LOCALS SHUT OUT BEAR RIVER TEAM

Score 12-0 in Favor of Bridgetown Junior Ball Players—Locals Get Big Lead in Third Innings.

Bridgetown Junior ball team secured another victory on Wednesday afternoon when they shut out Bear River 12 to 0. The game was not an uninteresting one to watch, but after the third innings the result was a foregone conclusion. Dorey's work in the box and good support given him by both the infield and outfield proved too much for the visitors who had against them a number of errors at critical periods of the game. The Bear River team are playing some very young boys, but have trimmed Digby this season, twice, if we are not mistaken. C. Parker eleven years old is probably the youngest player in any of the Western Junior outfits. He got one nice safe hit yesterday and in a few years more should be able to travel well in pretty fast baseball company. Bear River had the honor of a neat double play in the third innings.

DROWNING IN RUMSEY LAKE

Lawrence Veits Perishes in the Waters Monday Evening.—His Recorders Nearly Perish in Heroic Attempts to Save Him.

Laurence Veits, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Veits was drowned on Monday evening in Rumsey Lake and those of his companions who gallantly endeavored to save him came near to perishing in the attempt. That evening several of the young people of Clarence went up the mountain to the lake and a number went in swimming. Laurence who was esteemed, a very good swimmer, struck out across the lake diagonally from the south west cove intending to land on the other side about three hundred yards away. Some distance behind him Chester Davies and his sister Gertrude also started to cross and caught up to Laurence when about half the distance was covered. They noticed that he showed signs of fatigue and on asking him if this were the case he nodded. They approached closer and one on each side supported him, and slowly made their way toward shore. Laurence besides being exhausted also became apparently excited swallowed considerable water and became very difficult to handle.

His rescuers were becoming rapidly exhausted Gertrude so much so that twice she went under but never, without being pluckily rescued at attempts to rescue. Edward Marshall who had run around the lake, rushed into the water with a board and swam toward the trio. Pushing out the board Laurence grasped it while Chester managed to get ashore with his now thoroughly exhausted sister. Then looking around he saw that Veits had grasped Marshall and both were disappearing beneath the waters of the lake. Here they struggled but Marshall came clear and reached shore with difficulty, relapsing for a time into unconsciousness. Veits did not rise again. The spot where he sank was only about forty feet from shore and fifteen feet farther in would have brought him into but a few feet of water. Neighbors at the foot of the mountain were at once notified and soon seventeen men were on the scene. Darkness had fallen but they soon secured the body and conveyed it down the mountain on a litter. Too much praise cannot be given Laurence's companions, particularly Chester and Gertrude Davies, who almost sacrificed their own lives in the attempt to rescue him. The deceased was a bright active young man of good habits and was a general favorite. His sad death has cast a gloom over the whole community.

The funeral takes place at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon.

OFFICER FULTON HAD RELATIVES HERE

Charles R. Fulton the Halifax police officer who was shot dead by the bandit Lewis Bevis in Halifax on Monday, was a nephew of Mr. Roy Higgins of Clarence. Officer Fulton was a member of the 63rd and served overseas in the great war, going with a draft from the Halifax regiment. Mr. and Mrs. Higgins left for Halifax to attend the funeral.

Sheriff Edwards of Annapolis was a visitor in town on Tuesday.
