

Select Your Overcoat

from lines that embody both conservative and extreme styles—then, by comparison, you can justly decide what you want, and be permanently satisfied.

Our lines of WINTER OVERCOATS embrace the newest styles in Convertible Collar garments, both single and double breasted models, in popular rough fabrics and a wide range of shades. Also the more conservative and equally correct Chesterfield style in black and grey, with velvet collar.

Every Overcoat distinctly well tailored and worthy of our highest recommendation.

MONTH IN JAIL FOR TRIFLE

Vienna, Nov. 18.—A business man named Max Trinczes has been condemned to a month's imprisonment at Lemberg on the charge of having defrauded the post office of four cents.

In Austria one is allowed to return letters which one does not accept, to the sender without paying any extra postage.

Her Trinczes had received four postcards from a firm announcing that they had sent goods ordered by him. As he had not ordered anything he wrote on the margins, "Return to the sender; nothing ordered," and threw them into the letter box.

The postal authorities regarded the words, "nothing ordered," as a new communication, but instead of asking for the double postage they prosecuted him on a criminal charge. The first court regarded the offence as merely formal and inflicted the minimum sentence of twenty-four hours but the public prosecutor appealed and the higher court increased the penalty to one month's hard labor.

BATHURST YOUTH DEAD

Chatham, N. B., Nov. 18.—(Special)—Clarence Power, aged sixteen, son of James Power, of Bathurst, and a student at St. Thomas' College, succumbed to an attack of spinal meningitis last night in the Hotel Dieu. He had been ill only a week but during the last two days his life was despaired of. His mother had been in town for several days on account of his illness. He is survived by several brothers and sisters.

SHOCKING STORY FROM WINNIPEG

Woman, in Husband's Absence, Made Slave of Negro Landlord. She Tells Court.

(Canadian Press)

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 18.—Declaring that by threats of murdering her and driving her children into the streets to starve, she was forced into a life of revolting slavery in the Chinese section, Mrs. Kate Kalk, a slim and pretty white woman, told a ghastly story in the assizes court yesterday.

Princess Cleveland, a burly colored barber, is accused of being the woman's driver, forcing her into slavery, in the absence of her husband.

The witness made a terrible story. At first she made a terrible story. At first she made a terrible story.
