Tramps used to be very much in evidence until two or three years before the war when concerted action on the part of many municipalities of giving a hobo thirty days had the effect of pretty well putting this fraternity out of business so far as Ontario towns were concerned. These gentry are again becoming quite numerous and a repetition of the former remedy might have the desired effect.

One of the early settlers of Watford, Mary Burwell, wife of Mr. David Ross, was called to her reward on Saturday morning, June 17, in her 82nd year. Mrs. Ross had been in declining health for some time. She was a daughter of the late Wm. Burwell, one of the first settlers in Warwick Village and was married 60 years ago in London. After residing for a few years in Warwick, Mr. and Mrs. Ross moved into Watford, and have lived here since. She is survived by her husband and one sister, Mrs. Hannah McLaren of Watford. New Blouses, new gloves, for July 1st.—A. Brown & Co.

To encourage cleanliness and tidiness among school children, a novel suggestion has been made by two doctors in Ontario who have recommended that mirrors should form a part of the ordinary school equipment. They write: The looking glass has a very distinct educational value and the more careless the home the more probable it is that a looking glass, if one is round at all will only be a few inches square. The consequence is that children who are frequently reprimanded for their untidiness and dirtiness, scarcely see themselves and so lose the strong personal incentive to improvement which they might gain if they had an opportunity of contrasting their own untidy appearance with the neatness of many of their school fellows.

Men's work socks, 4 pr for $1.00.—Swift's.

Besides her sorrowing husband she leaves four young children, three girls and a boy—Gertrude, Kenneth, Mildred and Alma, the latter being about four years old. She is also mourned by her aged mother, four sisters and two brothers. The funeral was held from the family residence, St. Clair street on Tuesday afternoon to Watford cemetery, and was very largely attended. Rev. H. V. Workman, Presbyterian minister, officiated, the pallbearers being E. A. Brown, C. Howden, P. J. Dodds, F. W. Rogers, B. Cowan and Alex. Elliot.

FAREWELL TO THE RECTOR

There is always a feeling of sadness in the parting with friends, especially with those of long standing, and this feeling was strongly emphasized on Thursday evening, when, on Mr. C. A. Glass' lawn, the congregation of Trinity church assembled to bid a collective farewell to their rector, Rev. S. P. Irwin, B.A., and his esteemed wife, who during their sojourn in Watford have endeared themselves to all.

After the reading of an address expressing sorrow at their departure and wishes for their future welfare, the ladies of the W.A.M.A. and Guild presented Mrs. Irwin with a handsome travelling bag, and Mr. Irwin was handed a purse of $150.00 from the men of the congregation. The address was read by Mr. W. H. Shrapnell, Mrs. A. G. Brown presenting the bag to Mrs. Irwin and Mr. E. D. Swift the purse to the rector.

On behalf of Mrs. Irwin and himself, Mr. Irwin made a short but feeling reply, thanking the donors for the gifts and for their loyalty to the church and to themselves during the 17 years that he had been their rector, and wishing them all true joy in the future.

After the presentation, lunch was served by the W. A. and Guild and a couple of hours spent in social intercourse.

Mr. Irwin and family leave shortly for Kingsville and their departure is much regretted as the congregation is not only losing a revered spiritual advisor but personal friends who have rejoiced with them in their gladness, advised them in their difficulties and sorrowed with them in their sicknesses and misfortunes. That God's fullest blessing may be theirs in their new home is the earnest wish of the entire community.

CHILDREN'S DAY IN THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Children's Day was observed in the Congregational church on Sunday last, when the church was tastefully decorated with flowers and a special musical service was held in the evening. The church choir was replaced by a choir of children and Sunday School workers, and five special choruses from the Children's Day Service: "The Child For Christ" were rendered very sweetly. Recitations were given by Daisy McNally and Edna McIntosh, and a solo was sung by Beatrice Macnally.

An exercise entitled, "Something to Learn from the Flowers", was given by eight girls, who carried baskets of the special flowers of which they spoke. The boys of the Hiawatha Camp of Trail Rangers made their first public appearance and looked fine and manly in their khaki uniforms and Trail Ranger's crests. They told how their Laws and Aims were founded on the text: "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man." and the pastor explained briefly the fourfold development which the movement aims for and which is based on the fourfold development of the boy-life of Jesus.

The Sunday School superintendent, Mr. John Thomas, led in prayer, and the pastor, Rev. T. DeCourcy Rayner, gave a stirring address on "The Value of The Child." The large congregation found the service both interesting and profitable; and great credit is due to Mrs. T. DeC. Rayner and Miss Estelle Craig for their work in training the children.
