover 60 pounds of gold. That was all they carried, except provisions for the trip. Arriving at Skaguay, Schmidt said that there was going to be a town there and filed on a lot. He will winter there, and has rented part of his lot to Mathews and Lubelski, who have opened a general store. Mathews was there only a week, and is now back to secure a new stock of goods.

Schimdt came out for the winter because he was afraid he could not get enough to eat at Dawson.

Mrs. Tina Polson has received a letter from her husband, who left here 18 months ago for the Yukon. He writes that he has a rich claim in the Klondike country, for which he has refused $35, 1000. Mrs. Polson has worked very hard to support her family during her husband's absence, and to-day she took her first day's rest in over a year.

Seattle, Wash, Sept. 3.—The demand for horses to be used in packing over the passes from Skaguay is increasing and during the present week several hundred horses will be shipped there. There are now at Skaguay about 4000 horses, and it is difficult to see how this number can be fed during the winter. Many predict that both men and horses will be starving before spring and that the horses will be killed and eaten.

The Baily Cart Oriver. Editor World: As I was coming down Yonge-street this morning at about 9 o'clock, near Gould-street, I wished to pass a cart which was going south, and I therefore turned on to the car track to pass. As I turned out the driver of a cart which was standing on Yonge-street turned his horse out right in front of me, which was a piece of culpable negligence on his part, as he could see me on the track just where he was going to turn, and should have waited till I had passed. I was not going at the very most more than six miles an hour. As one of your correspondents remarked yesterday, the drivers of delivery wagons, etc., should be regulated as much as cyclists.
