Modification of the Reid Deal.

Outside of some by-play in refer ence to the Reid Deal and Mr. Mor-Contract of 1898, the amended con- cations. tract of 1901, and the Harmswort? contract of 1905, were the best the Government of those days could do. and a laudation of the 1898 deal. there was little in the Premier's reply yesterday in the House of Assembly to the speeches of Messrs Kent, Morine and Lloyd on the Newfoundland Products Contract, except an intimation that the objections they had raised would in the main be met by a modification of the Contract. Included in these modifications. agreed to by the Premier, are the following:-

(1) The Company shall be called upon in express terms to spend five million dollars on the development of the water-powers of the Humber and in the construction of coke furnaces.

carbide furnaces and fertilizer plants (2) This shall be made on express condition of the lease of the Humber water-powers, and in default of fulfilling this condition in five years, the lease shall fail, and the property shall revert back to the Government

(3) The same condition is to be attached to the grant of the limestone area in the Humber Valley, and in default the grant is to revert to the

(4) the clauses relating to the East Coast area are to be taken out of the

They will probably reach the city by the express due here on Thursday afternoon.

"The Chicken Instructor," the comedy reel at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day is just a gale of fun. Wallie Van and Flora Finch are the fun makers, and they never disappoint; Lillian Walker, the favorite vitagraph actress is charming in "Doctor Polly," a two reel special feature. "Suppressed News" is a strong Selig drama with the principal Selig sters. A fine Western comedy. Selig stars. A fine Western comedy is "Hygienics at Barn Ranch" with plenty of life and go.
