

CAUGHT EMDEN AT HER WORK OF DESTRUCTION

German Ship Had Party Ashore Dismantling Wireless Plant When the Sydney Came up and Trounced Her

Sydney, N.S.W., Nov. 12.—The Naval Board here has received details of the fighting in which the German cruiser Emden was put out of commission.

The Emden arrived at Cocos Island and sent armed launches towing two boats ashore. Forty men with their officers and four maxims were landed in fifteen minutes and the landing party smashed the wireless instruments and engines of the plant.

In the meantime the Australian cruiser Sydney was sighted on the horizon and the Emden immediately put out to sea leaving the landing party, both boats and men, behind.

Badly Drubbed. The Emden started firing, her practice at first being excellent, but afterwards it fell off. She lost two funnels and took fire at the stem within one hour, while the Sydney was scarcely touched.

The Emden is now ashore North of Kolling Island and burning.

The captain of the Sydney says he found only thirty men on her. The landing party commandeered two months supplies left on schooners being longed to the owner of the Island. They are still at large.

It appears that the presence of the Emden was made known to the Sydney by a wireless from the Eastern Cable Company Staff on the Cocos Island.

Prisoners of War. London, Nov. 11.—Captain Von Muller, of the cruiser Emden and Prince Frans Joseph, of Hohenzollern, one of his officers, are both prisoners of war and neither is wounded, according to an announcement by the Admiralty this afternoon.

The Admiralty adds that the losses on the Emden are unofficially reported as two hundred killed and thirty wounded.

WEDDING BELLS

Hardy-Barrett

The C.E. Cathedral was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday last when Miss Lillian B. Hardy, this city, was united in holy wedlock to Mr. M. Barrett, of Twillingate.

The bride who was attired in a charming gown of blue silk and black beaver hat, was given away by her father.

Miss Marian Hardy, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, whilst Mr. A. Lloyd, 1st Petty Officer of H.M.S. Calypso, supported the groom.

Quite a large gathering of friends attended to witness the happy event. After the ceremony the party drove to the home of the bride's parents, where a great many guests assembled at the wedding feast.

The happy couple were the recipients of many useful and valuable presents, attesting the esteem in which both were held. Among the presents were gifts from the proprietors and employees of the Globe Steam Laundry, where the bride had been employed for seven or eight years.

Mr. Barrett is an esteemed employee of Messrs. Ayre & Sons, and was remembered by that firm on the auspicious occasion.

To the happy young couple The Mail and Advocate extends hearty wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

$2020 RECEIPTS OF C.L.B. BAZAAR

For First Night—Ideal Weather Made it Possible For a Large Number of Citizens to Attend

The C.L.B. Bazaar opened under very favorable conditions yesterday, and the day was most successful, the receipts at the closing hour, $2,020.00, which was gratifying.

There is still a long way to go, however, as the debt is $6,500.00, but many who were present yesterday will go again today with new comers and will help on the cause.

The weather was ideal, and even at the opening hour, early as it was there was a large attendance.

When His Excellency and Lady Davidson arrived they were received by a squad of lads and Old Comrades, with arms presented.

Lieut.-Col. Rendell escorted the Vice Regal party to the stage, accompanied by the Lord Bishop, Mrs. Gosling and Rev. Canon White.

Governor Spoke

The Governor delivered a most patriotic and interesting speech.

There were many prominent citizens in attendance, including Sir Edward and Lady Morris, Sir Joseph Outerbridge, nearly all the city Clergy, Mr. Tasker Cook, and many others.

His Excellency in his address made a touching reference to great war and showed how the sons and daughters of the Empire had rushed to the Motherland and that Newfoundland was doing her share well.

In the army and navy Newfoundland's sons are to be found, and already we are hearing splendid reports from them.

Owes Much to C.L.B.

The Colony owes much to the C. L. B. and the other Brigades of the city. When Volunteers were called for, the Brigades gave their armories, their officers came forward to instruct and the older members came forward to go and fight for their kind.

It was as members of such corps that the men of Great Britain owed their military training. They were not forced into it; they went gladly in their own free will.

Aim of Future

The support of the Brigades should be one of our chief aims in future. We should never forget the valuable aid they rendered the Empire.

His Excellency's address was repeatedly applauded.

The Bazaar being declared open, the ladies in charge of the stalls got busy and remained so until the closing hour.

The stalls which numbered sixteen were very attractively arranged.

Teas were served in the gymnasium and the patrons were given every satisfaction. There were no long waits, while the menu could not be improved upon.

The band was in attendance during the evening and rendered a number of pleasing selections.

GERMAN LOSS IN OFFICERS WAS 70 PER CT.

In the Recent Battles in Eastern Prussia—The Russians Made Big Captures of Men and Munitions

Paris, Nov. 11. (Official)—In the north during yesterday the enemy's effort remained without any result. A counter attack on the part of the Germans directed against Lombarsyde, Belgium, failed.

All the German's efforts to take Dixmude failed on the entire region of the left bank of the Yser. On the remainder of the front there was nothing very important.

The following statistical official communication was published yesterday at Petrograd:

During the recent battles in Eastern Prussia, the Germans lost seventy per cent of their officers. From the 23rd October up to the 5th November three hundred and twenty-three German officers were taken prisoners and 21,750 soldiers were also taken.

We have also captured four siege mortars, fifty-two cannons, fifty Maxim guns and a large quantity of war stuffs and provisions.

A resolution was passed that the Committee had had nothing to do with the paying of Capt. Timewell's salary. They had received a copy of the Minute of Council authorizing that he be paid $5 per day, but this they did not approve of nor the action of the Government in connection therewith. This resolution will be forwarded to the Government.

It was decided to assist several whose supporters have joined the Naval Reserve, leaving them in need of financial assistance.

The various stalls have all been replenished and much of the stock will be as bargains.

The admission fee is reduced today and as the goods have been marked down citizens would do well to attend.

MORE MEN AND MORE MONEY TO BE VOTED

(Continued from page 1.) Kitchener, Secretary of State for War, was consulted in everything which was done with his knowledge and approval. The expedition was materially the most useful factor in the conduct of the campaign.

The Premier pointed out that the number of men authorized by the three votes the present year, for regular army—not territorials—was 1,186,000. Of that total, all but 100,000 were already under service of the Crown.

Financial Proposals.

On Monday next, said Asquith, Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will lay before the Commons the financial proposals, including the question of a loan for which the Government is going to ask authority of the House.

On Tuesday there will be a vote of considerable dimensions and an additional vote for men.

Bonar Law promised the Government the undivided support of the Opposition while prosecuting the War. The Opposition leader said, we stand in a better position now than at the outbreak of the war.

Germany's Only Chance.

The only chance for victory for Germany was that she would win before the resources of the Allies were available. She has failed, and failed on both fronts.

Bonar Law emphasized the importance of the financial position, and said that already economic effects were being felt by Germany; this was shown by the rate of exchange. This would become more and more evident as time progressed.

Internal Dangers.

As soon as Germany realized she must be beaten, he declared her economic forces would work with a pressure of which there was no conception.

The leader of the Opposition wished to know why the British naval force went to Antwerp, and why the First Lord of the Admiralty, Churchill, accompanied the military expeditionary force, instead of Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, Minister of War, and some thing more about the naval engagement off the Chilean coast.

Appreciated U. S. Support.

Viscount Bryce, seconding the address in the House of Lords, referred appreciatively to the attitude of public opinion in the United States which, he declared, was a country able to judge wisely the questions at issue. It was upon moral grounds that its support was given and this was, therefore, the more highly prized.

There could be no talk of peace, he said, at present. A peace patched up now would be merely a hollow truce, during which the contending nations would begin to prepare for a renewal of the struggle and Europe, meanwhile, would be living in continual suspense and alarm.

The Earl of Crawford, Unionist, urged more strenuous methods to get rid of German spies. He asserted that in the vicinity of the great naval base of Rosyth they had a well-organized system by means of which they signalled ships at night.

They had also been discovered, he said, to have an admirably equipped private post system between Fife and ports of Germany.

C.L.B. Sale at Armory will continue to-day, admission 10 cents. Everything you can possibly want. Teas and Spupers served.—Nov 12, 11
