

NO COMPETITION

Dealers who have only a few skins and not enough business to employ the highest grade workpeople, find it impossible to compete with us on fur coats of any sort

Sealskin garments are our special pride, having no superior in Canada. We make them on honor, quality and workmanship being the very best possible in their respective grades.

All our skins are absolutely guaranteed to be genuine Alaska seal, London dyed.

Our stock of cub seal skins is extra large and just fresh from the European markets. The linings, buttons and trimmings are selected imported goods from France and Italy.

We'd be glad to have your order to-day for delivery later on or have you call and inspect the display.

DINEEN

For Fifty Years Canada's Leading Furrier
140 YONGE ST., COR. OF TEMPERANCE

AGINCOURT.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Elliott was the scene of a pleasing event on Thursday evening last when their third daughter, Lucy, was married to Mr. Fred Yeomans of the same place. The bride was becomingly gowned in white silk mull and valence lace with the usual veil of Brussels net and lily of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jean Elliott, in white mousseline de sole over yellow.

Mr. J. G. Morgan of Toronto acted as best man and Mr. W. H. Hodgins of Toronto played the wedding march. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and chain; to the bridesmaid a gold necklace with pearl cross, and to the groomsmen a pearl stickpin.

After a sumptuous repast the happy couple left for Barrie and other points north, the bride being attended by a handsome navy blue suit of panne velvet and hat to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Yeomans will reside near Agincourt.

EAST TORONTO.

About 100 lady members of the Toronto Horticultural Society visited the trial gardens of the Wm. Rennie Company Saturday afternoon and spent a delightful two hours looking around. In spite of the dry weather they found everything fresh and abundant. Mr. Rennie entertained the party to light refreshments.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Y.M.C.A. of East Toronto will be held at the residence of Mrs. Lloyd, 1856 Danforth-avenue, Tuesday at 2 p.m.

North York Old Boys.

The gathering of the North York Old Boys in Newmarket on Thursday, Oct. 1, will lend zest to the semi-centennial celebration of both the Incorporation of

Day's Doings in YORK COUNTY West Toronto North Toronto East Toronto

S. YORK CONSERVATIVES RENOMINATE MACLEAN

Late Member is the Choice by Acclamation—A Review of His Attitude on Public Questions.

W. F. Maclean was once more unanimously nominated as the Liberal-Conservative candidate for South York on Saturday afternoon by a large and enthusiastic convention. The candidate was cheered again and again and hearty cheers were also given for R. L. Borden.

The president of the association, Major John Fisher, North Toronto, took the chair at 2.30 p.m. and H. H. Ball, secretary, read the resolution of the executive calling the convention.

The nomination of Mr. Maclean was made by Reeve Henry and Dr. Hackett of West Toronto. Mayor Baird and R. G. Agnew moved a resolution endorsing the policy of the Conservative party in the west area. Mr. Baird repeated he was very glad to see Mr. Maclean was not in touch with the leader.

Mr. Baird said his reason for moving the motion was simply with the desire to be fair to Mr. Borden and Mr. Maclean, when there was such unanimity in the convention to correct the impression in some quarters that they were not in sympathy with Mr. Borden.

He believed the Conservative party was big enough to take in the labor party. He thought an explanation was due to Mr. Borden for the part he took in supporting the labor candidate in London.

Referred as Unnecessary. Messrs. Macdonald and others objected to the resolution as unnecessary and liable to be misunderstood.

R. G. Agnew thought it was their duty to speak up and voice their support to Mr. Borden. He did not intend to do Mr. Maclean any harm. It was his intention to vote for Mr. Maclean as a good Conservative, and not a Liberal, as many people were saying. There were Liberals who were saying he was a good Liberal for them and they would vote for him.

Mr. Baird said his reason for moving the motion was simply with the desire to be fair to Mr. Borden and Mr. Maclean, when there was such unanimity in the convention to correct the impression in some quarters that they were not in sympathy with Mr. Borden.

He believed the Conservative party was big enough to take in the labor party. He thought an explanation was due to Mr. Borden for the part he took in supporting the labor candidate in London.

Referred as Unnecessary. Messrs. Macdonald and others objected to the resolution as unnecessary and liable to be misunderstood.

R. G. Agnew thought it was their duty to speak up and voice their support to Mr. Borden. He did not intend to do Mr. Maclean any harm. It was his intention to vote for Mr. Maclean as a good Conservative, and not a Liberal, as many people were saying. There were Liberals who were saying he was a good Liberal for them and they would vote for him.

Mr. Baird said his reason for moving the motion was simply with the desire to be fair to Mr. Borden and Mr. Maclean, when there was such unanimity in the convention to correct the impression in some quarters that they were not in sympathy with Mr. Borden.

He believed the Conservative party was big enough to take in the labor party. He thought an explanation was due to Mr. Borden for the part he took in supporting the labor candidate in London.

Referred as Unnecessary. Messrs. Macdonald and others objected to the resolution as unnecessary and liable to be misunderstood.

R. G. Agnew thought it was their duty to speak up and voice their support to Mr. Borden. He did not intend to do Mr. Maclean any harm. It was his intention to vote for Mr. Maclean as a good Conservative, and not a Liberal, as many people were saying. There were Liberals who were saying he was a good Liberal for them and they would vote for him.

Mr. Baird said his reason for moving the motion was simply with the desire to be fair to Mr. Borden and Mr. Maclean, when there was such unanimity in the convention to correct the impression in some quarters that they were not in sympathy with Mr. Borden.

He believed the Conservative party was big enough to take in the labor party. He thought an explanation was due to Mr. Borden for the part he took in supporting the labor candidate in London.

Referred as Unnecessary. Messrs. Macdonald and others objected to the resolution as unnecessary and liable to be misunderstood.

R. G. Agnew thought it was their duty to speak up and voice their support to Mr. Borden. He did not intend to do Mr. Maclean any harm. It was his intention to vote for Mr. Maclean as a good Conservative, and not a Liberal, as many people were saying. There were Liberals who were saying he was a good Liberal for them and they would vote for him.

WEST TORONTO

There is a very fair prospect of the Conservative party carrying the country. The indications in the west area are good. They are good in the east. In Ontario I think the people are more devoted than ever to the Conservative party and to the policies of the National Policy and Sir John Macdonald.

There is nothing so important as the rights of the people and the rights of the people and their happiness. Mr. Maclean declared.

The London Episode. Mr. Maclean explained in a spirited reference his action in supporting the late member in the London election against Mr. Beattie.

Mr. Beattie was not a public ownership man, but was opposed to it. He was a man who supported the Hon. Adam Beck (applause) in his own constituency.

I dared to go up in the face of all the people of this country and back the man who stood behind Adam Beck, (cheers), and I would do it to-morrow if I had my way.

Capt. Tom Wallace recognized Mr. Maclean as a man who stood for the rights of the people. He was one of the best men in the west area.

Mr. Maclean was sure if there was a want of confidence motion and a majority of one in the house of commons Mr. Maclean would stand on tip-toe to turn out the government.

Mr. Baird repeated he was very glad to see Mr. Maclean was not in touch with the leader.

Mr. Baird said his reason for moving the motion was simply with the desire to be fair to Mr. Borden and Mr. Maclean, when there was such unanimity in the convention to correct the impression in some quarters that they were not in sympathy with Mr. Borden.

He believed the Conservative party was big enough to take in the labor party. He thought an explanation was due to Mr. Borden for the part he took in supporting the labor candidate in London.

Referred as Unnecessary. Messrs. Macdonald and others objected to the resolution as unnecessary and liable to be misunderstood.

R. G. Agnew thought it was their duty to speak up and voice their support to Mr. Borden. He did not intend to do Mr. Maclean any harm. It was his intention to vote for Mr. Maclean as a good Conservative, and not a Liberal, as many people were saying. There were Liberals who were saying he was a good Liberal for them and they would vote for him.

Mr. Baird said his reason for moving the motion was simply with the desire to be fair to Mr. Borden and Mr. Maclean, when there was such unanimity in the convention to correct the impression in some quarters that they were not in sympathy with Mr. Borden.

He believed the Conservative party was big enough to take in the labor party. He thought an explanation was due to Mr. Borden for the part he took in supporting the labor candidate in London.

Referred as Unnecessary. Messrs. Macdonald and others objected to the resolution as unnecessary and liable to be misunderstood.

R. G. Agnew thought it was their duty to speak up and voice their support to Mr. Borden. He did not intend to do Mr. Maclean any harm. It was his intention to vote for Mr. Maclean as a good Conservative, and not a Liberal, as many people were saying. There were Liberals who were saying he was a good Liberal for them and they would vote for him.

Mr. Baird said his reason for moving the motion was simply with the desire to be fair to Mr. Borden and Mr. Maclean, when there was such unanimity in the convention to correct the impression in some quarters that they were not in sympathy with Mr. Borden.

He believed the Conservative party was big enough to take in the labor party. He thought an explanation was due to Mr. Borden for the part he took in supporting the labor candidate in London.

W. F. MACLEAN

There is a very fair prospect of the Conservative party carrying the country. The indications in the west area are good. They are good in the east. In Ontario I think the people are more devoted than ever to the Conservative party and to the policies of the National Policy and Sir John Macdonald.

There is nothing so important as the rights of the people and the rights of the people and their happiness. Mr. Maclean declared.

The London Episode. Mr. Maclean explained in a spirited reference his action in supporting the late member in the London election against Mr. Beattie.

Mr. Beattie was not a public ownership man, but was opposed to it. He was a man who supported the Hon. Adam Beck (applause) in his own constituency.

I dared to go up in the face of all the people of this country and back the man who stood behind Adam Beck, (cheers), and I would do it to-morrow if I had my way.

Capt. Tom Wallace recognized Mr. Maclean as a man who stood for the rights of the people. He was one of the best men in the west area.

Mr. Maclean was sure if there was a want of confidence motion and a majority of one in the house of commons Mr. Maclean would stand on tip-toe to turn out the government.

Mr. Baird repeated he was very glad to see Mr. Maclean was not in touch with the leader.

Mr. Baird said his reason for moving the motion was simply with the desire to be fair to Mr. Borden and Mr. Maclean, when there was such unanimity in the convention to correct the impression in some quarters that they were not in sympathy with Mr. Borden.

He believed the Conservative party was big enough to take in the labor party. He thought an explanation was due to Mr. Borden for the part he took in supporting the labor candidate in London.

Referred as Unnecessary. Messrs. Macdonald and others objected to the resolution as unnecessary and liable to be misunderstood.

R. G. Agnew thought it was their duty to speak up and voice their support to Mr. Borden. He did not intend to do Mr. Maclean any harm. It was his intention to vote for Mr. Maclean as a good Conservative, and not a Liberal, as many people were saying. There were Liberals who were saying he was a good Liberal for them and they would vote for him.

Mr. Baird said his reason for moving the motion was simply with the desire to be fair to Mr. Borden and Mr. Maclean, when there was such unanimity in the convention to correct the impression in some quarters that they were not in sympathy with Mr. Borden.

He believed the Conservative party was big enough to take in the labor party. He thought an explanation was due to Mr. Borden for the part he took in supporting the labor candidate in London.

Referred as Unnecessary. Messrs. Macdonald and others objected to the resolution as unnecessary and liable to be misunderstood.

R. G. Agnew thought it was their duty to speak up and voice their support to Mr. Borden. He did not intend to do Mr. Maclean any harm. It was his intention to vote for Mr. Maclean as a good Conservative, and not a Liberal, as many people were saying. There were Liberals who were saying he was a good Liberal for them and they would vote for him.

Mr. Baird said his reason for moving the motion was simply with the desire to be fair to Mr. Borden and Mr. Maclean, when there was such unanimity in the convention to correct the impression in some quarters that they were not in sympathy with Mr. Borden.

He believed the Conservative party was big enough to take in the labor party. He thought an explanation was due to Mr. Borden for the part he took in supporting the labor candidate in London.

Referred as Unnecessary. Messrs. Macdonald and others objected to the resolution as unnecessary and liable to be misunderstood.

R. G. Agnew thought it was their duty to speak up and voice their support to Mr. Borden. He did not intend to do Mr. Maclean any harm. It was his intention to vote for Mr. Maclean as a good Conservative, and not a Liberal, as many people were saying. There were Liberals who were saying he was a good Liberal for them and they would vote for him.

SIMPSON COMPANY LIMITED

H. H. Fudger, President; J. Wood, Manager. Monday, Sept. 28

Auto Coats, Hunting Coats and Waterproofs

The auto coats are worth $10 and $12 even in a dry spell, but Tuesday's little lot will go at $7.50. When the cold wet days of fall come these coats will prove a mighty fine investment at this figure.

Note the hunting coats and waterproof coats. Men's High-Grade Feather Weight Auto Coats, strictly waterproof, made from pure gum rubber, in slate grey shade, on fine tan drill, finished deep rubber facing on bottom, full 32 inch long, buttons up close, wind protection in cuff of sleeves, seams piped with canvas, very light weight, satisfactory protection in any rain, all sizes, Tuesday $7.50.

Men's Dark Grey and Fawn Rubberized Covert Cloth Raincoats, these coats are full 52 inches long, made with silk velvet collar and raised seams, inside seams are sewn and finished with rubber tape, deep rubber facing around the bottom, they are nicely tailored and absolutely waterproof, Tuesday $3.00.

Men's Heavy Weight Khaki Duck Hunting Coats, finished with fawn corduroy collar, five outside pockets, two large inside game pockets, fastened with patent glove fasteners, sizes 36 to 46, extra special value $2.50.

Some Attractions for Men

Tuesday in the furnishing section of the men's store.

1000 Men's Silk Neckwear, four-in-hands, flowing ends, strings, 1 1/2 to 2 inches wide, plain colors and fancy patterns, reg. 45c and 50c, Tuesday 19c.

500 Men's Black and White Working Shirts, good strong roomy bodies with pockets, sizes 14 to 16 1/2, reg. 50c, Tuesday 19c.

300 Men's Merino Underwear, for fall and winter wear, "Penman's" make, unshrinking, non-irritating, sizes 34 to 44, special Tuesday, 50c garment.

Men's Scotch Wool Underwear, double-breasted, shirts and drawers, natural shade, sizes 34 to 42, special Tuesday, 60c garment.

Felt Hats for Fall

Throw away your straw hat. Get a felt. Here at $1.00 are fedoras no man need feel ashamed of. And at $1.50 you can buy a derby, up-to-date and stylish.

Soft hats, fedora, alpina or negligee $1.00. Derby Hats, 1908 fall shapes, $1.50.

It is a Time for a Change in Government. Your vote and influence are respectfully solicited for

TOM G. WALLACE Liberal-Conservative Candidate in CENTRE YORK
Including Townships Scarborough, Markham, Vaughan and Etobicoke; also the Villages of Markham, Richmond Hill, Woodbridge, Weston.
ELECTION MONDAY, 26 OCT.

$25

Central warehouse, heavy construction, good shipping, excellent service. H. H. WILLIS, Realty Brokers.

PROBS

NORTH CHEER BOB

3000 Hear Him Afternoon—podean S Government Rail

INGERSOLL, More welcome ev a political party of rain which be thoroly soaked to Oxford.

R. L. Borden ca had been well showers he wa the depot by lead to the residence l lunch. The may holiday in honor drove in from and a special tra from Tillsonburg.

The meeting wa downpour was he hour announced, ed out and gave er and his platfor J. Hanna, a weloc heartiness, in vical tendencies o

In his speech, condemnation of its toleration of Borden enlarged government over Trunk and the e influence from th I.C.R.; touched u and described th tion with constr bridge.

J. A. Coulter, tually introduce the local candid the Conservative than their oppo claiming credit, drought.

Little Eleano handsome bouq Dr. Cotteridge re Conservatives of Plan

Mr. Borden, w recent speaking, appealing to Lib man to stop th bringing about The Liberal pla Borden, must be servation, becau The only pledge had been fulfilli repel the Fran the past season go back on that

Dealing with wright's compla sive government with an unjust said the press creased the exp the expenditure all bounds wit great work hav

Mr. Borden p the evidence of mission. The r become so long ing to the oppos where to begin ones" were gi

"There was no ing money out to hand it over to obtain mone was his next p the one at th commission was $10,000,000 had ally by the gov

"If Sir Wilfrid work, every a Northwest will friends. The Quebec of the great b but $8,000,000 of the managem commission ar terference stin who did not t ada were any chan the peopl trial, who ha cess of their ownership of route project. Wilfrid Laurie per. The int ought not to be tacular effect, freight rates fa cturers, and cold storage, ations that ou of in carrying

Sir Wilfrid ad does not British mark Borden. He farmers o bungling of this of German e every year British pro Mutual P

Mr. Borden wa coming fr ence would that many ha established because they soon be brow got their go Cont

DR. SOPER-DR. WHITE

IN FOLLOWING DISEASES OF MEN
Files Epilepsy Dyspepsia
Asthma Syphilis Rheumatism
Catarrh Stricture Loss of Urinary Diabetes Emulsion Skin Diseases
Rupture Varicose Veins Kidney Affections
One visit advisable, but if impossible send history and two-cent stamp for free reply.
Office: Cos. Adelaide and Toronto Streets.
Hours: 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., 2 p.m.
to 5 p.m. Sundays 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.
DRS. SOPER and WHITE
7 Colborne St., Toronto, Ontario.