no apparent embarrassment. Miss Cadot was in charge during the absence of President Smith. Margery was summoned for an interview.

The explanation. She was asked to explain her presence in the room. She said that she had returned to give the information asked for, but seeing she was not there had decided to leave a note and had felt the pocketbook to see if it contained a pencil. Finding none she had immediately left the room. She was questioned concerning her visits to the rooms of other girls with whom she was not acquainted and explained that she occupied their rooms while her own room was being straightened up by the maid. It was a common practice among the girls. One of her friends missed stamps after she had hidden them in Margery's presence, she was told. She said she remembered nothing about the stamps. She volunteered to stay at Bryn Mawr over the vacation that was about to begin, in order that the thing might be straightened up, but was told that she would have an opportunity to explain after the holiday.

The Marked Bill. As Margery was leaving the room she was asked by Proctor Kennard to show what money she carried. She emptied her purse, which contained the bill that

Secretary of Royal Automobile Club, Home of Canadian Officers in London, Passes Through St. John.

Known to hundreds of Canadian officers to whom he was a friend in need during the war, Sir Julian Ord, secretary of the Royal Automobile Club, London, left Canada on Saturday on his way home to England, after a six months' holiday spent in the West Indies, California and Canada. Accompanied by Lady Ord, he sailed from St. John on the Canadian Pacific liner "Montcalm" for Liverpool.

At the Place Viger Hotel, during a brief sojourn in Montreal, Sir Julian said that his stay in Canada, which he was visiting for the first time in thirty-five years, had been a constant succession of meetings with old friends. Those friendships were not all made thirty-five years ago, but between the years 1914 and 1919, when the Royal Automobile Club in London became the home, for Canadian, Australian, New Zealanders, South Africans, Newfoundlanders, West Indians and others from less prominent sections of the British Empire used the club in common, being granted the privileges of honorary membership by the directors of the R. A. C., and officers of the Imperial force were also welcomed.

Sir Julian said that the club and the officers who used it owed a debt of gratitude to the king. After the directors of the club had evolved the plan of making it a home for overseas officers and had obtained the sanction of its members, the board of works intervened and notified them that the building, which is one of the most imposing in Pall Mall, was to be commandeered to house office staffs. A delegation from the club was able to make a personal appeal to the king, with the result that after intervention by His Majesty the club for officers became a fact.

BLEW OUT THE BOSS WITH FUSILADE OF CANS AND BEER

Montreal, April 12 — Remarkable things followed the explosion of some oil left in a tank which was being repaired by three workmen in the cellar of a grocery shop occupied by J. A. Fortier, at 634 Craig street east yesterday.

The men were knocked down and the interior of the shop practically wrecked while the proprietor, Fortier, was run out into the street together with an assortment of tomato and other canned goods and some bottles of beer.

A confirmation service was held last night in St. James church when the rector, Rev. H. A. Cody, presented twenty candidates, eleven men and boys, nine women and girls. The rite was administered by his lordship Bishop Aulardson who gave an inspiring address. The choir led in the singing and there was a large congregation present.

Boyd Andrews, charged with a serious offence, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon under the speedy trials act before Judge Armstrong in the office of the jail in King street east. He was the remanded for sentence.

DUKE OF YORK SPEAKER AT THE LARKIN DINNER

London, April 11—Hon. Peter C. Larkin, the new high commissioner for Canada in London, was given a splendid reception at the Canada Club dinner here tonight. The dinner had been arranged as an occasion for the high commissioner to make his first public appearance in his official capacity, and it was a great success. Mr. Larkin was deeply touched by the good will and spontaneity of the greeting extended to him. Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, who was born at Whitby, (Ont.), very happily presided at the banquet. His Royal Highness, the Duke of York, was one of the guests.

When Will There Be A Disarmament of Dining Tables?

Suppose everybody would recognize the fact that there's no gain but much loss in keeping up hostilities with the stomach!

Suppose the ancient aggravation of improper food on indignant digestive organs should be settled with guarantees of sensible diet and tranquil digestion!

The saving would be beyond all possibility of counting.

Yet millions go on declaring war on the stomach and accepting war in return—loading up on starchy, heavy, unbalanced and highly-seasoned food at breakfast or lunch—and wondering why comfort, happiness and efficiency are out of reach.

Grape-Nuts makes a friend of the taste and an ally of the stomach.

There's a charm and satisfaction to this delicious food which prompts appetite to say, "There's a meal!" and digestion to answer, "Thank goodness, here's peace at last!"

Grape-Nuts is the perfected nutriment of wheat and malted barley—sweet, crisp, and wonderfully nourishing. It digests quickly, and provides the necessary elements, including the vital mineral salts, for body, nerve and brain.

Order Grape-Nuts from your grocer today, and let a delighted taste pass a treaty of peace along to an enthusiastic digestion and assimilation.
