EMPRESS INQUIRY

(Continued from page 1.) The vessel was overloaded with 10,400 tons of coal on board, but Lord Mersey could not see the reason for the question.

Mr. Aspinall remarked that all he had questioned was the speed of the vessel. Mr. Haight then asked Mr. McAlister if it were not true that the payment of hire ceased when a vessel was damaged, and the witness said it did when the vessel was out of commission for twelve hours or more.

William Moir, an assistant bedroom steward and night watchman, said that when the collision occurred he lit emergency lamps and called the passengers to the promenade decks.

Colonel G. W. Meserve was the recipient of a silver and gold auxiliary officers' decoration with a green badge from the Canadian department of military honors.
