Mr. Burke says he once raced at Boston and gave 1 1/2 miles handicap in eight miles. He was at Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., with Tommy Connell, who brought him out at the runner, and has also trained with Ernie Herjberg, and been under Mike Murphy's charge. He has beaten Connell, Orton and other fast runners and has lots of medals and trophies. Though English born, Mr. Burke was through the Cuban war, having volunteered at Jersey, and he has a wound on his leg as a souvenir. He does not know whether or not he will remain on the Erna. The tidings spread rapidly over the community Sunday morning of the death of Hon. H. H. Fuller during the previous night, about 11.30. The general expression mingled with the great regret was that "it must have been very sudden." Subsequently it was learned that Mr. Fuller had been last Monday fishing in company with Dr. Farrell, at East River; that he had contracted a cold from which he suffered but did not remain in the house until Friday and on Saturday fatal symptoms of pneumonia developed.

Mr. Fuller was nearly 72 years old. He was born in 1828, his father was a native of Halifax, being deputy-provost-marshal of Cape Breton, at that time a separate Province; his mother was also a native of Halifax of Irish parentage. After receiving a good English education, partly in this city he entered the hardware establishment of James Wallace & Co., and subsequently became a partner in the firm of E. when you are in danger from disease. But Nature has her own danger signals. When pain shoots like a lightning flash along the nerves, when the heart beats feebly or irregularly, when there is unnatural fullness after eating, sour risings, headache, coated tongue or irritable temper, then Nature is plucking you by the sleeve and calling "stop!" To neglect these warnings is dangerous. Derangement of the stomach and its allied organs is but the beginning of trouble for the whole body.

As a complete cure for disease of the stomach and the organs of digestion and nutrition Doctor

Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery stands without an equal. It purifies the blood, cleanses the system of poisonous accumulations, nourishes the starved and builds up the entire body, blood and bone, muscle and nerve.

"It is with pleasure that I tell you what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pellets have done for me," writes Mrs. T. M. Palmer of Peede, Kaufman Co., Texas.

Everything I ate would put me in distress. I grew so weak and nervous my heart would flutter. I could not do any kind of work. Now I feel as though I would starve to death. I have gained strength, and can eat anything."

Mr. Kilcup was married May 24, 1883, to Fanny, daughter of the late Wm. Thompson, Brooklyn. He was forty years of age, ten years ago was Steward at King's College, in which position he was deservedly popular.

Rev. Avery A. Shaw preached his last sermon for the present to an immense congregation on Sunday evening in the Baptist Church. His sermon was not altogether a farewell. After the service, and as the congregation were leaving, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw had a farewell shake of the hand with many as they passed out. On Monday morning they left here to spend a few days at Berwick, following by the good wishes of very many, of all denominations, in which the editor and his staff most cordially join. A large number were at the station to say "Good-Bye" to the worthy pastor and his excellent lady.

On Wednesday morning last Mr. Oscar J. Kirkpatrick was quietly married to Miss Beattie O'Brien Richardson, at the home of Mr. Hugh Richardson, by the Rev. J. A. Mosher, in the absence of Rev. Henry Dickie, who was on a visit to his old home in Stewiacke. Only the immediate relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick were the recipients of many nice wedding gifts, including silver, glass and bric-a-brac. The bride's traveling dress was a very pretty one of mottled green and grey heavy cloth, with hat of green and blue of the new pastelle shades. Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick left in the early express, en route to St. John's, to visit the groom's relatives. They intend, to visit the groom's home at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick were formerly one of our enterprising young merchants, but recently sold out his interests with a view of going West and will leave next month. Drink Only Good Teas.
 There's a reason for it. Cheap teas are not only flavorless, and require more tea to the cup to produce any taste, but moreover, are often artificially colored and flavored, and are sometimes most dangerous. A brand of teas like the Lady's Elephant Brand is safe, as its packers' business reputation is staked on its purity.
