English styles obtain much recognition in Paris. Electric beaded Jerseys are among ball dresses. In Paris, shoes and stockings must match the dress. We will have another season of embroidery and lace. Printed Chinese crapes appear among the new goods. Pompons have a permanent hold on fashionable favour.

Hoops, crinoline and neglected underwear go together. Nun's veiling will be as popular as ever for summer wear.

Ombre, or shaded, effects appear in the new French goods. The combination costume retains its place in spring styles.

Birds are a conspicuous figure in the designs of new satteens. The evanescent fashion of silk underclothing has disappeared.

For evening dress the arms are completely covered by the gloves. Slippers with straps, or strapped shoes are for elegant house wear. Large square neckerchiefs have almost taken the place of fichus. Black silk stockings, finely embroidered in gold, are pretty novelties. Underwear must be white, but stockings are de riqueur coloured or black. Fine French cashmeres, in all shades of color, are largely imported.

On small rubies the tiny wheels moved noiselessly on their appointed ways. This was made in the reign of good Queen Bem.

Prominently among such relics men tion must be made of the silver clock of Charles the first, and given by him on the morning of the execution (January 1649) to Sir Thomas Herbert. It was a remarkable specimen of the finest handiwork of the times ; a picture discloses rich tracery upon the back, rim the face of this historic time-keeper of scroll-work and elaborately finished foliage. Upon the back one sees a large central flower, from which radiate with true artistic touch leaves, buds, and swaying tendrils. It has decended as an heirloom to Wilinto Townly Mitford, Esq.
