CORRECTION.—Speaking of journal-ism in Huron the London Herald says,— "Nothing better portrays the political change which has taken place in the change which has taken place in the county than a comparison of its local journals to-day and when the Ontario government took office. At that time there were five Reform journals in the county, and only one Conservative, and its circulation was entirely confined to Goderich and its immediate vicinity.

McM.—In March, 1871, I visited Ottawa with the Chicago board of trade delegation, who wanted the canals enlarged. Here my attention was directed towards the Canada Pacific Railway, soon to be built. At the time the Ontario Government took office there were three Reform journals and one Conservative, now there are five Reform, with the prospect of another, and three Conservative. The Herald claims that Conservatism is on the increase in Huron. Well, we can only say that out of five members which we send to represent us only one is Conservative, and he would not have been elected out for the free use of the Pacific Railway bribery fund. But the Herald is given to misrepresentation and the above is only a fair specimen of the misstatements it is constantly indulging in.
