REPORT NO TROUBLE GETTING FARMS AND AT REASONABLE PRICES

The provincial Farm Settlement Board met this morning in the government rooms, Church street, and the session being held this afternoon. Chairman, T. W. Butler, Secretary James Gilchrist and A. W. Hay were present. Every afternoon the members reported on the farms they had inspected since the last meeting, and this afternoon they will map out their programme for the next few months.

So far there has been no difficulty in finding all the farms they want, all within a few miles of a town or village, and at low prices. They have met a few owners who appeared to think that they could hold up the board for stiff prices, but there was no need to dicker with them as the members are finding all the farms they want at reasonable prices. The latest farms to be inspected included a group of eight in Charlotte county, within eight miles of St. Stephen, averaging 100 acres each, with buildings and orchards, and at prices ranging from $72 to $140.

Messrs. Gilchrist and Hay will leave this evening for Westmorland county to look over some farms offered there, and will proceed to the North Shore, on the same mission.

Before May 1 the board expects to settle at least 100 families on abandoned farms in various parts of the province.
