Mahdi Dinin, the 4nsurgent chief, is said to resemble the Mahdi, the Mohammedan warrior-prophet, in religious fanaticism, and rules his followers despotically.

It was a similar outbreak 15 years ago, under the Mahdi, that swept the Soudan and ended in the massacre of Gordon at Khartoum. Aden, the chief town of Yemen, is English. Thirty thousand Turkish troops have been Miss Knox's Report,

Beginning with the statement that the year's attendance averaged 140 scholars, Miss Knox went into a short review of the year's labors. The work in the matriculation form was very good. Marie Desfours took the two-years' University course in one and qualified for honors in French and German. Agatha Cassels and Jean Hoyles passed the first pass of matriculation with an average of over 50 per cent. The sixth, fifth, fourth, third and second all came in for praise.

Finlay G. McDiarmid to re-contest the riding in the Conservative interest in the approaching bye-election. The nomination as unanimous, Mr. McDiarmid accepted the nomination in a stirring speech, in which he expressed the intention of making a vigorous and manly fight for the riding. Rousing speeches were also delivered by Duncan McLean, Dugald McColl, Robert McCully and A. B. Ingram, M.P. for East Eigin.

Christmas Neckwear.

Sword the King-street furnisher, has hit upon the right plan when he throws open his entire stock of high-class neckwear for the inspection of the public, previous to the usual rush of Christmas week, when stocks are more or less demoralized and clerks too busy to give customers proper attention. The superior finish and exclusive style shown by Sword are the result of his many years' experience in the manufacture of neckwear, and should be encouraged by lovers of Canadian made goods, which to day stand second to none for finish and chic effects. His window of red and white combinations is, without doubt, the most attractive display ever made in Toronto, this being all the rage at present in American cities, showing that Sword, as usual, is in the lead. See this window to-night.

Burglars Stole Clothes.

Brighton, Ont., Dec. 16.—This morning the clothing establishment of Mr. W. N. Davidson here was burglarized. The miscreants procured large chisels from a wood shop and opened the door. The three relped themselves to the ready-made clothing, underwear, hats and socks, and then made their way to the Public school, where they changed their wearing apparel. A Toronto Traveler Cured.

Mr. R. E. Fleming, Toronto, representative for a Montreal cork firm, was troubled with catarrh for years; could not breathe through his nostrils; suffered great pain in his head; tried every remedy he could hear of; consulted specialists; only to find false hopes for a cure. He began to use Japanese Catarrh Cure. He began to use Japanese Catarrh cure. He felt almost like a new man after the first application, and in a very short time he was completely cured.

Catarrh for Years.

Miss A. Nott of Beachville, Ont., was for years a martyr to this distressing disease. She tried a dozen so-called Catarrh Cures, only to find herself worse when the effect of them had gone. She was attracted to Japanese Catarrh Cure shop reading of the wonderful cures made by it. From the very first application, she received great relief. In a short time every vestige of this unpleasant disorder disappeared. She says: "I can highly recommend it; it worked so wonderful a cure in my case."

When Doctors Failed.

Mr. Jos. Little, a well known miller of Port Essington, B.C., says, "Japanese Catarrh Cure cured me of catarrh which had troubled me for years. Spent hundreds of dollars and consulted specialists, but obtained no permanent relief. Eight years ago I was induced to try Japanese Catarrh Cure. I began us ing Japanese Catarrh cure; the very first application gave the instant relief. I continued using it and in a very short time I was completely cured of Catarrh and every symptom of the disease was gone.

For Cold in the Head.

Alex. McRae, tailor, of New Westminster, B.C., was very susceptible to cold in the head, and showed symptoms of developing into catarrh. The remedy which proved best in his case, and gave effective and instantaneous relief, was Japanese Catarrh Cure. He swears by it as a cold-in-the-head cure and preventive of Catarrh.
