The way orders come in is indicative of a demand that clearly demonstrates our paper is the paper that printers and publishers, as well as the general public, require.

The reason is obvious :

The selection of various kinds of paper is made easy when the assortment from which to choose is unlimited in quantity and unvarying in quality.

The stock of the E. B. Eddy Company presents the unique position of having these advantages, which can only be obtained by the very largest and well equipped mills.
