Attention

In time to any irregularity of the Stomach, Liver, or Bowels may prevent serious consequences. Indigestion, costiveness, headache, nausea, sea, biliousness, and vertigo indicate certain functional derangements, the best remedy for which is Ayer's Pills. Purely vegetable, sugar-coated, easy to take and quick to assimilate, this is the ideal family medicine—the most popular, safe, and useful aperient in pharmacy. Mrs. M. A. BROCKWELL, Harris, Tenn., says:

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills cured me of sick headache and my husband of neuralgia. We think there is No Better Medicine,
and have induced many to use it.
"Thirty-five years ago this Spring, I was run down by hard work and a succession of colds, which made me so feeble that it was an effort for me to walk. I consulted the doctors, but kept sinking lower until I had given up all hope of ever being better. Happening to be in a store, one day, where medicines were sold, the proprietor noticed my weak and sickly appearance, and after a few questions as to my health, recommended me to try Ayer's Pills. I had little faith in these or any other medicine, but concluded, at last, to take his advice and try a box. Before I had used them all, I was very much better, and two boxes cured me. I am now 80 years old; but I believe that if it had not been for Ayer's Pills, I should have been in my grave long ago. I buy 6 boxes every year, which make 210 boxes up to this time, and I would no more be without them than without bread."—H. H. Ingraham, Rockland, Me.

A CHILD'S MAY SONG.

BY REV. DR. CUMMINGS.
From the bright throne above the sky,
Look down on us, O Mother sweet,
And smile upon the gift which I
Here offer kneeling at thy feet.

Mother of my God and mine,
I've brought some simple flowers to-day,
That they may bloom upon thy shrine
The long long hours that I'm away.

So their sweet breath shall rise like prayer,
When I am far from this dear spot;
Thou'lt think of me while they are here,
And absent, I'll forget thee not.

If I were rich in gems and gold,
All, all to thee I'd freely give;
How could I anything withhold
That I might please thee to receive?

But if I had a golden mine,
And were to lay it at thy feet;
My heart not being truly thine,
Say, would it please thee, Mother sweet?

I know it would not, and I know
That I can only love thee own,
By loving Him, who loved thee so
That He became thine own dear Son.

My heart henceforth shall be all thine,
And I will watch, and I will pray,
That never thought or word of mine,
May take my heart from thee away.

Oh! give a blessing now to me,
That I may bring fresh flowers to thee,
To make thy sweet white altar gay.

GRAND EXCURSION

Of the Western Canadian Press Association.

On May 10th the Western Canadian Press Association had placed at their disposal a sleeping and a tourist car and left on the regular pacific express for their excursion to Victoria, B. C. Almost every newspaper in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories were represented and all were loud in their praises of the comforts provided for them, by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. The party after reaching Calgary and receiving on board its press representatives numbered forty eight. The first stop over was made at Calgary, where the members were treated with the greatest courtesy and hospitality by His Worship Mayor Lucas and the Aldermen and citizens generally. In the afternoon the journalists were driven in and around Calgary and were much taken with the beautiful situation of the town and its many fine substantial stone buildings. In the evening they were given a reception and ball in the new and excellent Opera House. Next morning our cars were attached to a freight train and reached Banff in time for lunch. After lunch, at the C. P. R. hotel, its courteous and able manager had carriages ready to take the visitors sight seeing in Canada's beautiful national park. The Cave and all other points of interest, having been visited, the members returned to the hotel, ready to do ample justice to the good dinner provided for them. After dinner the party spent some hours walking around the magnificent hotel which the Canadian Pacific Railway has built in a most romantic position, commanding a magnificent view of this most enchanting place. Far beneath us flowed the river, while the snow capped mountains surrounded us on every side. The hotel is a fine building, magnificently furnished and capable of accommodating two hundred and fifty guests. Here the traveller may enjoy not only the beauties of nature in all their grandeur, but also every comfort and luxury provided in our very best hotels in the east. About ten o'clock the excursionists were driven to their cars and, at noon on Sunday, were taken westward through the mountains, bound for Vancouver. It were idle for us to attempt to describe the beauty, the grandeur, the sublimity and the wonderful extent of mountain scenery through which we passed during this journey from Banff to Vancouver. We were told by those who have travelled over every transcontinental route in America; who have crossed the finest mountain scenery in Europe, that, for beauty and imposing grandeur, this route surpasses them all. And we can readily believe them, for, to our mind, it would be impossible for nature to provide anything in mountain scenery to surpass what we saw. Down we swept through the Kicking Horse pass, with a boiling, tumbling, tossing, roaring river beneath us, while far above our heads were snow capped mountains the peaks of which lay hidden in the clouds. Quietly nestling at the foot of Mount Stephen we found a beautiful little hotel, belonging to the C. P. Ry. Co., where a delightfully served lunch awaited us. Standing on the balcony of this hotel and looking down the valley we saw on the right the Van Horne range, named after the great President of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Again boarding the train, we were swept along, what, to our mind, is the most romantic portion of the road. On we go around sharp curves, following the windings of a river whose torrent sweeps over a bed of rocks that keep it incessantly boiling. The canyon suddenly deepens until the mountain sides rise up thousands of feet. Following close is the river, one moment we are on one side, then on the other of the river, but always have the mountains frowning down on us. It is grand beautiful and awe inspiring in the extreme. Soon we reach Donald, the terminus of the Western Division which is so nobly managed by Wm. Whyte, Esq., Gen. Supt. at Winnipeg. Here we change engines and soon reach the Glacier, where we take dinner. The hotel here, also, belongs to the company and is ably conducted by Mr. Harry Perley, the proprietor of the Alberta Hotel, at Calgary. The Glacier is a favorite stopping off place for tourists both from the east and west and they are all loud in their praises of the courtesy and comforts they receive from Mr. Perley.

After leaving the Glacier we come to "the Loop." It was a very interesting sight to witness this loop winding across the valley and mountain side. After traversing continuous mountain scenery we reached Vancouver, the terminal city of the greatest transcontinental railway in the world. Before reaching Vancouver, Mr. McLagan, of the Vancouver World, boarded the train and was heartily received by the excursionists. He informed us of the programme prepared for us. The Mayor and Aldermen of Vancouver had, according to Mr. McLagan's report, left nothing undone to make our stay a most enjoyable one in the Aladdin city of the Pacific coast. The first item of the programme, on our arrival, was a visit to the magnificent Canadian Pacific Steamship "Empress of China." It is needless to say that every member of the party were loud in their praises of this beautiful floating palace. Its size, beauty, appointments, furnishings and positive air of homelike comforts, made us all regret that we were not booked for a trip on her, to the great Orient. "What a magnificent vessel!" "Grand!" with "O! how lovely!" from the ladies, were the expressions heard on every side. And it was no exaggeration, either, for the Empress of China is, indeed, "a thing of beauty." If the Canadian Pacific Railway gets as magnificent a line of steamers on the Atlantic as they have provided on the Pacific, their celebrated trip "around the World" will be something which no tourist will be able to resist. The Empress of China was a revelation to most of us. The next item on Vancouver's list for us, were complimentary tickets to the Opera House. "Cinderella" was well presented and enjoyed, but what surprised all was the magnificent Opera House. As we examined and admired this large and splendid Opera House, we began to think of Winnipeg and its miserable provision for entertaining its citizens, in this regard. Vancouver's Opera House will compare favorably with any building of the kind in Canada. Next morning about ten o'clock, a large number of carriages could be seen outside the Hotel Vancouver, to convey the party for a drive around the city and through "Stanley Park." The writer remembers well, his first visit to Vancouver in the autumn of 1886. It contained at that time a few frame buildings and innumerable pine stumps, hideous in their blackness. Now, we witnessed a city, both beautiful and substantial containing a population of 20,000 or more, happy and prosperous citizens, whose energy and enterprise, kindness of heart and generous hospitality promise even greater prosperity for it in the future. We were enchanted and pleased at what we saw, and devoutly hoped that so promising a beginning may, and we cannot doubt, will bring forth a glorious city. We were favored in being driven through the city and park by one of Vancouver's most enterprising citizens, Mr. Keith, President of the Board of Trade. Stanley Park, for natural beauty and its location, as well as its handsome drives, cannot be surpassed. And Mr. Keith's intelligent description and perfect knowledge of Vancouver and its lovely park, made our drive one of the events long to be remembered. But Vancouver's hospitality had not yet exhausted itself, for on returning from our drive we were at once transferred to a steamer and taken for a beautiful run down the inlet. During this trip a sumptuous luncheon was served. Toasts and speeches were indulged in, and everything that hospitality could devise and carry out was done to make us happy. Before passing from this subject we wish to give expression to our grateful thanks to His Worship Mayor Cope and Mrs. Cope, and to the aldermen and their good ladies for the hospitalities we received. We had great pleasure in renewing our acquaintances with Messrs. MacLagan and O'Brien, of the Vancouver World, and to thank them and Mr. Cotton, of the Daily News-Advertiser, and their staff for all they did for our comfort. About five o'clock we left for New Westminster. There the excursionists were royally received, as befit that royal and beautiful city, by Mayor Curtis and the corporation of the city. Every member of the Western Canadian Press Association were impressed with the beauty and solidity of the business portion of New Westminster, and its wondrous facilities of wealth and commerce. Its lumber mills, its fish canneries, and its commanding situation at the mouth of the great Fraser river. We all regretted the circumstances which "prevented a more prolonged stay and a fuller conception of the great natural resources of the district." We saw enough, however, to convince us that this city, like that of Vancouver, has a great future before it, and that its people, are also an energetic, hospitable and kindly hearted people. On Wednesday 17th May, we crossed over to Victoria and registered at the Victoria hotel. Next morning we held our first meeting in the Board of Trade rooms kindly placed at our disposal. In the afternoon we were taken for a drive around the beautiful city of Victoria by the Mayor and members of the city corporation. The old city of Victoria is delightfully situated and its public drives cannot be surpassed for natural beauty and, needless to say, all were delighted with the drive. In the evening some visited the Opera House where the celebrated Jim Corbett was reigning in the "role" of "gentleman Jack," others visited the Chinese theatre and china town and others enjoyed themselves in other ways.

On Friday afternoon the Hon. Mr. Higgins, placed a special tram car at our disposal and in it we proceeded to Esquimalt where we first examined the vessel Romulus, lying in the dry dock undergoing repairs. We next proceeded to visit H. M. warship "Garnet." A detachment, with two steam launches, met us and conveyed us on board the Garnet, commanded by Captain Hughes Hallett. We were courteously received by the officers and crew who did everything to enlighten us as to the construction and management of one of those death dealing vessels, called a warship. Before leaving, the party were invited down to the officers mess room and there we found a table set and, while the ladies enjoyed a choice brew of tea and the usual quota of cakes, the gentlemen partook of the further hospitalities of the officers. Mr. W. J. White, our president, conveyed the thanks and acknowledgements of the party to Capt. Hughes—Hallett, who made a graceful and patriotic speech and impressed the party as a gentleman in whose hands the prestige and greatness of Britain's name would lose none of its lustre. After our return, the Provincial museum was visited, there the party had the pleasure of meeting the Hon. Theo. Davie, Q. C., who is the honored Premier and attorney-general of the province of British Columbia. Mr. Davie, with the courtesy and urbanity so characteristic of him, showed the party through the Parliament Buildings. The present buildings did not appear to be in keeping with the great province of British Columbia, but we were shown plans of a new building that, no doubt, will correct this want. The party admired the plans of the new Parliament Buildings and warmly approved of them. While the party were in the old chamber, despite the absence of the mace, one of our party took Mr. Speaker's chair and another moved a vote of confidence in the government, much to the amusement of the premier who went off smiling at the incident. The most of our party returned to Vancouver on Friday, a few remaining to visit Nanaimo. All left Vancouver for home on the regular express on Sunday at 2.20 p. m.

We must not omit to mention that the Hotel Vancouver is the best managed and the most comfortable hotel we stopped at during our trip. And this is no disparagement to any of the others, where we received every care and attention. The party also received an additional proof of the kindness of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the attention and courtesies of its able and popular General Passenger Agent Mr. Kerr, who happened to be in Vancouver during our visit. On our return trip, and just before reaching Brandon, the members of the association, conscious of the many acts of kindness received from our President, Mr. Will J. White, presented him with an address and R. L. Richardson, Esq., and Dr. Barrett were intrusted with the pleasing task of purchasing and forwarding to Mr. White a souvenir of the trip. Those gentlemen purchased a beautiful clock valued at $50.00 which was duly forwarded to Mr. White, with a copy of the address presented to him the day previous. Thus ended one of the most enjoyable trips of the association. A series of resolutions unanimously passed by the association, will appear in our next issue.
