NO FEAR OF DEFEAT.

Hon. J. Douglas Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, spoke Monday evening before the Board of Trade at St. John, on the Canadian Fisheries in which he said they were the best in the world. In the course of his address he made it plain that it would not be wise to call on a federal general election during the war. At time his party had no fear of defeat if such an election was called on.

HIGHLAND BRIGADE
APPRECIATES KENTVILLE'S
GIFT OF APPLES

The following letter has been received by Mrs. McBride, President of the Red Cross Society, from Lieut. Colonel Phinney:

Witley Camp, South,
Surrey,
Oct. 24, 1916.

My Dear Mrs. McBride:
I am just dropping you a line to tell you how much the apples were appreciated during the voyage. When I told you that I considered apples would be the most acceptable gift the people of Kentville could give us, I certainly did not realize just how acceptable they would be. The apple parades aboard the boat were the most wonderful features of the trip, and every man thanked the people of Kentville a good many times over, if not perhaps actually yet by the expressions of delight and satisfaction when the barrels were rolled up from the hold of the ship and the heads were knocked in. Apples here cost about 5c a piece and they are of a variety that we would not attempt to eat in Nova Scotia. I found out the other day that John is only 2 1/2 miles from us. Mrs. Borden saw him a few days ago and says he is looking fine. I haven't been over to Bramshott yet but will endeavor to find him when I go over.

Excuse this scrawl as I am very busy and we have to do things in a hurry these days. With kind regards to Capt. McBride, Miss McBride and Mac,
Sincerely,
EARLE C. PHINNEY.

HUGHES ELECTION
IS IN DOUBT

Western States Swinging Toward Wilson

New York, Nov. 9.—A midnight, twenty-four hours after every newspaper, regardless of political affiliations, had heralded the election to the presidency of Charles Evans Hughes, the result of the election is still in doubt.

As early as eight o'clock last night the leading newspapers of New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Boston and other cities in various sections of the county definitely announced the election of Mr. Hughes. As the night wore on, whatever uncertainty of the election of the Republican candidate existed was gradually dissipated, and the country retired to rest without any doubt that the fourth of March would witness the inauguration of a new incumbent. But at three o'clock this morning the tide began to turn. Western states whose early returns showed a strong trend toward Mr. Hughes, began to develop Wilson strength. Gradually the Hughes majorities shrank, until states that were conceded to him first drifted into doubtful column and then into the group claimed by the president.

These sudden changes in the fortunes of the two great parties aroused in the people a degree of interest that even on election day was noticeably lacking. Great crowds began to gather in front of newspaper offices, where editions were issued at short intervals, recording the varying changes in the battle of ballots, and all day and all night tireless vigils were kept by anxious watchers at the various headquarters where the returns from the doubtful, or pivotal stages, California, North Dakota, Washington, West Virginia, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Mexico -- were closely and anxiously scanned as they slowly filtered in.

At midnight, returns such as complete, or so far complete as to be regarded as indicative, gave Wilson 232 votes in the electoral college; Hughes 239, and left sixty votes doubtful in eight states. It requires 266 votes to elect a President. Although California still showed a lead for the President and his campaigners were claiming it by at least 1,500, the President's majority there had dwindled to a little more than 1,400, with about one-fifth of the districts missing.

STILL NO NEWS OF
S.S. RAPPAHANNOCK

No word has yet been received from the Rappahannock, which left Halifax twenty-three days ago for London. About the time she was due to enter the English channel there was very severe weather on the coast, but she is a splendid sea boat and marine men do not think she would come to harm by bad weather. It is possible that she might have been some damage to her machinery, but if such were the case it would have to be of a nature which would put her power out of commission entirely, otherwise her wireless would have given some account of her whereabouts.

While the Messina was a long time in being heard from on account of her having been intercepted by the British admiralty and sent to Archangel, it is not at all probable that such a fate has befallen the Rappahannock, for her cargo of apples, part of which consisted of quite soft varieties, would be of little use in the far northern port.

The Furness-Withy company had nothing new to give out yesterday regarding the ship. They still have hopes that she will turn up safely, but have taken the precaution to replace her sailings with another steamer.

She carried in the vicinity of 20,000 barrels of apples in addition to general cargo. The United Fruit companies are said to have had about four thousand barrels on board, while other heavy shippers were W. H. Chase, Wolfville; F. A. Parker, Berwick, and S. B. Chute, Berwick.
