GENERAL MATTERS.

In previous reports I have outlined so fully the work of the several departments of the school that I deem it unnecessary to specifically refer to each of them in this publication, but it affords me pleasure to state that the educational work of these departments is being carried on efficiently and to my entire satisfaction.

Mr. Fletcher and Miss Hunter in the school department, Mr. Chisholm, Mr. Gray and Miss Sheraton in the musical department, Mr. Reid in the tuning department, Miss Creighton in the girls' work department, Mr. Baird in the boys' work department, Mr. Bowser in the technical school, and Serg.-Major Bailey in the gynmasium, form a strong staff of capable and zealous instructors, under whose tuition the blind of the Maritime Pr rior in no re Great Britai
