The Shipments of Barley by the St. Lawrence River last year consisted of several thousand bushels to Halifax. The exports by that route in the two preceding years were small. Figures for comparison by weeks could not be readily procured. The Shipments by Chambly Canal in 1862 footed up to 652,144 bushels,—being 33,930 bushels more than in the year just ended; while the export by that route in 1861 was 239,829 bushels. The entire Shipments in 1863 (including 11,625 bushels to Quebec) amounted to 709,239 bushels,—nearly all for consumpt in the United States.

Inspection of Barley.—The Inspection of Barley in 1863 consisted of 2,450 bushels “No. 1,” and 1,750 bu els “No. 2.”

The following quotations represent transactions on the dates given, but they have been reduced from the price in shillings and pence, and from the minot measure to the bushel of 48 lbs. Shipping lots had occasionally been held at higher values:—
