

laid open to us, tho I am very much afraid Quebec will not be of the Number. If there were any hopes that such a thing might happen, I would engage to bring 60 Millions Sterling from thence, sooner than Abel should one from any Place between the two Poles.
 The Loss of Sir H. W.'s Ship the Edgar, which was blown up at St. Hellens, with all the living Souls in her, has added to the Concern of all good Subjects, and made it a common Reflection, that the only good Fortune which the General and Admiral have met with in this Voyage, is to save themselves, and it is hop'd for some happier Enterprize.
