Plato laid down the duty of the living to the heroic dead. "When there are any killed in a campaign." he asked, "shall we not in the first place give out that those who fell with honour belong to the golden race?" declaring that it was but "Just that the sepulchres of the heroic dead should be regarded as those of superior beings, to whom respect and worship was due." But it is not to pagan Greece or Rome we look for instruction, but to the teachings of Him who said "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends," and, speaking of service, said in parable "Inasmuch as yo have done it unto one of the least of vice, said in parable "Inasmuch as yo have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren ye have done it unto Me." These dear lads, whose names are inscribed yonder, with millions of others gave themselves a free-will offering for the welfare of their foresthers, for their native land, for their loved ones, aye and for strangars. Their theological ideas may have known little of dogma and may have known little of dogma and lease of doctrine, but they were content to offer themselves for others on the siture of sacrifics, to exhibit the siture of the siture of sacrifics, to exhibit the siture of the siture of sacrifics, to exhibit of weather. Tarvia Prevents Dust; Tarvia Preserves Roads.

In the United States and Canada Tarvia is the standard by which all other road-binders and preservatives

"Tarvia H made in three grades,"
"Tarvia K" for road construction,
"Tarvia B" for preservation of road surface and "Tarvia K-P" for repairing roads. Both "Tarvia B" and "Tarvia K-P" have been used in St.
John's Municipal works for several

"Tarvia B" actually enters the road surface, acts as a cement and cestst the tear and wear of traffic.

After the application of "Tarvia B" to a road surface a thin layer of sand should be applied to take care of the excess liquid and to prevent tracking. This layer of sand will prevent Horses from slipping and biles from skidding and will ong the life of the road surface. roken stone is not as satisfactory or as economical as sand for this

A road after being treated with "Tarvia B" does not become muddy in rainy weather, but sheds the water and dries off quickly after the rain leaving the road in admirable condition while untreated roads are still deen with mud "Tarvia B" surfacing should be applied annually but only when roads sions should be repaired with fine roken stone and "Tarvia K-P."

When "Tarvia B" is applied by

A loose, "happy-go-lucky" application is sheer waste of time and money, "whatever is worth doing, is worth doing well." "Tarvia B" is admirably adapted tr the treatment of sidewalks and walks in parks, hospital grounds and cemeteries. Wooden planking of bridges will last longer if treated with "Tarvia B." Fence posts, sills and houses etc., will be greatly benefitted by treatment with "Tarvia B." Further particulars will be gladly given upon application to
