FRIVOLITY IN ENGLAND. Claim That It Is What Really Keeps the Nation Sane.

Which is worse-to be too serious or too frivolous? I have no doubt about the matter myself, so far as individuals are concerned, though all extremists are bores. The perpetually lively, feather brained, pleasure crazed creature is almost, if not quite, as irritating as the deadly serious individual. But, apropos of the accusation recently lodged against us that as a nation we becoming too frivolous, one cannot help saying that we are a great deal livelier than we were a few years ago, and for this relief assuredly we have cause to be thankful.

In consequence we are accused of having become too frivolous. It seems to me that we have just got matters nicely balanced. This is an age when we are prepared to be cranks on the slightest provocation. People crave for missions, they wallow in philanthropy, they pounce with avidity on new re-ligions, they will plunge into politics or write attacks on women, society, the degeneracy of the age, or anything else that gives them an opportunity of airing what they call their views. So surely, if desipere in loco were not oc-casionally to be permitted to us, it is fearful to think what we should become. Our frivolity is the antidote to the twentieth century disposition to-ward crankiness. It really keeps us sane.-London World.

KIDNEY DISEASE AND ITS DANGERS

CAN BE QUICKLY CURED

DOAN'S

KIDNEY PILLS

Kidney disease comes on quietly, it may have been in the system for a long time before you suspected the real cause of your trouble. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as, brick dust deposit in urine, higly colored, scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent urination, stone in bladder, etc.

Perhaps you did not know that these were symptoms of kidney disease, so the trouble kept growing worse, until Neuralgia, Sciatica, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Dropsy, and worst of all, Bright's Disease have taken hold of your system.

Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken at the first sign of anything wrong. There is no other safe way, (plasters and liniments are useless), as the trouble must be eradicated from the system.

Doan's Kidney Pills go to the seat of the trouble, strengthen the kidneys, and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble. Mr. Thomas Mayhew, Smith's Falls, Ont., writes: "For over four months I was troubled with my kidneys, and my back got so lame I felt miserable all over. After taking five boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills I was as well as ever."

THE HEROES OF 1812,

United Empire Loyalist Association Asks For Monumental Recognition of Macdonell and Tecumseh.

To the Ontario Government the United Empire Loyalist Association commends the patriotic duty of ren-dering provincial honors to the memory of Macdonell and of Tecumseh, heroes of the War of 1812. In resolutions adopted on the 93rd anniversary of the Battle of Queenston Heights, the association rehearses from the public chronicles the services of these defenders of Upper Canada, and calls upon the Government to raise fitting monuments to them. It is a reproach to the province that after the lapse of almost a century it has to be remin almost a century it has to be relimited that this office of gratitude has yet to be performed. Inscriptions in brass or marble are not required to make the fame of the young Attorney-General of Upper Canada or the great Shawnee Upper Canada or the great Shawnee chief enduring. The names of both are fixed imperishably in our history. But the more that great men and great deeds impress themselves upon the country's annals, the more binding is the obligation upon the state to show suitable tokens that it holds them in honored remembrance. To do so is agreeable both to the sentiment of patriotism and to the dictates of sound policy. Rear memorials to the men who fell fighting for their country, and the youth of the land will be more likely outh of the land will be more likely Lieut.-Col. Macdonell.

Lieut.-Col. Macdonell was of the fa-mous Glengarry family of his name, which has given so many of its memwhich has given so many of its mem-bers to the service of the country. Though only 25 years of age when the war broke out, he was then Attorney-General of Upper Canada, holding his seat in the House as member for Glenseat in the House as member for Glengarry. He was selected by Brock as provincial aide-de-camp. Before going into the action in which he lost his life at Queenston Heights Lieut. Col. Macdonell made his will in favor of his god-child. Mr. John A. Macdonell, of Alexandria, has the gold medical that he will be compared to the second seat of the second seat of the se donell, of Alexandria, has the gott med-al sent by King George III. to com-memorate the capture of Detroit. It was by Lieut.-Col. Macdonell and Capt. Clegg that Brock's demand for the surrender of Detroit was borne to Gen. Hull. Hull refused to see the officers, but after the attack was begun he sent a flag of truce and an offer to yield. Macdonell and Clegg went back to Fort Detroit with Hull's messenger and there Macdonell drew up the ar-ticles of capitulation.

Queenston Heights. Richardson who himself fought in the war and is its historian, renders one tribute to the gallantry of Mac-donell. Gen. Robinson's recently-issued "Life of Sir John Beverley Robinson" contains an account of the engagement at Queenston Heights, which Sir John who took part in that fight, himself wrote. It contains this passage:

"Lieut.-Col. Macdonell was mounted and animating his men to charge.

* * The enemy were just in front.
covered by bushes and logs. They were in no kind of order, and were three or four hundred in number. They perceived us forming, and at about thirty yards distance fired. Lieut.-Col. Macdonell, who was on the left of our party, calling upon us to advance, re-ceived a shot in his body and fell. His ceived a shot in his body and fell. His horse was at the same instant killed. Capt. Williams, who was at the other extremity of our little band, fell the next moment, apparently dead. The remainder of our men advanced a few paces, discharged their pieces, and then retired down the mountain. Lieut. McLean was wounded in the thigh. Capt. Cameron, in his attempt to save Col. Macdonell, was exposed to a shower of musketry, but most miraculously escaped. He succeeded in carrying off his friend."

He lies by the side of his brave leader under the Brock monument.

Tecumseh. Of Tecumseh's exploits against Of Tecumser's exploits against the troops of the United States, of his assistance to Proctor at Detroit, of his differences with that general, and of his death at Moraviantown, it is unnecessary to remind readers of Canadian history. He was the greatest of the red men who ever came in con-tact with the white race. Loyalty to his people and his statesmanlike scheme for uniting and preserving them and securing a territ pendence for them brought him into finally into alliance with King George.
Richardson has this to say of him;

"Ever merciful and magnanimous as he was ardent and courageous, the voice of the supplicant seldom reached him in vain; and although war was his idol, the element in which he lived, his heart was formed to glow with all the nobler and more generous impulses of nobler and more generous impulses of the warrior; nor was his high charac-ter less esteemed by ourselves than reverenced by the various tribes over which, in his quality of brother to the Prophet, he invariably presided. In any other country and governing any other men, Tecumseh would have been a hero; at the head of this un-civilized and untractable people he was a savage; but such a savage as was a savage; but such a savage as civilization might not blush to acknowledge for his child."

In Osgoode Hall, Toronto, there is a brass tablet to the memory of Lieut.-Col. Macdonell. Brass tablets would scarcely be adequate memorials to such men by a province like Ontario. Something more conspicuous that will attract the notice of all who resort to the historic scenes on which Macdon. the historic scenes on which Macdo ell and Tecumseh acted is required.

How to Walk Upstairs. "There are but few persons who know how to walk upstairs properly," said a well-known physician. "Usual-ly a person will tread on the ball of ly a person will tread on the ball of his foot in taking each step, springing himself up to the next step. This is very tiresome and wearing on the muscles, as it throws the entire suspended weight of the body on the muscles of the legs and feet. You should in walking or climbing stairs seek for the most equal distribution of the body's weight possible. In walking up stairs your feet should be placed squarely down on the step, heel and all, and then the work should be performed slowly and deliberately. In this way there is no strain upon any particular muscle, but each one is doing its duty in a natural manner. The man who goes upstairs with a springing step you may be sure is an ophiloman who goes upstairs with a spring-ing step you may be sure is no philo-sopher, or at least his reasoning has not been directed to that subject."
