" Military Land Grants.
From the Montreal Shareholder.
The Toronto World is out with a sugges ion respecting military land grants which ust now is calculated to attract a good deal of attention. The proposal is, to give a now missing impetus to enlistment in the imperial military and naval services by a grant of Canadian lands as a bounty to all grant of Canadian lands as a bounty to all future volunteers for active service. The dominion, however, under this program, is not to give any aid or co-operation whatever, as it might well do in the shape of a free offer of the necessary domain. This it is left to the home government to purchase like any other customer, though it would be a grave imputation on the loyalty and patriotism of the Canadian people to suppose that they would not be more than ready to make an unencumbered cession of any extent of territory required for such a purpose should the imperial government regard favorably the imperial government regard favorably the main idea thus presented. Such a concession would not only cost the country nothing, and prove that all our many protestations were not mere empty meaning less vaporing, but would be calculated to introduce a class of settlers most desirable is a rule of the C. P. R. that the men must live at the junction, so that they may be in early call. As a consequence there is great scarcity of houses.

There has been considerable investment in property in this locality, and all who have gone into it have done well. The lots are rising steadily in value. The progress has been even greater than in the case of Parkdale and Yorkville. There has not been a dollar lost in Parkdale investments and the same will be so in West Toronto Junction.

As will be seen by the large advertisement elsewhere Messrs. Uttley and Clark are offering a number of lots out in West Toronto Junction on most favorable terms.

The remarkable dark day, May 19-1780, was, no doubt, owing to this cause. The house of representatives, then sitting at Hartford, adjourned, thinking it was the day of judgment. Mr. Wiggins thinks it was this dark satellite that made the great historian, Gibbon, an infidel. It will colipse the sun again in the summer of 1933 and in 1939. Another Company Down on Pools The Chicago and Grand Trunk road runs rom Port Huron to Chicago, 330 miles and is the western extension of the Grand Trunk of Canada. Its tonnage increased 21 per cent. in 1884, while gross earnings increased only 8 per cent. This result is attributed to the bad working of the pooling system and the competition between the New York Central and West Shore Operating expenses were 76 per cent., and surplus over fixed charges only $2,000. The annual report of the Grand Trunk company, just published, declares the pooling system to have been an injury rather than a benefit to the road.
