AULD GRANNY'S WAG-AT-THE-WA'.

At a cosy bit nook nae far from the fire,
There hings a bit clocky I aye will admire;
It's no for its value—its worth is but sma'—
It's only an old fashioned wag-at-the-wa'.

It sometimes goes wrang wi' the stour frae the wheel,
But still it can keep the time winderfu' weel,
And aye when the oor strikes a cock gies a craw,
And we ca' it auld granny's wag-at-the-wa'.

For while on her death-bed my auld granny lay,
I was called to her bedside, and this she did say—
"O weel you ken, Jamie my gear is but sma"
But I'll leave you, my laddie, the wag-at-the wa'."

I was but a wee callan when auld granny deid,
But I mind weel her words, wi' her hand on my heid—
"You'll be a man, Jamie, when granny's awa'
But you'll keep for her sake the auld wag-at-the-wa.

"It will bring you in mind, when you look at its face,
That you're hurrying on to your last resting place;
But waste nae the minutes, although they be sma',
But aye be as eident's the wag-at-the-wa'."

An' noo am an auld man o' threescore an' ten
Wi' a family a' grown up to be women and men;
But the lads an' the lasses, though dressed up fu' brsw,
Are never ashamed o' the wag-at-the-wa."

NAE ILL.

Other people have their faults,
And so have ye as well,
But all ye chance to see or hear
You have no right to tell.

If ye canna speak o' good,
Take care, and see, and feel,
Earth has all too much o' woe,
And not enough o' weal.

Be careful that ye make the strife
Wi' meddling tongue and brain,
For ye will find enough to do
If ye but look at hame.

If ye canna speak o' good,
O, dinna speak at all,
For there is grief and woe enough
On this terrestrial ball.

If ye should feel like picking flaws,
Ye better go, I ween,
And read the book that tells ye all
About the mote and beam.

Dinna lend a ready ear
To gossip or to strife,
Or, perhaps, 'twill make for ye
Nae funny thing of life.

O, dinna add to others woe,
Nor mock it with your mirth,
But give ye kindly sympathy
To suffering ones o' earth.

THE REASONS WHY.

You ask me why I married,
Why I took the nuptial tie?
Because too long I tarried,
And years were passing by;
My schoolmates all were married,
To follow suit must I,
You ask me why I married—
That is the reason why.

You ask me why I married,
Why I quit my single life?
It's burdens long I've carried—
I resolved to get a wife,
To honor, cherish, and to love,
And on her word rely,
And in the happy circle move—
That is the reason why.

You ask me why I married?
Because my clothes were rent,
My mind was often worried,
When I had not a cent:
But now I have good woolen hose—
The winter winds may sigh,
I've always buttons on my clothes—
That is the reason why.

You ask me why I married?
Why, to settle down in life,
To get a cosy cottage home,
To suit my little wife,
Where we can pass the time away,
When happier days draw nigh,
Where we can spend our holiday—
These are the reasons why.

A RUNNING DOWN SHIPPING CASE.

At Quebec a decision has been recently given by Mr. O'Kill Stuart, Judge of Admiralty Court in the case of the "Eros" vs. the "Gordon." The "Eros" was at anchor and the "Gordon," coming down with wind and tide, struck her on the bow and inflicted the damage complained of. There was no dispute about the fact, nor any question about fault on the part of the "Eros." The only dispute was whether the owners of the "Gordon" were relieved from responsibility by the presence of the pilot on board. As to that, it was shown that the captain was below when the "Gordon" came in sight of the "Eros" and only reached the deck a moment before the collision. The mate and the pilot were both in a cabin on deck, and the alarm was first given accidentally by the steward; there being at the time no lookout on deck. The Judge held that the presence of a pilot exonerated the owners, for mischief done by a ship when—but only when—the officers and crew had committed to neglect. It was the pilot's duty to navigate the vessel; but it was the duty of the captain to take care that there were proper lookouts, and men to work the ship with proper celerity. Here there was nothing of this sort, and the ship, therefore, could not escape responsibility. Judgement was therefore, given for the plaintiff.

PRESENCE OF MIND.—The Boston Advertiser says that the inmates of the Winthrop House in that city were startled on Monday morning by the rushing of a woman in flames through one of the main halls. With wonderful presence of mind, she opened a closet door and leaped into a set tub of about two feet in depth, turning on the water from both hot and the cold faucets, and curling down into the mingling smoke and flame before any one could reach her. The servants hastened with water to quench the embers which were catching the carpet in all directions, while a gentleman occupying a room on the same floor leaped for the closet door, which she had closed. On his opening it she fell forward in a swoon. The flames were extinguished, and she was taken to a bed where it was found that her injuries will keep her an invalid for many days. Her hands, wrists, body, and lower limbs were badly crisped. She was preparing to go out for a walk, and in reaching for something to come in contact with a gas jet. Not noticing it at the time, she sat down on a sofa. On rising in a few moments, the flames burst out completely enveloping her.

Iron in the Blood

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the System, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

My body was greatly emaciated, and the general impression was that I had not long to live. My cough and my Night Sweats disappeared, and I am now in the enjoyment of excellent health. Many of my friends to whom I have recommended the Elixir have experienced equally remarkable results.
