Mentioned for Gallant Work in 26th Battalion

Filling of Lt. Col. West's New Regiment Should Not Be Difficult Task

BUSINESS MEN'S PLATOON FOR 115TH PROGRESSES

Committee Working on List of Names of Eligible Men—New Recruits Duly Cold in Stiff Drill—Gen. McLean's Chief Staff Officer

Thursday, Feb. 10.—While for the past few months the detachment quartered at West St. John has been colloquially known as the 140th Battalion, it was not until yesterday that the official name was made and hereafter the men at West St. John are actually and officially a distinct and separate unit from the 140th Battalion.

With all the official red tape and military manoeuvres set out in the military code book the transfer was made. The parade statement yesterday showed that the 140th Battalion now has 888 men and a renewed effort will now be made to fill up Lieutenant-Colonel Bopp's Battalion as rapidly as possible. Captain Harper who has been attached to the 140th Battalion since the 21st of January, has been appointed paymaster of the 140th, reported yesterday for duty and immediately went to work in his new department. The staff officers are very busy at the present time finishing up the details of transfer, but everything was in a measure prepared for the change which facilitated the operation considerably so that clerical records, etc., were concerned.

Now with a paymaster and the regimental physician, Captain (Dr.) D. C. Maholin, on duty, the men of the Battalion have no lack of "company green" will be forthcoming steadily and the health of the Battalion will be well attended to. Yesterday the boys spent the day in routine drill and inspection work. The quartermaster of the 140th Battalion was at West St. John yesterday and transferred all the clothing and other equipment to the 140th Battalion.

The 140th Band.

Bandmaster James W. Preston of the 140th Battalion, is making rapid progress with the organization of his file and drum band. Twenty-four members of the Battalion already have joined the band and he expects to have at least thirty-five before the end of the week. So far instruments have not been provided and the work is preparatory. It is believed that friends of the Battalion will see that the men who are willing to furnish the music will not be left without the instruments. With the material he has now the bandmaster expects to have the band ready to go about their work like old veterans in the afternoon routine drill was indulged in under the company commanders. The following privates were recently elevated to lance corporals: Private L. Moffatt, Private D. A. McDonald, Private W. H. Hale and Private R. E. Seely.

Working on Business Men's Platoon.

The business men's platoon committee of the Citizens' Recruiting Committee is busy engaged in trying to get so that such a detachment for the 115th is to be assured. The committee is experiencing some difficulty in getting a full list of the names of young business men of the city, but when this is secured a complete canvas, by way of personal letter, will be made and it is hoped that there will be no difficulty in raising the proposed business men's platoon for Lieutenant-Colonel Wedderburn's Battalion.

Col. McLean Returns.

Colonel H. W. McLean, commandant of the new military district of New Brunswick, returned to St. John yesterday on a visit to Halifax for consultation with the headquarters of the sixth military division. While in Halifax he made the necessary arrangements for taking over the command of the district.

Lieutenant-Colonel Powell of Halifax will come to St. John today to take up the command of the district will be transferred and Colonel McLean will assume actively his new duties. Several years ago this province was a separate military district and St. John was the headquarters of the district. The change is the result of a reorganization of the military districts of the province.

When the staff organization is complete the command of the district will be transferred and Colonel McLean will assume actively his new duties.
