Place the opposite side to hold it by. Place the opposite side to the edge of the woodwork, slipping the transple velvet, with a superior smile. "I think it's not bad; but I just love Carmen."

The conductor blushed all over his plain features.

"Sorry, miss," he murmured apologetically: "I'm married. You might try the driver, though; he's a single man!"

A shirtwaist box in a bathroom will fill a want that is often felt. Very often the room is too small for both a chair and a hamper for soiled clothes. A shirtwaist or utility box will answer both purposes and look better. If not needed for soiled clothes it will do for clean towels.

Which is his HERE'S no mistaking the expression of a man whose farm is well "improved." He looks as prosperous as he feels. It isn't the size of a place that counts most, nor its actual dollars-and-cents value. It's rather that "well-kept," thrifty appearance; the appearance that makes you think of fat stock, and well-filled barns, and comfortable, contented living. Neat, permanent improvements go further in giving a farm this appearance than any other feature. Concrete Is The Ideal Material for such improvements. It is neat, harmonizing with its surroundings in the country. Everlasting, it cannot be injured by fire, frost, wind or lightning. Age—instead of causing it to decay—actually makes it stronger.

Concrete never needs repair—first cost is last cost. New improvements can be added year after year with less expense than would be required to keep wooden structures repair.

Concrete walks, feeding floors, dairy-barns, ice-houses, root-cellars, well-curbing, nce posts, silos—which of these does your farm need most? Whatever you want to did, it's best to build it of concrete.

Do you want to know more about this subject of permanent farm improvements? Then write for your copy of "What The Farmer Can Do With Concrete." It's a book of 160 pages, telling how other farmers have used the "handy material" to good advantage. Published to sell at 50c. a copy, it is now being offered free to all farmers who write for it.
