PHONES IN STATIONS.

An Important Judgement Given by the Railway Commission.

Ottawa, May 6.—An important general order was made by the Railway Commission this morning giving independent telephone companies rights to all railway stations. It was ruled that in spite of any agreement for the exclusive use of a railway station between the Bell Telephone Company and a railway, any independent telephone company shall have the right to have an instrument placed in any railway station. The order was given in the Sherbrooke case and has now been made in general.

FORMER POLICE CHIEF FREE

Elliott J. Kimball, Found Guilty of Man-slaughter, Given His Freedom

Chatham, May 6.—Guilty of manslaughter in connection with the shooting of Wm. Healey at Tilbury last summer, Elliott J. Kimball, ex-police chief of Leamington, was released this morning by Mr. Justice Teetzel on suspended sentence. A large delegation of prominent citizens of Leamington and vicinity was present to testify strongly to Mr. Kimball's past good character and efficiency as police chief, and to urge the utmost possible leniency.
Mr. Lewis, K.C., the prisoner's counsel, made an impassioned appeal for mercy. In releasing Kimball on suspended sentence, Mr. Justice Teetzel expressed his confidence that the prisoner's conduct would be in the future as exemplary as before the unfortunate occurrence.

REMOVE HATS IN CHURCH

Guelph Ministers Condemn Gigantic Headgear of Women.

Guelph, May, 5.—The merry widow hat and the latest modes of the basket hat, the tub hat, and other forms of roof garden worn by the fair sex has been condemned by the Ministerial Association of this city as head coverings of heathen origin, when worn in church where they intercept the view of the church or of the congregation and interfere with the sacred services.
"Let women take off their hats in church or else wear headgear of modest dimensions, as is the custom at theatres and public meetings," was the opinion of the members of the association who, in meeting yesterday at the residence of Rev. H. W. Crews, dealt with the headgear problem, and passed a resolution.
"Fully and seriously requesting the members of our congregations with the usual unanimity which characterizes them, to either remove their hats in church or to appear in one of modest dimensions."
The ladies of the congregation refuse to comply with the request.

PROFANITY IN BOYS

It is regrettable that profanity has become common among boys. It is not in the least out of the ordinary, where a group of boys of 10 to 15 years are together upon the street or in any open space to play a game of ball, to hear the profanity of the provincial, fishwife or costermonger, but which are shocking falling from the tongues of children of tender years. Of all stupid and silly vices profanity is one of the worst and most abominable. A simple statement of fact is much stronger than any statement embellished with swear words, and no lie is made any the more believable by being framed in profanity. In fact both truth and falsehood are weakened by swearing and taking the Lord's name in vain. Foul epithets and comparisons are not convincing, but are almost invariably disgusting, except to those making use of them. Profanity among men seems to be growing less and less, at least in public places and among those who may lay claim to decency and some education, but the habit seems to have firmly fixed itself upon a great many of the boys, who may imagine it manly to use profanity and smoke cigarettes.

FERRY BOATS TO BE DISCARDED

M. C. R. Has $1,000,000 Tied Up in What May Be Junk.

A million dollars in junk. That is what the Michigan Central railway will soon have on its hands, says the Detroit News-Tribune, and how it is going to get its money out is a problem that is making the wisecracks of the company work overtime.
Not that the Michigan Central is ready to decorate the scrap heap with an immense addition in the way of old iron or anything like that, but the fact remains that the road has, at this minute, a vast sum of money tied up in machinery that soon will be practically no good.

With the completion of the Michigan Central tunnel, which is expected now before many months, the car ferries, which have plowed up the Detroit river for years, will be abandoned. It is conceded that all the railways running through Detroit will use the tunnel, as it offers speed facilities impossible under present conditions. This will throw all the big boats, that formerly steamed back and forth, bearing the heavy trains, into immediate disuse, and will mean idleness in stock valued at fully $1,000,000.

To forestall this enforced idleness the Michigan Central has been trying for some time to place the car ferries at other locations. At attempts have been made to send them to St. Ignace, but they have been proven entirely unsuitable for that port. They cannot be employed at any of the lake ports, as there the ferries must be covered over in order to make them seaworthy.

Up and down the lakes from one end to the other the quest has been pursued, but to-day there is no location for the big boats when they are taken off the Detroit run, and officials of the road practically admit they have been unable to find anything suitable for them.
"The boats are in good repair, most of them, and could be used to good advantage for years yet," said one of the road's officials recently, "but their peculiar construction seems to have been designed especially for the river work and nothing else. Unless we find some place for them soon, I'm afraid they will just have to lie idle, and that will mean tying up the biggest wad of money any railway has invested that way in some time."

He opened an office in St. Thomas and later was in partnership with J. Farley for two years. He married the eldest daughter of Mr. Farley, and owing to ill health he gave up his profession and went to Ireland and spent some time at the home of his father. On returning to Canada he joined the Canadian contingent at Montreal and went to South Africa, where he proceeded to St. Thomas, where she died in 1908. He is survived by two daughters, his father, one sister and three brothers.

The Temperance Hotel License.

The new Provincial license for temperance hotels, provided for under the legislation of the recent session, will be known as the "Inspected Hotel Permit." The form of the permit has been drafted and will probably be approved under order in council this week. Unlike liquor licenses, these hotel permits can be secured at any time during the year on application to the commissioners, approval of the hotel and payment of the $5 licence fee. The standard of equipment and sanitation required from the temperance hotels will be equal to that called for on licensed premises. The applying hotel will be inspected and required to come up to the standard. This being done it will be entitled to be advertised as a provincial-inspected hotel. A list will be made public of these places in order that the traveling public may be assured as to comfort, cleanliness and equipment.

ELGIN LOAN LIQUIDATION

At the final winding up to-day of the Elgin Loan Company, which collapsed June 15, 1908, the fees of the liquidators, the London and Western Trust Company, were fixed at 5 per cent. of the total amount realized, or $31,740.35, but they must pay their own expenses out of this. Other expenses, including law costs, are $12,527.89, or almost eight per cent. of the total value of the estate. Judge Hughes, the official referee, ordered the payment of seven per cent. dividends to the shareholders of the company.

HOLDS UP BEET GROWING

Chatham, May 10.—The recent heavy rains are having a serious effect upon the farmers of Kent. There are at the present time thousands of acres of land around Wallaceburg, ready for sugar beets, but the farmers cannot get the seed in as the land is completely flooded with water. It will mean a serious loss if relief does not come soon, as best growing has become one of the most important industries of Kent.
