

Income Tax Act

Wednesday and say that on the resumption of the third reading debate he has the right that day to move closure.

If by this point of order I have talked long enough that it is now ten o'clock, Mr. Speaker, I suggest that what you ought now to do is to say that third reading will be posted for the next sitting of the House, but not tonight. Because we do not trust those ministers across the way.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: It being ten o'clock I do not have to rule on the point of order.

Mr. Basford: You would think that the official opposition could have expressed it rather than having to rely on the NDP.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: It being ten o'clock I do now leave the chair until two o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

At 10.01 the House adjourned, without question put, pursuant to Standing Order.
