

KILLED BY COLLISION

ON THE G.T.R.
Flying Freight Crashes Into Standing Train.

Engineer and Conductor Were Burned to Death.

Other Members of Crew Escaped With Slight Injuries—Several Cars and Engine Destroyed.

A terrific collision involving the loss of two lives and considerable property occurred on the Grand Trunk at Princeton at 1 o'clock this morning.

A train of empties—second-class coaches of the emigrant variety—were standing there, when a special extra freight, going east, crashed into it.

No reasonable explanation of the affair is made, and the engineer of the freight upon whom it would seem rested the responsibility, is dead.

The engine of the freight, three or four passenger cars and a baggage car were destroyed. Immediately after the collision they caught fire.

Engineer Denning, of Sarnia, was pinned in the wreckage, and his body burned almost beyond recognition.

Harmon, of Toronto, was in charge of the train of empties. He was caught among the broken timbers and burned to death.

The fireman with Engineer Denning jumped and escaped injuries, excepting severe bruises, and two brakemen, Peacock and Morgan, received no injuries except bruises.

Loss will amount to about $2,000. Traffic was not seriously impeded, all trains going by way of Paris and Stratford.

The track at Princeton was cleared at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

The accident closely resembles the fatality that occurred a couple of weeks ago on the C. P. R., at Guelph Junction. In that case also a freight train ran into a standing train; the engineer was killed, the fireman saved his life by jumping, and several cars and an engine were destroyed.

THE DUKE'S VISIT

Militia Corps Called Out for Reviews at Quebec, Toronto and Halifax.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—An order in council has been passed calling out Canadian militia corps for participation in the reviews at Quebec, Toronto and Halifax, which will call for compulsory parades of the various units, selected just as though they were going on active service or for camp.

The men are to be called out will count on the year's annual training, but it will be for parliament to say whether the full twelve days are to be allowed for camps, for all corps, as usual, or whether these four days are to be reduced. There is no probability of the military regulations which provides for the call of militia.

Every camp will have its choice between the 25 cents per day sustenance allowance and the ration. The compulsory call will do much to smooth out matters for men who find it hard to gain leave from their employers.

Mayor Morris, in accordance with the regulation of Major-General O'Grady-Haley, has issued a proclamation requiring all employers to allow their employees necessary leave of absence to take part in the military functions, and in connection with the review.

The inhabitants of the Province of Ontario write more letters than those of all the rest of Canada.

New Vital Force For Cells and Tissues.

Chronic Disease Overthrown and the Whole System
Revitalized and Reconstructed by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Disease is a tearing down, wasting away and destroying of the tissues of the body and a shriveling up of the nerve cells and blood corpuscles. This wasting process may attack the lungs, the heart, the liver, the kidneys, the bowels, or, as is most frequently the case, result in collapse of the nervous system, prostration, paralysis or insanity.

You may rest assured that disease will search out your weak spot and gradually gain the upper hand. Nature alone cannot end this wasting process. External assistance is absolutely necessary, as you know too well if you have been observant of what is going on around you. As a result of centuries of investigation and research science now offers certain restoratives and revitalizers which have a wonderfully beneficial effect on a weakened and run-down system. These are combined in the most successful proportions in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which is by far the most thoroughly effective tissue builder and nerve restorative that is known to the medical profession today.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

At least nine-tenths of the ailments from which people are suffering and dying today are the result of thin, watery blood, exhausted nerve force and general debility of the body. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food stops this wasting process, puts new life and energy into the wasted nerve cells, fills the shriveled arteries with rich, life-sustaining blood, and overcomes disease. It will be interesting to note the gradual increase in weight while using this famous food cure.

50 cts. a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or EDMONDSON, BATES & Co., Toronto.

FIVE LIVES WERE LOST!

Train and Engine Collided at Jamestown, N. D.

Several Persons Were Injured and
Two Are Expected to Die—One a Canadian.

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 10.—A Northern Pacific train of nine cars, seven freight and two passenger coaches, collided with an engine in the Jamestown yard yesterday.

The killed are: John P. Galley, clear-water, Kan.; R. D. Vickers, supposed to be from Chicago; H. J. Kirkpatrick, Eldon, Ia.; Robert Glenn, Cayuga, Ont.; unknown man.

The injured—Louis Hammond, Woodman, Wis., with a foot; Frank Howard, South Bend, Ind., chest and back crushed, leg broken twice; P. C. Krausk and A. Steinhart, of Lehigh, Kas., both hurt in back; C. E. Perry, Grinnell, Ia., had fracture of arm and shoulder; R. C. Long, Glenham, S. D., leg broken, breast crushed. The engine and conductor of the train say the air brakes failed to work.

BULLET IN HIS HEART!

A Veteran of the U. S. Civil War Carried One
For Forty Years.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 10.—A report reached here today of the remarkable discovery that Joseph Corell, a veteran of the civil war, who died at Hopkins Station Saturday night, lived forty years with a bullet in his heart.

He served in the First Michigan Engineers, and was wounded in the battle of the Wilderness, the bullet striking his arm-bone, splitting, and one-half of it entering his heart. The other half entered his body and was never found. He went to a hospital, eventually recovered and entered the service again, and served to the end of the war.

He often made the request that after his death a post-mortem be made to find the bullet. This was done yesterday, and the bullet found in the left ventricle of the heart, where it had been nearly forty years. Physicians regard this as remarkable.

SMALLPOX AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—Three children and a woman were taken to the smallpox hospital suffering from a mild attack of the disease. They are the children and wife of the man Bond, who was found suffering from the disease some days ago, and who is now in the smallpox hospital.

CANADA'S FRUIT AREA.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—Professor Macoun, of the geological survey, has returned to the city from making an examination of the flora, particularly the forests, of the districts from Niagara to Cape Horn, following Lakes Erie and Huron. The professor says the fruit area of Ontario should be greatly increased, because nearly all the territory which is covered by well suited to the cultivation of peaches, plums, pears and apples. He says that at every place where these fruits are grown, the soil is fertile, the climate is encouraging, and he sees no reason why the fruit area should not be largely increased, and why Ontario's income as a fruit-growing district should not be greatly increased.

At Norton, Fitzwarren, a Somerset (England) village, with a population of over 600, no death has been recorded for over a year.

Water will be supplied the Charles-Exposition by three artesian wells over 400 feet deep. A salt water system is provided for fire protection.

MUSCULAR PASTOR

Muscles Built Up by Common Sense Habit.

"For years I have not been able to drink coffee, as it made me very nervous and gave me a headache. No one loved coffee more than I, and it was a severe trial to abandon its use. Nearly three years ago I saw Postum Cereal Coffee advertised and concluded to try it."

"I have been so well pleased with it and its healthful effects that I have used it ever since. I carry packages with me when I visit other places."

"When I began to drink Postum, my muscles were flabby, as my habits are sedentary, but for the past two years my muscles have been hard and I never felt stronger or more life than I do now at 60 years of age, and I attribute my strength of muscle to constant use of Postum. I drink it three times a day, I feel so enthusiastic about Postum that I cannot recommend it too highly wherever I go. Wishing you great success, yours truly, Rev. A. P. Moore, Jr., Rhode Island street, Buffalo, N. Y."

The reason Postum builds up the human body to a prime condition of health, is that when coffee is left off, the drug effect of the poison disappears and the elements in Postum disappear with albumen of the food to make gray matter and build up the nervous centers all over the body and in the brain. This sets up a perfect condition of nerve health, and the result is that the entire body feels the effect of it.

ATTEMPT TO SETTLE THE STRIKE FAILED

And the Amalgamated Association Executive Adjourned Without Date.

Pittsburg, Sept. 10.—The last effort to settle the strike of the Amalgamated Association adjourned without date last evening, after accepting of the peace propositions which have come indirectly from the United States Steel Corporation and the Amalgamated Association through the intervention of the representatives of the National Civic Federation, was unsuccessful, and that the entire matter of arranging for a settlement was left with President T. J. Shafter.

In his session of three days, has been clamoring for a settlement, but satisfactory terms and means were not at hand, and the sessions resolved themselves into an informal discussion of the situation. At the close of the meeting of the national executive board this evening, President Shafter declared that the board had adjourned, and the out-of-town members were to leave for their homes tonight. No peace proposition has been received and none made. Boston took action on the attempted assassination of President McKinley at his various meetings, and in every case they expressed their sorrow at the deed committed in Buffalo on Friday last.

Whisperings of the Wires.

Fire at Copp Bros' foundry, Hamilton, on Monday night, caused damage to the extent of $7,000. Fully insured.

The decomposed body of a man, supposed to be William Kidd, was found in the bush about four miles from Port William.

Chief P. Provost, of the Ottawa fire brigade, was badly injured on Saturday night, as the result of a collision with an electric car. He may be permanently lame.

If the city of Toronto can legally prevent it, no fee will be charged for admission to the grand stand at the review by the Duke of York in the exhibition grounds.

The survey of the proposed extension of the K. and P. Railway from Shabot Lake to Smith's Falls has been completed. The straight line has been engaged in planning the road.

Hon. Mr. McBride, the British Columbia provincial minister, who recently resigned, says he believes that three other members of the government will follow his example.

The Ottawa clearing house opened for business this morning, and is located on Sparks street. It will do business with the local banks. A statement will be issued every week.

Charles Marcell, M.P. for Gaspe, says he has secured from Mr. Blair a promise that families from the older districts of Quebec going to settle in the vacant lands of Gaspe will be allowed reduced fares over the Intercolonial on their furniture and effects.

Smiles.

A REMARKABLE MAN.—Mrs. Drumm—That piano-tuner you sent here today was a most peculiar character. Mr. Drumm—Was he really? Mrs. Drumm—Yes; he admitted that the piano wasn't very badly in need of tuning.—Philadelphia Press.

CLEVERLY PLANNED.—"Mamma, I've asked Jimmy Blue to come over and won't you please let us have that candy?" "But I don't think there is enough for both of you." "That's all right, mamma, Jimmy's going to the moon and can't eat."—Cleveland Plaindealer.

THE CHIEF OBJECTION.—"So you object to the plan of the board?" "What is your principal objection to it?" "The fact that it is not dangerous to the performer, like bicycling or automobiling."—Washington Star.

HE WANTED TO KNOW.—George—Papa, how deep is the ocean? Papa—Very deep, dear. They have never been able to fathom some parts of it. George (after a moment's hesitation)—Papa, I would like to have been there when they were digging it out.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

STEAMERS ARRIVED.

Sept. 10. Reported at. From.
Montreal.....Father Point.....Bristol
Tunis.....Montreal.....Liverpool
Dunmore Head.....Fame Point.....Belfast
Astoria.....New York.....Glasgow
Marquette.....New York.....London
Sicilia.....New York.....Genoa
Nomic.....New York.....Liverpool
Grosseto.....K.....

WINDSOR'S PROSPECTIVE LIBRARY.
Windsor, Sept. 10.—The Windsor city council has finally agreed on a site for the proposed new library building. At the council meeting last evening the library committee reported in favor of the three lots at the corner of Park street and Victoria avenue, and the report was adopted by the council. The purchase price is $4,000.

A PRONOUNCED IMPERIALIST.

Mr. R. S. Solomon, of Cape Town,
Visits London.

Was a Generous Friend of Colonial Troops, Providing for Them Many Extra Delicacies.

Mr. R. Stuart Solomon, a prominent imperialist of Cape Town, paid a flying visit to London yesterday, the guest of Mr. Alex. Stuart, K.C., of this city. He and his wife and daughter are taking a trip around the world, going from here to Vancouver, thence to Japan, Hong Kong, Australia, New Zealand, and from there home to South Africa. He is known to many Canadians as a devoted friend in Cape Town of the colonial troops who served in Africa.

Major Stuart, writing from Johannesburg some months ago, after hearing that he was going to visit Canada, said that Mr. Solomon had spent half his time and large sums of money in devotion to the welfare of the colonial troops. The sick were supplied with every comfort and delicacy; every body of colonial troops departing for the front had some extras bestowed upon them by his hand, and every troopsman who left the colonies received similar attentions.

Mr. Solomon is very pronounced in his opinion of the benefit to the empire, and particularly to the British in South Africa, of the assistance given by the colonies to the mother country in the recent struggle. In acknowledging the honor done him by the freedom of the city of St. John, bestowed upon him during his present visit, he said it was his firm belief that if it had not been for the assistance given by the colonies and the demonstration made by them of their readiness to do more in support of the empire, such assistance would have been given to the governments of other nations, that South Africa would have been lost. But when Canada was ready with more aid, when Australia sent word that she had four hundred thousand men of the same mind and the same mettle as those sent to Africa, what was anybody else going to do? "I am proud," said he, "of my country, the home of my father and my grandfather."

In praising the colonies for their natural wealth, its great water resources, and the welcome that is given to strangers.

Mr. Solomon and family will be for a short time the guests of Mr. Patterson, of Woodstock.

Dressing Well at Small Cost Is Easily Accomplished.

Diamond Dyes enable thousands of women to dress well at small cost. The color of the Diamond Dyes will give new life and beauty to any old and cast-off skirt or dress. You faded and soiled garments can be made as good as new. Now is the time to dye your ragged and faded dresses and hats. Buy one of the Diamond Dyes Mat and Rug packages now sold by the Diamond Dyes merchants everywhere. These beautiful packages are colored on the best Scotch Hessian and ready for use. They are so easy to use that you can keep them, send to The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, for design sheets. Mailed free to any address.

PROVINCIAL APPOINTMENTS.

The following provincial appointments are announced: His Honor Judge A. B. Klein, of Walkerton, to be judge of the county court of judicature for Bruce; S. A. McC. Armstrong, of Sarnia, G. F. McDonald, of London, to be notaries public.

A Gem Among Pictures.

It is freely admitted that the picture, "Christ in the Temple," is the most absorbing work of the kind of which the world has any knowledge. Visitors to London's exhibition this year have an opportunity of seeing this picture exhibited by the Montreal Star. It is recognized as the best copy extant, and has been accorded bountiful praise. The Montreal Star is exhibiting it in the art gallery.

ANARCHISTS WATCHED.

New York, Sept. 9.—Hunts of Anarchists in this city were desisted yesterday, according to the police. Special detectives have been on the watch everywhere, and instructions have been issued to the owners of halls not to rent them to Anarchists.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—Second Assistant Postmaster-General, Shallenbarger today summarily canceled the contract of a mail carrier for expressing satisfaction over the shooting of President McKinley. The name of the person who was thus dealt with is Charles F. Cortright, and he had a contract for carrying the mail between Homer, Cortland county, N. Y., and Spafford, in Onondaga county.

WHY DRINK Common Carbonated Waters

When for the same price you can get

Apollinaris

"THE QUEEN OF TABLE WATERS."

Bottled at, and imported from, the

Apollinaris Spring, Rhenish Prussia, charged only with its own natural gas?

BEWARE OF SUBSTITUTIONS.

Talked

into taking cheap washing powders
in the belief that they are equal to FEARL-Grocers who want to work off unsalable goods, peddlers, prize-givers, etc., all say "This is just as good."

"much cheaper," "same thing," "don't be deceived."
The most effective, most economical, best made, is
Pearline, unequaled

Amusements.

NEW GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The opening of a brand-new theater is not an every-day event in London, and when such an event transpires it is only fitting that the city's play-lovers should recognize the occasion in a becoming manner by turning out in great numbers to witness the opening performance. The size of the audience last night was an encouraging and gratifying evidence that London is prepared to patronize liberally the better classes of dramatic attractions, and so sustain its reputation of "a good show town." The audience seemed to be the best located in the house, and only a few chairs in the two back rows were vacant. The orchestra played comfortably filled. As for the gallery, the tumultuous applause when the villain got his bumps told the rest of the house that both the gallery habitués and their hearts were in their right places.

Of the play itself, it is needless to say much save that it comes to London with the approval of a continent stamped upon it. The story is a simple one, and beautiful with the beauty of simplicity. A young woman who has been betrayed by means of a mock marriage finds refuge in the house of an honest old New Hampshire farmer. Her child is dead and so are all her hopes in life. She wins the love of the old farmer's only son. The latter is engaged to be married to a girl who is the daughter of a wealthy man. The unhappy wife, who has been taken into the family circle, seems likely to find a husband and happiness, until a village busybody reveals her mottled past. Then the father sternly sets his foot down, and turns the girl out of the house on winter's night. The unhappy wife, who has been taken into the family circle, seems likely to find a husband and happiness, until a village busybody reveals her mottled past. Then the father sternly sets his foot down, and turns the girl out of the house on winter's night.

It is evident that London has lost nothing in not seeing the play presented by even the original company, for it would be difficult to imagine the play in more capable hands. The honors of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance was looked forward to with special interest by the audience, and her gifted sister, Miss Julia Arthur, and they were not disappointed. Virginia Westbrooke, as the quietest of the evening, as did the sympathies of the audience, fell to Miss Flora Fairchild, who essayed the difficult role of Anna Moore, the shrinking, sensitive woman, whose life has been well-nigh ruined by a villain, but who finds happiness at last. Miss Fairchild's appearance