Harbor Grace Notes.

Mr. E. L. Oke, of the Shannon Football team, who had his collar bone broken while playing against a team from the Western Union Cable Co. Bay Roberts, Shannon Park on the evening of the 1st inst. is now doing well, his many friends are glad to note.

Mrs. Sophie Nicholas left town on Tuesday for Grand Falls on a visit to her stepson there.

Mr. A. McVicar, representing the Dalton Spices Co., Toronto, came to town on Saturday in the interests of the above mentioned firm, and left again on Monday for Bell Island.

Mr. Thomas Thistle went out by Tuesday morning's train to connect with the S. S. Prospero enroute for Hooping Harbor on a business visit. His daughter, Miss Rowena Thistle accompanied him, going as far as Little Bay Islands.

Mr. Alex. Stevenson left by this morning's train for the city on a few days business visit.

Mrs. J. B. Ash, caretaker of the old Custom House, was taken ill on Monday night; her many friends will no doubt be sorry to hear this. She has since improved somewhat.

Mr. Alfred Simmons left town by morning's train for St. John's to continue his studies at the Methodist College there.

Schooner Lila M. D. Young, which was here with coal cargo for Mr. G. E. Stevenson, left port again yesterday forenoon.

Quite a few from here were passengers by Tuesday morning's train for Boston, Mass. Among them being Mrs. Foley, wife of the late Postmaster, Mr. John Foley, and three children, Edward, Mary, and Margaret. The remainder of the family, Leo and Elizabeth are already there. Mrs. Foley will now make her home in Boston. Misses M. and K. Lee and L. Madigan also left by that train enroute for the same city, where they will in future reside. A goodly number were at the Station to bid farewell, and while their departure from the town is regretted the good wishes of their many friends will follow them amidst their new surroundings.

Mrs. Theresa Lynch left town this morning for St. John's to connect with the S.S. Monaco for Montreal. Mrs. Lynch will likely spend the remainder of her days in Canada with relatives there, and we wish her well in her new home.

Forest Fire at Donovan's
POLICE AND CIVILIANS FIGHT FLAMES.

A forest fire, supposed to have been started by some berry pickers, raged yesterday in the vicinity of Donovan's and a considerable area of small timber was destroyed before it was quenched. The matter was reported to the police at 4 p.m. and Inspector Noseworthy, with constables McGrath, Pike, Green and Henderson repaired to the scene with buckets and axes. The Minister of Agriculture also took a part in fighting the blaze, and assembling some 50 or 60 men from Freshwater, they were brought to the scene in motor trucks. The men fought the fire for the greater part of the night, and this morning all the smoldering timbers were quenched. The fire was in a dense wood situated between the Kenmount and Thorburn Roads.

With the Rod.

J. E. Muller, of Brookton, Mass., who spent some weeks fishing the rivers of the West Coast, secured 45 salmon, and 21 grise, making a total of 66 fish. The largest one weighed 37½ pounds.

Rev. H. Foley closed the salmon fishing season on the Humber on Friday, by landing a thirty pound salmon after playing it for over two hours.

The Jewish New Year.

On Saturday, September 23rd, the Jewish people of America in common with their brethren all over the world will celebrate in their respective synagogues to observe according to the traditions of their fathers, a solemn holiday, Rosh Hashanah, namely New Year. Among Orthodox Jews the second day of New Year is also observed. The Jewish New Year must not be confused with the secular new year since it is not a day to mark time but to record spiritual experiences. Its Biblical basis is found in Leviticus 23:24: "In the seventh month (that refers to the Hebrew Calendar) on the first day of the month shall be a solemn rest unto you, a memorial proclaimed with blasts of horns, a holy convocation."

In common with many Jewish holidays and ceremonials Rosh Hashanah has undergone a transformation that has given it a significance not shared today by the celebrations usually accorded the secular new year. At that time, amidst feasting and hilarity, a new year is hailed and the old year is rung out. The new year of the Synagogue celebrates a solemn occasion to take judgement of one's self and obtain direction for guidance. More than all it is viewed as a Day of Judgement and so viewed in order that men and women surveying the achievements of the year and their own particular conduct may obtain sufficient incentive to amend their ways, and in a repentant mood project their souls along higher planes and to loftier altitudes.

The Day of Judgement is thus set by the religion of the Jew in life and not after man's departure from this mortal world. The day, given him by tradition to pass in review his deeds as recorded on the tablets of his soul, serves as a means of passing judgement on himself. Aware of his own failures and shortcomings he is in a mood to repent and to live and serve in larger measure and ampler ways. The soundings of the Shofar, or trumpet, is associated in the midst of the worshippers with the thought of calling them to repent of their sins and improve their ways during the new year.

According to Jewish legend, New Year marks the Anniversary of the creation of the world. Following their legend this year will be the 5633rd year since the world was created. Of greater importance is the interpretation put upon this legend by the Jew. It is the anniversary of the birth of man, mankind is thus endowed with a common birth right and hence the peculiar significance of Judaism for mankind is stressed on this day.

Among Orthodox Jews elaborate preparations have been made for this holiday and that of the Day of Atonement with the fall of the day. During the four weeks previous, penitential prayers are recited and this ceremony continues until the eve of Yom Kippur.

The Jewish people of America avail themselves of the privilege of exchanging greetings between friends and relatives on this day, and of strengthening the bonds of devotion in the household and making it a sanctuary worthy of American Jews.

Junior Football.

A challenge game between the Holy Cross football team and the B.I.S. (Junior Division) will be played on St. George's Field Monday Sept. 25, commencing at 6:15 p.m. As the contestants of both teams are evenly matched an interesting and exciting game is assured. The general opinion existing among fans is that the brand of football handed out by the juniors is equal to that played by the League teams and a great deal of interest is being taken in the game.
