Gilliland & Sewell was begun this morning. There was a large number of persons present to witness the landing of the animals. AN Epidemic of Theft. It is to be hoped that we shall not have a bad week on the Miramichi as the past one. On Saturday night an Island schooner lying at the east side of the Point Esquimaux wharf, was visited by thieves, who stole two tons containing 72 lbs. butter and a ham. The same, or another party stole quite a large quantity of goods from another craft in port while sundry other craft were raided more or less.

About the same time a man from on board one of the vessels in port was met on the sidewalk near the Ferry by three young men, who attacked and robbed him of a valuable fur cap.

On Tuesday night another theft was committed, but this time, it was, evidently, by one of the crew of a vessel in port. A box of goods was stolen from the hold of a vessel in port. The goods were stolen from the hold of a vessel in port. The goods were stolen from the hold of a vessel in port.

Triple-Expansion. The World, referring last week to Mr. Nelson's little steamer, intimated that the boats on the Miramichi having triple expansion engines were not a success. The World is simply high pressure, and that the cause of the engine not running well was fouling in the boiler and water in the cylinders.

We do not, of course, know how much study the World has given the theory and science of the steam engine, or whether it knows the difference between a triple expansion engine and a compound engine. The World is simply high pressure, and that the cause of the engine not running well was fouling in the boiler and water in the cylinders.

Under ordinary circumstances, the statements of the paper referred to are only negatively harmful, for those best acquainted with its idiosyncrasies make every proper allowance, considering their source, but such an attack upon a local interest, affecting the credit of the port and more than one of its leading industries—coming from a home source—should be corrected, lest people abroad who are beginning to look to the Miramichi as a model steamboat centre, might be turned aside to other places where inferior work is produced.
