

t to guard
him a dis-
acquainted
bring her
obtain the unwilling
r fears by
confirmed
prepared,
speak to
ature kind
, which I
him over-
I desired
lieve them
re for this
g swam to
for some
r motions.
sfaction at
d manners

n the boat,
proved of
onsiderable
th meeting
shaped our days after

o bound for assage, the

captain readily accepting of our services for the same. Nothing remarkable occurred during our voyage ; suffice it then to say, that we reached our native country in safety ; with the blessings of which we were now deeply impressed, in consequence of the severities we had so recently endured in another.

