

SALE OF THE SACRED HEART INVOLVES GIANT REALTY DEAL BIGGEST IN LONDON'S HISTORY

Millionaire Spokane and Montreal Man Is Believed To Have Organized Syndicate to Purchase the Convent Property and Sell It for Business and Residential Purposes.

Rumors of "the largest real estate deal ever put through in London" are causing serious thought among business men in London, and although sealed lips are the order, it is agreed that the sale of the Sacred Heart Convent property on Dundas street is the germ from which the story comes.

No Denial Made. One member of the city council is interested in the matter, and to a number of his friends he stated Friday night that the largest realty transaction in the history of the city was about to be completed. Further than to state that it concerned Dundas street property apparently within the mile circle, he would not divulge particulars.

It is believed in real estate circles that the conclusion that the historic convent grounds will be sold for residential and business property before long is the correct one. Negotiations for the sale are known to be in progress with the heads of the order in Paris, and those who have been acting in the matter refuse to deny the statements.

May Be Syndicate.

Recently a Montreal man, who has made a fortune in Spokane and Montreal, was in the city, and he approached an agency asking if the firm would handle the proposition if he secured it. He had been extensively interested in mining ventures, and declared that after looking over all the other fields for speculation he had come to the conclusion that London was the safest and most attractive proposition in all Canada. The real estate agency was refused further details in the matter, and the Montreal man has not since been seen in the city. That he is interested in a syndicate to secure the convent grounds is believed to be the fact by those who talked with him.

Rumors of other transactions were in the air today. There was a renewal of the story that Mr. George T. Hiscox had disposed of his property with 100 foot frontage on Dundas street for $350,000, but this was proved incorrect on inquiry.

ABDUCTING GIRL IS CHARGE MADE AGAINST FULLEN

Belle River Man Is Again Remanded at Request of Police Department.

Magistrate Judd Fixes the Bail at $2,000 With Two Securities of $1,000.

Edward Fullen, a C. P. R. relieving telegraph operator, remanded from Wednesday on a technical charge of carrying a revolver without a permit, was arraigned this morning in police court on a charge of abduction, and was further remanded until Tuesday, when witnesses who have been summoned from distant points will be in court.

The legal phraseology of the charge against Fullen is that he did, on Aug. 9, unlawfully take an unmarried woman, under 16 years of age, out of the possession and against the will of the person having charge of her.

Fullen was arrested in the Richmond House on Tuesday night in company with the girl, who is said to be under 15 years of age. They were registered as man and wife, and it is alleged, went to the City Hotel early in the afternoon and registered as brother and sister. They were ejected from the latter place.

They were registered as man and wife, and it is alleged, went to the City Hotel early in the afternoon and registered as brother and sister. They were ejected from the latter place.

A story told The Advertiser this morning is to the effect that Fullen met the girl in Saskatchewan while he was relieving, and that he also made the acquaintance there of her sister and brother-in-law. Fullen left Saskatchewan some time ago, and about the same time the girl, with her sister and brother, came east and settled on a farm about 18 miles north of London. While walking along Richmond street one day recently, Fullen is said to have met the girl with her relatives and invited them into a cafe for lunch. Later all parted company, Fullen going to Bell River, where he was working. Two days later several letters, believed to have been written by Fullen, arrived for the girl, and then she disappeared. It is alleged that she went from here to Belle River. Fullen was ordered to this city to relieve and the girl came with him. When they went to the Richmond Hotel and registered, some notice of the appearance of the girl, telephoned to the police station and an officer was sent over to arrest them.

The girl's mother lives in Montana, and if necessary will be sent for by the police.

Through his solicitor, Fullen elected summary trial and pleaded "not guilty" this morning.

At the annual gathering of representatives of the Rexall Drug Company in Boston next week, Mr. W. T. Strong, vice-president of the company in Canada, will lay before the directors of the parent company a proposal to locate its Canadian plant in London.

Mr. Strong, who leaves at once for Boston, takes with him a strong case for the city prepared by Mr. Gordon Philip, industrial commissioner. The decision will in all probability be made in the event that the industry is located here.

The Rexall Company is one of the largest drug companies in the world. Its American business last year amounted to more than $12,000,000.

It is understood that a number of public-spirited citizens have offered to subscribe stock to a considerable extent in the event that the industry is located here.

TWO FORMER BOTHWELL MEN KILLED IN WESTERN CYCLONE

Charles McCabe, Aged Eighty-Five, and His Son James Found Dead on the Prairie Amid the Ruins of Their Home After Big Storm.

[Canadian Press.]

Ogema, Sask., Aug. 16.—As the result of Thursday's storm, Charles McCabe, aged about 85, and his son, James McCabe, 45, were killed.

The elder man had been under the doctor's care for some weeks, suffering from a weak heart, and it is supposed he was killed by shock.

The body was found on the prairie in his night clothes, 20 yards from where his shack had been. The body of his son was found lying on the prairie about 25 yards away from that of his father, with the floor of the shack lying across his legs.

He had a wound on the skull, apparently having been hit by a flying timber and instantly killed.

The shack was entirely destroyed and the contents scattered broadcast.

Relatives are living in Bothwell and other points.

The two men lived together, the son being a bachelor.

Several years ago he was caught out on the prairie in a blizzard and was nearly frozen to death, and he had both legs amputated at the knees.

MR. W. CLARKE, of 288 Ottawa ave., inventor of a novel apparatus that prevents drowning.

THIS INVENTION IF WORN BY BATHERS PREVENTS DROWNING

Apparatus That Can Be Pinned Beneath the Blouse or Vest.

Likely Demonstration Will Be Made by Inventors at Port Stanley.

Mr. W. Clarke, of 288 Ottawa avenue, an employee of the McClary Company, has brought to London a life-saving jacket of his own invention which he confidently believes would prevent every drowning if it was worn by every person while bathing and on the water.

Mr. Clarke has given The Advertiser facts and notices which practically amount to a demonstration, and he is prepared to give a demonstration of the jacket at any time.

When it is known that neither Mr. Clarke and his daughter can swim, and that they have been hours in the rough waters of the North Sea, wearing the life-saving jackets, the invention immediately presents itself as worthy of notice.

It can be conveniently worn in the tree costume of either man or woman, and Mr. Clarke states that the absolute security, no matter what the occasion.

Lloyd's Opinion. Lloyd has the following to say of Mr. Clarke's contrivance.

"A contrivance, having for its object the saving of life from drowning, has been invented by William Clarke, of Buckingham street, Hull, and appears to have peculiar merits. The apparatus consists of light India-rubber air receptacles that can be fitted in a coat or other similar garment, and are not perceptible until inflated. The garment so worn in the ordinary manner in everyday use, and can, by the use of a tube, be turned into an unsinkable life-saver in a quarter of a minute. The apparatus has been put to practical test. Mr. Clarke having floated eight miles in one of his jackets in four hours and twenty minutes. With his daughter, too, who had the contrivance fitted to an ordinary blouse, Mr. Clarke has been taken out to sea at Bridlington, and the pair have floated some miles safely back with the tide to the beach. These tests show the value of the invention, which should have a good future before it."

Prevent Tragedies. Mr. Clarke believes that 80 per cent of drowning accidents could be prevented with the use of his jackets. He has never commercialized his invention, as he was ill for five months after inventing the apparatus. It is possible that he will give a demonstration at Port Stanley.

Petroleum Watchman Was Badly Burned. Petroleum, Aug. 16.—John Anderson, night watchman at the McDonald Refining Company's plant just outside the town, was badly burned last evening when as he was going his rounds a lantern he was carrying exploded.

He noticed that gas was escaping, and as the electric lights had gone out took a lantern. He had only been in the place a few minutes when the lantern exploded and set fire to the building. An alarm was quickly turned in, but as there was no hydrant near, it could not be used. Finally a stream of hot water was turned on the fire from the refinery steam boilers. The building, however, where the blaze started, was burned down. Anderson was taken to the hospital, where he is in a serious condition.

NO WORD OF MISSING MAN

Family of Mr. Henry Doan Are Harassed by Fears and Anxieties.

MAY HAVE GONE TO WEST

Harassed by a thousand fears and anxieties, the family and relatives of Henry Doan, who is missing at 78 King street, without saying where he was going, on Aug. 2, are still waiting in vain for the first clue to his whereabouts.

Dressed in a black suit, a black shirt and a black soft hat, thought to have had not more than five dollars in his pocket, and telling his daughters not to leave the door unlocked for him that night, he disappeared, and the efforts of police and friends have failed to locate him. Just before going away he said something about "the week-end" and in answer to a question, said that he was not going to visit his family who lives in the country. Some of his relatives still cling to the suggestion that he may have gone west, where he has a favorite nephew in Glenside, Sask.

No Word From Relatives. A sister of his dead wife lives in Manitoba. He could not write, and is thought that if he had gone to either his nephew or sister-in-law that or she would have written to his family of his arrival. Doan has a son, Alex. Doan, living at Komoka, one brother at Kilworth, and another at Komoka. Another sister-in-law, Mrs. Bloom, of Komoka, has been staying with his family since she has known of his disappearance.

FORGING BONDS OF TRADE BETWEEN TWO FINE CITIES

Builders' Exchange Trip to Cleveland Productive of Results—London's Grand Exhibition Being Advertised.

Mr. Gordon Philip, industrial commissioner, this morning received a copy of The Advertiser containing a report of the excursion of the Builders' Exchange to the Forest City of Ohio.

The Cleveland bureau of publicity was pleased with the articles and the suggestion of closer trade relations they contained. The board will do much to advance the interests of London and the London fair, and it is expected that a large delegation will come from across the lake during the exhibition.

At the present time the first thing Londoners travelling on the steamer State of Ohio to Cleveland see is a large sign on the docks advertising the London fair, arranged for by Secretary A. M. Hunt.

Businessmen are obtaining great commercial service between the two cities at the present time.

EXPLAINS HOW BOARDED CAR

Statement by Man Who Was Injured in Inter-switching Accident.

COMPANY INVESTIGATING

In conversation with The Advertiser Friday afternoon the man who is alleged to have been on the east side of the inter-switching line on Dundas street east, when a street car crashed into a string of freight cars, and who was taken to Victoria Hospital, gave his version of the affair.

He admitted that he had been riding into the city with Mr. Spettigue, and that on arrival at the inter-switching line they found the track blocked by a string of cars. He was cold, and instead of waiting until the line cleared, he jumped from the rig and ran along the tracks until he came to the engine, when he crossed the tracks and ran back to Dundas street on the other side of the tracks. He then continued down Dundas street until he met the street car, but could not say just where it was, and then boarded it. A moment or two later the collision occurred.

Why He Boarded Car. Asked why he had boarded a car going east instead of towards his home, he replied that he thought he recognized a man on the car, but that on going inside he found his mistake. Mr. Spettigue says he never heard the crash when the car ran into the train, and that he must have been some distance east of the inter-switching line when it occurred, but according to the man's story Spettigue must have been waiting at the other side of the tracks.

Superintendent. Homestead, of the street railway, has been investigating the story since it appeared in The Advertiser, and it is likely that several affidavits will be taken immediately. Some interesting developments are promised if a suit is started by the man in question.

BREACH WIDENS BETWEEN SULZER AND LT.-GOVERNOR

Preparations for Trial Following Impeachment, Being Rushed.

Mrs. Sulzer Is Still Very Ill, But Will Probably Recover.

[Canadian Press.] Albany, N. Y., Aug. 16.—The breach between Sulzer and Glynn is complete, and there will be no further conference between their counsel, so far as now known, on the question of submitting the controversy to the courts. D'Arcy Herick, Sulzer's chief counsel, in so announcing today, said that he did not expect to make any plans of lawyers for the impeached executive.

Prepare for Trial. "We are preparing our case for trial," Mr. Herick said. "I do not expect to see Governor Sulzer today, but will close my office at noon, and do not expect to come back to it until Monday."

"Do you expect to confer with Mr. Glynn's lawyers?" he was asked. "How can we?" he replied. "Negotiations have been refused. The only thing now is to prepare for trial, and that we are doing. And, of course, we don't intend to confide our plans to the newspapers."

Still Very Ill. Last night was the worst passed by Mrs. Sulzer since she became ill of a nervous disorder several days ago, but her condition today was not alarming, according to bulletins issued by Dr. Robert Abrahams, who was summoned by telephone to return to Albany from New York when Mrs. Sulzer took a turn for the worse yesterday.

Came to Grief. The proposed impeachment of the governor that he and his rival lay their respective claims before the courts for speedy settlement, come to grief last night. Lieutenant-Governor Glynn, who claims that he is acting governor by virtue of Sulzer's impeachment, notified Mr. Sulzer that he had no intention of asking any court save the court for the trial of impeachment to decide the question.

At Sea Again. Mr. Glynn's refusal places the entire situation at sea again. Indications late yesterday were that there would be an amicable adjustment. Mr. Sulzer's lawyers conferred with Mr. Glynn's regarding possible methods of taking the issue into court, and it was generally expected that a way of doing this would be devised. Mr. Glynn's refusal to arbitrate was a distinct surprise to Mr. Sulzer's friends.

It is beyond power to harter away any of the functions attached to the office in which I am placed by your impeachment," reads Mr. Glynn's reply to Mr. Sulzer's suggestion.

Special Day at The Playgrounds

Monday afternoon is to be a special day at Chesley avenue playground. A baseball game between Victoria playground and Chesley avenue promises to be very interesting. Other games will be played during the afternoon, including cricket, volleyball, dogball, and others. In addition, an athletic program has been prepared, consisting entirely of jumps, shot-puts and novelty races. All parents or other grown-ups who are interested in the playground movement are invited to be present and see the playgrounds in operation.
