Summer Fairs vs. Winter Ones.

While the Winnipeg papers are doing their utmost to make themselves believe that the Industrial Exhibition held in that city was "one grand success," there are some horse and cattle-men from this district who do not in the least coincide with them in the success so far as their animals' comfort was concerned. Some few of them feel so sore over the matter that it is doubtful if they can be got to take their animals to Winnipeg or any other part of the province where a three or four days exhibition is held so late in the fall. You are never sure of having an unbroken week's fine weather after the first of October besides which there are hundreds of farmers who will not neglect the stacking of their crops for to attend the best show that could be gotten up in the province. We know of scores of cattle breeders and grain raisers within a distance of thirty miles of this city that would have been only too pleased to have taken down exhibits to Winnipeg's Industrial providing it had, been held at a less busy time of the year. We are given to understand by those who attended the exhibition that the exhibit of cattle did not come up to that of our local summer show. This too in the face of the fact that the C. P. R. offered such splendid inducements in the way of carrying exhibits free and such like ought to go a long way in proving to the directors of the Winnipeg and other shows that the summer months are by far the best to hold their exhibitions. There may be likely of necessity a great falling off in the display of roots and vegetables by having the show in the summer time but this loss would be compensated by the increased entries of other products of more value as well as an increased attendance of visitors. The loss to the province in the lessened display of garden stuff could well be made up to the province by the shipment of a few cars of such in the fall to the eastern shows. We in Manitoba know that mammoth vegetables can be raised here and it will be only necessary to keep sending down such exhibits as we had at Toronto to convince the easterners of the same fact. We suppose some of those Winnipeg directors will feel inclined to tell us to mind our own business. Well perhaps they are right but still the Brandon society have made their summer show a success that we could not help giving them a bit of gratuitous advice.—Brandon Times.
