Them Work Vacant

The idea of utilizing the city's vacant land for the unemployed in London, as hold on the minds of citizens. Letters are received daily, urging that civic officials take the matter in hand, and to some tangible numbers. The man and to some tangible purpose. The men out of work are enamored of the idea. It would give the opportunity of providing their families with many of the cessaries of life, and also with money, for much of the produce raised could

One letter received yesterday reads to the following purpose:
SPLENDID IDEA.

London, Feb. 10, Editor Advertiser, City: space in your valuable paper to say that the allotment proposal which was inserted in your paper the other night was one of the best things that could be done for the unemployed? It is instructive to the man doing the work, and like-wise would benefit him in raising food for the winter, for I feel sure that there are many men in this city who would avail themselves of the opportunity if the chance was given them. It has been a success in this city before, and I have know t to be a great success in England. into practice, even at a small rental, charge to cover the cost of seed.

W. SULLIVAN. 673 York Street. URGED IN UNITED STATES. Chicago, Feb. 16.—Municipal truck arms, where the unemployed could be Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. or M. G. MURPHY. D. P. A., Lane, in Chicago, on route to San Fran-cisco, where he will formally open the Panama-Pacific Exposition

"Populate the truck garden sone with the city's idle," he said. "It would furnish employment, provide produce and abolish the excuse of voluntary vagrants that they 'cannot find work.'" Reciting a number of projects Con-gress recently had provided for, Secreary Lane said, with the addition of sufficient funds, the Government can furnish work for every unemployed person within its borders.
