

n's nature—
at our grand-
A wise and
ent end—Dr.
eat in thirty
s study and
r and Tear"
-Working in
al agitation
e mistress of
t, Nature—
f blood-tides
..... 161

y.
-Doing only
kerry, that kills
ashes with a
force it from
emotion and althfulness of
worry—Illus-Longevity of more tender
-The Better
..... 170

it"—Fancy-
clubs—Desul-
n and green
society girl—
taught to do
ne "learning
..... 185

r feminine aske the best of
-Diversity of vocation upon
ess—Why the

INDEX.

333

PAGE.

average woman "falls in love"—Mrs. Delany's versatility of employment and industry—Carlyle on women's right to study medicine—Missionary women physicians—Fringes of the stereotyped girl-life—Best interests of the home—promoted by the election and study of professions by women—Obloquy of old-maidism—Wise economy of time and forces in student, wife, mother, and housekeeper—Emily Bronte's German and bread-making—Knitting-work and poetic fancies—The "betweenities" ..... 199

CHAPTER XVI.—WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH THE MOTHERS?

The girl's home-coming—Must the mother be crowded out?—Outgrown—Upon the same floor with the kitchen—Unconsidered sacrifices—Grinding down from somebody to nobody—A sound principle—The mother's only earthly kingdom—"Only mother" ..... 215

CHAPTER XVII.—INDIAN SUMMER.

"The Love that Lived"—The highway of middle age—The forgotten habit of learning—Mrs. Holgate's failures—Settling down—"Exceptional women"—American society "too young"—The mother the girl's chosen as well as lawful confidante—An office never to be demitted—The "change of life": its symptoms, its compensations, and its hopes ..... 224

CHAPTER XVIII.—HOUSEKEEPING AND HOME-MAKING.

Mme. Demorest on woman's work—Cooking-lectures and salad-clubs—Why girls are not taught practical house-wifery—Illustrations—Need of moral courage in the mother—The father's reasonings—"The Story of Avis"—Excrescent development in man and in woman—Illustrations—The perfect intellect in either sex—Mary O'Reilly's love-letter—Peculiar trials of domestic life—A rule without exception—Happiness and blessedness ..... 235

CHAPTER XIX.—DRESS.

Curious statistics concerning cleanliness and dress—Dress a Fine Art in all ages—The world and women better and more sensible now than in St. Peter's time—Just taste in this Fine Art versus a lust for dress—Æsthetic morality of dress—Practical suggestions—Hygiene in dress—Dr.