	ALONZO - ALENDOLL Reinforced Shape-Staying Semi-ready Pocket We have a patent pocket that holds its shape always—the picture does not	In accepting the place, however, the Nevada promoter made it clear that he would step aside if Jeffries and Johnson agreed on another man. This settlement came when it looked as if the meeting would end in another dead- lock, and after bltter words had passed between Johnson and Sam Berger, Jef- tries' manager. Johnson first suggested Rickard, but Berger refused to consider the Nevada man, saying he would not accept him on account of his inexperience. The colored champion declared he would stand pat ou thethree men he had mentioned-Jack Welch, Eddie Graney and Rickard. Ber- ger indignantly replied that he would isave between Berger and Johnson, and ugly words were used by Berger, and threats were made by Johnson. Berger stood up, as if to leave. "So you want Rickard, do you?" he queried of Johnson. "Yes," came the answer. "Well at right" replied theres and	as well as those who now have charge of him, have been fearful that dope or drugs of some sort may be used on Johnson as time for the fight draws mear. "No chances will be taken any- way," Sutton said fo-day. "Johnson offered me a big salary to come to him on the coast and take charge of his food, but I de- clined to go unless I could perform the services free. I am going to take charge of his food, will cook it myself and see that there is nothing n any way harmful handed to him.	<section-header><section-header><section-header><section-header><section-header><section-header></section-header></section-header></section-header></section-header></section-header></section-header>

This is where good tailoring tells—and it's where much of the difference lies between Semi-ready tailoring and ready-	lized that one of the difficult points had been settled. Rickard made the following statement: "To straighten out this affair. I am will- ing to act, provided my name is agreeable to all concerned. I don't want to act, and I hope that before the fight takes place Jeffries and Johnson will agree on an- other man. If they can come to terms, I am perfectly willing to step down and out. But if they can reach no other agreement I will not back down." In spite of the agreement, there is a feeling among those who attended the session that the last word has nt been said, and that the referee question will be again taken up. It was runored to- night that to give the impression every- is in working order, Rickard was named until the contestants could look the field over. Berger during the negotiations lost his head and missed many a chance to score a teiling point. From the start he showed his temper. Towards the close, it	when he comes here Johnson makes Sutton's place his headquarters. It was the coolness of Sutton which prevented a rough-and-tumble fight between Johnson and Sam Langford here some months ago. Langford had been trying to get an audience with form on long enough to post a forfeit and challenge him. They met accident- ally in a negro club in the hill dis- trict, and Langford, after some sharp exchange of words, wanted to fight it out right there. His language was so bitter that Johnson threw off his coat, but Sutton counselled him not to fight, as it would be a lasting dis- grace to mix in a club fight even with Langford, and Johnson subsided.
